F. D. R. PLEDGES U. S. TO SHARE OIL WITH WORLD

Reveals 18 Billion Lend-Lease Aid.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—Any hopes entertained by civilians for increased gasoline rations were blasted today by President Roosevelt as he transmitted to congress the 13th report on lend-lease operations.

Disclosing that a total of 18 billion 608 million dollars worth in munitions, food, machinery, and services has been furnished the allies as of last Nov. 30, the report carried a special section on the shipment of petroleum, which stressed that war needs will tax all available supplies during 1944.

Must Share After War, Too.

Moreover, after the war, the United States will have to share any surplus oil with nations which have insufficient reserves, the report asserted.

"Master lend-lease agreements" have made provision for a division of petroleum production on a basis of need, congress was informed.

Legislators greeted this revelation with mixed amazement and indignation and repercussions are expected when congress reconvenes Monday.

"The over-all petroleum war needs of the united nations in 1944 will rise above what they are now," the report stated. "The increasing numbers of planes, ships, and tanks which we are now producing and putting into action against the enemy require increasing quantities of gasoline, oil, and lubricants.

All Available Oil Needed.

"Additional supplies of petroleum products from other areas will not therefore result in reducing the demands on our own petroleum resources. All available supplies of petroleum products will be required for a speedy and complete victory of the united nations over the enemy.

"After the war the nations of the world, including the United States, will require petroleum to maintain their industrialized economies. Discoveries of new oil fields will undoubtedly be made to supplement known oil reserves and, as in the past, the steady development of technological improvements in oil production will make it possible to draw on oil reserves which cannot now be tapped.

"Nevertheless, as in the case of other natural resources, some nations will have insufficient oil reserves to meet their petroleum requirements. Others will have a surplus.

Equal Access Pledged.

"Agreed action by nations of the world, as provided for in the master lend-lease agreements, for the expansion of production, the elimination of discriminatory treatment in commerce, and the reduction of trade barriers, will assure to the United States and other nations fair and equal access to the petroleum produced in all parts of the world."

Lend-lease supplies of petroleum products totaled approximately 132 million barrels, or about 9 per cent of United States' production in 1943, according to the report. This figure is exclusive of the vast amounts shipped abroad for our own forces.

Other high lights of the report:

Lend-lease shipments to the soviet union thru Oct. 31, 1943, totaled

WFA LISTS HUGE FOOD HOLDINGS FOR LEND-LEASE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—The war food administration, in denying published reports that the agency had suffered large losses thru spoilage, today issued a report on the amount of food it has stored away in the nation's warehouses.

The report gave these figures on WFA holdings as of Dec. 1 for lend-lease, emergency, and other export purposes:

Butter—WFA holdings, 108,000,000 pounds of total commercial stocks of 176,000,000 pounds. Of WFA stocks, 30,000,000 pounds have been scheduled for transfer to United States military services to add to military stocks already held, 38,000,000 to the Russian army, 10,000,000 to the war shipping administration, which supplies the allied merchant marine in United States ports; 4,000,000 to United States territories; 1,000,000 to the American Red Cross, 5,000,000 to civilian hospitals, and the remainder,—20,000,000 pounds—for an emergency reserve. WFA butter holdings were acquired last spring and summer, during the heavy production period, and the entire production since then has been available for civilians.

Cheese—WFA holdings, 97,000,000 pounds of total commercial stocks of 203,000,000 pounds. This was said to represent a two months supply at the December rate of shipment.

Evaporated Milk—WFA holdings, 5,000,000 cases. Privately owned stocks, 4,500,000 cases, the WFA stocks were said to be sufficient to meet its needs for three months. These are expected to be extremely heavy.

Frozen Meats — WFA holdings 9,500,000 pounds or about 2 per cent of total commercial stocks of 446,000,000 pounds. The WFA stocks—mostly pork—were said to be equivalent to about the amount shipped in three days during December.

Canned Meats — WFA holdings, 246,000,000 pounds, or approximately 3½ months supply at the December rate of delivery. The WFA said, however, that these stocks will be exhausted by Feb. 15 at the present rate of shipment.

Cured Meats—WFA holdings, 23,000,000 pounds of total commercial stocks of 258,000,000 pounds.

Canned Fruits and Vegetables—WFA holdings, 9,000,000 cases. Processors and wholesalers' stocks, 140,000,000 cases.

Shell Eggs—WFA stocks, 137,000 cases, or 8 per cent of total stocks of 1,762,000 cases.

Dried Eggs—WFA stocks, which represent the bulk of all supplies, totaled 40,000,000 pounds, or about a 50 day supply at December rate of shipment.

Dried Beans—WFA stocks, 220,000,000 pounds compared with privately owned stocks of 1,040,000,000 pounds. WFA stocks were said to be a four month supply.

Other frozen foods, such as eggs, fruits, vegetables, and cream—Between 90 and 95 per cent of Dec. 1 freezer stocks were privately held for civilian use. These commodities accounted for a large portion of the increase in freezer holdings over a year ago.

GOVERNOR ASKS QUICK ACTION IN EXTRA SESSION

Bills Will Be Ready This Afternoon.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Gov. Dwight H. Green is expected to urge speed and adherence to the Constitution in his message today before the special session of the Illinois legislature called to enable voting by overseas service men in the April 11 primary and Nov. 7 general election. There are 700,000 Illinoisans in military service.

Bills were being rushed to completion yesterday for introduction immediately after the governor's message at 1 p. m. in Springfield.

Administration plans call for advancing the first date for filing petitions of candidacy from Feb. 5 to Jan. 26, and the last date from Feb. 21 to Feb. 11. By cutting down the time for withdrawals and for certification it would be possible to have the ballots printed and ready for mailing Feb. 25—15 days earlier than now.

Similar changes in the election schedule would apply to the Nov. 7 general election. Applications of service men would be accepted as requests for voting registration.

Rush Bills for Presentation.

It is possible for legislation to be rushed thru the mill in five days of sessions. Gov. Green is confident that the necessary revisions will be accomplished within a week.

For emergency passage, the bills require approval by two-thirds of the members in senate and house. Whether the necessary Democratic votes will be granted without delay is a question. Minority Leader Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago] of the senate said he would have to see the administration bills before expressing any opinion.

Democrats Help Kill Bill.

Prolonged and futile debate will result if the Democrats demand that the legislature adopt a resolution memorializing congress to enact legislation based upon the original Lucas-Green bill. Republicans with Democratic help killed the bill in the senate, mainly because soldier voting would be controled by a commission appointed by President Roosevelt, expected to be a fourth term candidate.

Illinois CIO leaders on Wednesday called upon the legislature to support the Lucas-Green program in its original form, even tho the sponsors have retreated from their first stand.

LUCAS GIVES VIEW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], whose bill for federal control of service men's voting was voted down in the senate last month, today sent a letter to Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois declaring that "the absentee voting laws of Illinois are unworkable" in providing for a soldiers' ballot.

Lucas insisted that unless federal legislation is enacted in line with the provisions of his bill, "thousands upon thousands of overseas voters will be disfranchised.

"A federal ballot is the only one which will reach a majority of service men and women," he wrote.

DEMANDS U. S. KEEP ISLANDS IT WINS IN PACIFIC

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6 [Special].—All mandated Pacific islands should be kept by the United States after the war, Sen. Albert B. Chandler [D., Ky.] told the Los Angeles Democratic Luncheon club today.

"We are taking these islands now at the cost of many American lives," Chandler said, "and it is absolute cruelty to give them up after the war only to be forced to retake them with further loss of lives at another date."

He said the United States should adopt and enforce a realistic policy towards the other nations of the world. When the showdown comes, he added, Russia will be for Russia and England will be for England.

"The United States shouldn't be left holding the bag," he asserted.

MUDDLE FEARED IN OPA TOKENS

Ration Change Will Be Issued Feb. 27.

Introduction of tokens for ration point change on Feb. 27 will bring confusion to food buyers, if privately expressed fears of office of price administration officials are justified.

Two billion colorful little fiber tokens, half of them red with yellow plastic holding the two layers together, and the remainder blue with a canary middle layer, will be put into circulation by food dealers, who are expected to obtain them from their ration banks.

The OPA's skepticism expressed itself yesterday in a press release disclosing that two experts from Washington would conduct "demonstrations" for the trade, one in Los Angeles next Monday and the other here, at 39 East Oak street, on Jan. 25 at 8 p. m.

Called a Saving to Stores.

The tokens, yesterday's announcement said, will save the nation's retail stores 35 million dollars a year "in time now spent in assorting and counting stamps."

Thirteen stamps of four colors, in addition to the tokens, will be valid at one time. Some stamps will be worth their face value and others will be good for 10 points, instead of the 1, 2, 5, or 8 printed on them. Tokens will be used as change for some, but not for others. And some stamps must be torn from books in vertical rows, others in horizontal order.

Blue stamps A, B, C, D, and E, in book 4, each marked 8 points, will become good for 10 points each for processed foods, provided you tear them horizontally from the book.

Red Stamp Equals 10 Points.

Red stamps A, B, and C, with a printed value of 8 points each, in the same book become worth 10 points each for meat. Dealers may give tokens of corresponding color as change, and the stamps will be good until May 20.

Green stamps K, L, and M and brown stamps Y and Z in book 4 will still be valid for meat or processed foods, but only at the point value printed on them, only until March 20, only if torn vertically from the book—and the tokens won't be good on these.

You may send any one to the store with the tokens and without your ration book, because the OPA hasn't found a way yet to restrict its tokens to the use of the person who first gets them in change.

Hush Yank Strike Views; 17,000 Ship Workers Quit

Squelch Interview

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—Fredric March, film actor who returned today from a 33,000 mile tour of military camps abroad, was prohibited by an army public relations officer from discussing with interviewers the opinions of soldiers concerning strikes on the home front.

Fredric March.

The officer, Capt. Fred Driver, was stationed at the press conference in U. S. O. Camp Shows headquarters to give army clearance on any statements March and Sammy Walsh, comedian, made about their 14 weeks' trip over five continents.

Called "Political Matter."

During the conference March was asked: "In your discussions with the soldiers did any of them mention the strike situation here in the States?"

March said, "The men aren't in a mood to discuss anything unless you sit down and draw them out," and began to talk further but was interrupted by Capt. Driver, who said:

"That will have to be stricken. It is a political matter."

On several other occasions March was stopped from making statements Capt. Driver described as dangerous to the safety of allied troops.

Review Promised.

At the office of censorship in Washington, it was stated that there appeared to be no security angle involved in what March might have to report on soldiers' attitudes toward strikes "and we'll be glad to review [for publication approval] anything submitted."

However, the censorship office said it was not passing on March's possible remarks, sight unseen.

The censorship office added, however, that "if March had commitments with the army on what he could say and agreed to abide by them, that's the army's business."

Big CIO Walkout

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 6 [Special].—All work at the Cramp Shipbuilding company, employing 17,000 men and women in production of light cruisers and submarines, was halted today as the result of a dispute as to whether management had the right to compel painters to use spray guns instead of brushes.

Members of local 42, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers [CIO] voted unanimously to stay away from work not only until the paint controversy but all other points of grievance had been settled in their favor—or the navy takes over.

Charge "Gates Locked."

The stoppage began when about 8,500 union members appeared at the plant to begin the first shift. They charged they found the gates locked, with guards on duty to prevent them from entering the yard. After a brief demonstration, according to the union, the workers left.

Whitney C. Colby, director of industrial relations for the company denied the gates were closed. In this, he had the support of Lt. Comdr. J. M. L. Joslin, labor relations officer of the 4th naval district.

Altho William Schaffer, president of the union, told members they had been locked out again at the 5 p. m. shift, a tour of the plant area showed all of the gates were open.

Trouble at the plant began in December when the company ordered 38 painters to use spray guns, instead of brushes, to rush delivery of a cruiser urgently needed by the navy. The men refused to use the guns.

Worked on Rush Job.

"Because we wanted to get the boat out," Colby said, "we let them go ahead and use the brushes, altho we wanted to fire them at the time."

The ship was delivered on Dec. 28, and on that day the company notified the union that on Jan. 3 the 38 men would have to use spray guns. The men refused, as did four others. The 42 then were fired.

Yesterday, while the grievance was in the process of arbitration, the company charged that 218 other painters walked out in sympathy.

First class brush painters now get $1.20 an hour. Painters using spray guns get 11 cents additional. The union is asking a base pay of $1.33 an hour for spray painters, plus the classification of "hazardous work," which would give it a time-and-one-half rating, or a total of $1.99 an hour.

Foss and Rick Air Score Tied by Boyington

Okanogan, Wash., Jan. 6 (AP).—The mother of Maj. Gregory [Pappy] Boyington, who downed his 26th Japanese plane in the Southwest Pacific Jan. 3 as announced only today, received word from the navy tonight that he was missing in action.

A dispatch from Guadalcanal only a few hours earlier told how the former Flying Tiger had made his 26th kill in a raid over Rabaul, New Britain, tying the war records of Maj. Joe Foss and the World War I. mark of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Boyington's mother, Mrs. E. J. Hallenback, reported the message with the assertion, "I am confident he is all right and he will show up somehow, somewhere."

The official notification said details would be slow in arriving.

Squadron Credits Him with 40.

Boyington, a marine, made his 26th kill when more than 50 fighters attacked Rabaul, shooting down six of the 20 Zeros they encountered and claiming five probable kills at a loss of two. He shot down his 25th Jap plane at Rabaul on Dec. 26.

Boyington, known as "Pappy" because he is 30, narrowly missed tying the record Dec. 28; he hit a Jap plane but it was listed only as a probable. Members of his "Black Sheep" squadron believe Boyington has destroyed 40 Zeros. Only those seen to crash, explode or burn are credited.

Regarded as an ancient among the marine flyers, Boyington has logged about 2,500 hours in the air. Stocky and square jawed, he looks not unlike a bulldog; in the air he fights like one. His record includes six Japanese planes knocked down when he was with the Flying Tigers and 19 with the marines.

The first time he led his marine squadron into action he shot down five Zeros in a single fight.

Downed Three in 60 Seconds.

Once while leading a flight of six fighter planes over Bougainville, he ran into 50 Japs. In the dogfight "Pappy" knocked down three in 60 seconds.

Boyington returned later with a dozen planes, circled mockingly over the Kahili airdrome until 20 Jap planes came up to fight. Twelve were shot down, Boyington getting three.

Forced down after a strafing mission, Boyington once landed at an emergency base and the squadron proceeded. When his plane was fixed he made a beeline for Kahili and, 40 feet above the Japs on the landing strip, strafed a pair of bombers. Then he attacked an enemy destroyer and emptied his guns into a barge filled with Jap troops. Boyington joined the marines as a cadet on May 15, 1935.

HIGH SCORING ACES.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—High scoring American aces [flyers who have shot down five or more enemy planes] of this war, on the basis of available records, are:

Maj. Gregory Boyington, Okanogan, Wash., marine corps, 26. [Missing in action.]

Maj. Joe Foss, Sioux Falls, S. D., marine corps, with 26 enemy planes to his credit.

Capt. Richard I. Bong, Poplar, Wis., army air forces, 21 [plus six probables].

Lt. Kenneth Walsh, Brooklyn and Washington, marine corps, 20.

Lt. Col. John L. Smith, Lexington, Okla., marine corps, 19.

Maj. M. E. Carl, Hubbard, Ore., marine corps, 17.

Maj. Thomas J. Lynch, Catasauqua, Pa., army, 16 [plus five probables].

Lt. William J. Thomas, Eldorado, Kas., marine corps, 16.

Capt. Walker M. Mahurin, Fort Wayne, Ind., army, 14.

Capt. Jim Swett, San Meteo, Cal., marine corps, 14.

Lt. Stanley Vejtasa, Circle, Mont., navy, 12.

Comdr. J. S. Thach, Fordyce, Ark., navy, 7.

Lt. Comdr. Edward H. O'Hare, St. Louis, navy, at least 6. [Missing in action.]

[The navy does not keep official records on the number of planes shot down by individual pilots.]

REDS TAKE RAIL TOWN 10 MILES INSIDE POLAND

Gain Along 32 Mile Border Front.

War Summaries

MacARTHUR'S HDQ.—600 Japs slain in battle. Page 7.

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP).—The Red army has swept westward into old Poland for a depth of 10 miles, and also struck southwestward toward Rumania to within 39 miles of the last major German supply railroad for hundreds of thousands of imperiled enemy troops in the Dnieper bend.

A Moscow war bulletin issued tonight announced the capture of the railroad town of Rakitno by the northern wing of Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's 1st Ukraine army which, Berlin said, numbered 750,000 men and nine tank corps besides "the reserves that still are moving up." Rakitno is 10 miles beyond the pre-war Polish frontier and only 25 miles from Sarny, an important rail junction.

A later Moscow dispatch said an advance guard had pressed on even farther past the pre-war frontier and observed that the Red army appeared once more to be rolling west with powerful momentum.

Gain on 32 Mile Front.

The Russians were driving toward central Poland on a 32 mile front. At the lower end they captured Gorodnitza, about a mile east of the old frontier, the bulletin disclosed. Gorodnitza is on the punctured Sluch river line 20 miles northwest of Novograd-Volynski.

The broadcast bulletin recorded here by the soviet monitor said the Russians captured more than 85 villages and hamlets during the day. One axis military commentator said in a broadcast that "the soviet winter offensive now is in full swing on an ever enlarging front."

In addition to seizing Rakitno, and Gorodnitza, other Russian units were converging on an important rail junction to the southeast. The bulletin also announced the capture of Miropol rail station, 45 miles northwest of Berdichev.

Bore Into Nazi Flank.

In the drive toward Rumania, the Russians were 39 miles from the Warsaw-Odessa railway where it runs thru Zhmerinka.

Upon the southeastern side of the 250 mile bulge created in Field shattered Nazi lines, the Red army announced the capture of rail stations 10 and 15 miles southeast of fallen Belaya Tserkov.

German broadcasts said that Gen. Vatutin's forces plunging beyond Belaya Tserkov now were being aided by "a new major offensive" begun by Gen. Ivan S. Konev's 2d Ukraine army inside the Dnieper bend. A 65 mile gap separates the two Russian armies, and Berlin said the Germans in the upper part of the Dnieper bend now were being hit from both the east and west.

In the Nevel sector Gen. Ivan C. Bagramian's 1st Baltic army still was moving ahead.

On this front the soviet forces captured "advantageous positions." West of Propoisk on the White Russian front a raid by a Red army ski battalion resulted in the killing of many staff officers at the headquarters of a German infantry division, the bulletin said.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

The German Thursday war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press said:

"After a prolonged pause the soviets resumed attacks with strong infantry and tank forces north of Krivoi Rog and east of Kirovograd.

"In the Zhitomir region, the soviets attacked with unabated vigor, especially northwest of Berdichev. At several places our troops launched counter-attacks.

"West of Propoisk complete defensive success was achieved yesterday, notwithstanding the enemy's numerical superiority.

"Southeast and northwest of Vitebsk fluctuating fighting ensued as the result of renewed enemy attempts to break thru.

"North of Nevel local enemy attacks collapsed."

ROCKET FIGHTER PLANE IS BARED BY AIR FORCES

Soon to Be Put in Heavy Production.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—Cloaked in high secrecy for years, a new "rocket" plane has emerged from British-American engineering laboratories, capable of extreme speeds at high altitudes without using standard propellers.

The disclosure was made today in a joint statement by the United States army air forces and the R. A. F.

The plane is powered with jet propulsion devices. No details were given. Jet propulsion is generally considered in aviation circles to be a series of short, sharp explosions on the rocket principle, hurtling the plane forward. Aviation authorities have said that today's airplanes have just about reached their limits in speed at close to 500 miles an hour by use of propellers, and that the jet propulsion or rocket principle is the next logical step to greater achievement.

Germans Use "Assisters."

The Luftwaffe, striving desperately to counter allied air attacks over Europe, has been equipping its fighter planes with rockets to assist flight for some months.

Several hundred flights by the new British-American planes were made without a single mishap and quantity production is just around the corner, the allied air chiefs declared. Research work on the idea started 10 years ago in Great Britain under Group Capt. Frank Whittle of the R. A. F. and his preliminary engine ran successfully in 1937.

Later, Lawrence D. Bell, president of Bell Aircraft corporation, said his company had built "the first American fighter plane" so powered and that the successful tests "open a new chapter in American aviation history."

The joint statement issued in Washington by Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, disclosed that the British air ministry placed its first order for a plane using jet propulsion with the Gloucester Aircraft company, Ltd., in 1939, the engines to be built by Power Jets, Ltd., in a special factory in England. Capt. Whittle was loaned to this company.

Flew First in 1941.

"The first successful flight of this aircraft was in May, 1941,'" said the statement. "The pilot was the late Flight Lt. P. G. Seyers, chief test pilot of Gloucester Aircraft company, and greatest credit should be given to group Capt. Whittle for the fine performance and for the genius and energy that made it possible.

"Full information about this jet propulsion method was disclosed in July, 1941, to the United States army air forces who, like the British R. A. F. and ministry of aircraft production, had the foresight to appreciate the tremendous possibilities of this new form of aircraft power unit. The U. S. A. A. F. at once asked for an engine to be sent to this country and the engine which had made the first flight was sent to the General Electric company in September, 1941.

"Number" of Them Built.

"As the result of close coöperation between the army air forces, the R. A. F., and the air forces material command, the ministry of aircraft production and the General Electric company, a number of these engines were built.

"The first of these was ready for tests in less than six months. At the same time the Bell Aircraft company was given an order to build an aircraft suitable to operate with two of these engines and the first flight in the United States was made in less than 12 months. Several hundred successful flights have been carried out since then by American pilots in the United States and by British pilots with the British aircraft in England, many of them at high altitudes and extreme speed and all without a single mishap."

Gave Some to Navy.

Arnold and the British "have directed that plans be made for the production of a sufficient quantity for training purposes both in the United States and in Great Britain," and the army air forces is allotting a number of the planes to the navy for additional trials and experiments.

The maiden flight of the first experimental model in the United States occurred Oct. 1, 1942, with Robert M. Stanley, chief test pilot of the Bell company, at the controls.

The next day Col. Laurence C. Craigie, since promoted to brigadier general, became the first army officer to fly the new type. Others who have flown it are Brig. Gen. B. W. Chidlaw, chief of the material division in the air staff, and Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, a veteran fighter pilot who formerly commanded the 4th air force.

FAMILY DIDN'T KNOW.

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP).—The inventor of the first successful jet propulsion engine for fighter aircraft—Group Capt. Frank Whittle—is a 36 year old R. A. F. officer who has been working on the idea for 14 years. He rose thru the ranks of the R. A. F., serving in a fighter squadron. He was widely known as an acrobatic flyer.

Whittle, who is married and has two young sons, interrupted his military career from 1933 to 1936 to win first class honors in mechanical science at Cambridge. So secret has been his work that his family first learned of his invention tonight.

ITALIANS FLEW 1ST PLANE USING JET PROPULSION

Power Quadrupled by Compressed Air.

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—The Italians were the first officially to announce successful experiments with a jet propulsion plane.

In August, 1940, a single seated monoplane built by the Caproni company in collaboration with Secondo Campini, Italian inventor, made test flights from the Talledo aerodrome near Milan.

A large model was built later and, after tests, flew from Milan to the Guidonia research station near Rome on Dec. 1, 1941. The time announced for the 168 mile flight was slow, two hours and 25 minutes, altho the pilot may have followed a circuitous route in putting the plane thru its paces.

Used Takeoff Propeller.

The Rome newspaper Il Popolo di Roma published a description of the plane that day, saying it was a motorless, propellerless craft shot thru the air by gas.

The next day Campini, in an interview in the newspaper Corriere della Sera, challenged the Il Popolo description. He said his plane took off with an ordinary motor and an ordinary propeller but in flight its power was increased four times by a new gas chamber developing its power from air, heated and compressed by the regular motors.

Campini's explanation indicated that the jet expulsion principle took hold at heights and speeds at which the propeller loses its pulling power due to thin air.

Jane's "All the World's Aircraft" describes the plane as a low-winged monoplane.

Outlet Size Adjustable.

"In general arrangement it resembles the normal airplane except that it lacks the usual propulsive airscrew," Jane's says.

"The body of the aircraft, from nose to tail is in the form of a tube. Air enters a circular duct in the nose and is expanded and passes into a compressor which is located approximately in line with the leading edge of the wing.

"The air comes out of the compressor with increased velocity and temperature and is finally ejected from an orifice at the tail. The exhaust gases from the compressor drive also are ejected into the body and help in heating the air. The kinetic energy thus induced at the exhaust orifice, which is provided with an adjustable cone to enlarge or reduce the area of the outlet, gives an extremely powerful thrust."

GERMANY GETS OIL ENOUGH TO CONTINUE WAR, BRITAIN TOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 6. — Hopes expressed in London from time to time that Germany's war machine had been crippled by the lack of oil were dashed today by the report that European production, previously estimated to be not more than 7,000,000 tons in 1943, was actually 12,000,000 tons.

Production in Poland was increased 10 times over 1939, Hungarian production was well over 500,000 tons — another 10 fold increase — and Austria produced 750,000 tons. Increases also were obtained from Jugo-Slavia and small deposits uncovered in Estonia, according to latest estimates.

Furthermore, Rumanian oil wells are delivering to Germany 1,000,000 tons of oil which had been intended for Italy. It, therefore, is no longer believed here that the German war machine will break down from a shortage of oil.

HERO OF ATTACK ON CONVOY SOON TO BE AN ENSIGN

Ben Cockrell, 966 Cuyler avenue, and three shipmates who survived the torpedoing of a merchant ship in the Atlantic to rig a life raft and sail it 150 miles to the nearest land will be graduated as ensigns within a few days from the United States maritime service officers' school in Alameda, Cal., and will get leaves to visit their homes. The others are James Maddelein, Kenosha, Wis.; Edward Connelly, Green Bay, Wis., and Robert B. York, San Diego, Cal., nephew of Sgt. Alvin York of World War I. fame.

Cockrell and his shipmates served together aboard a merchant ship which delivered munitions to Australia, India, and Africa, and food to South America. While in the South Pacific the four pooled their cigars, cigarets, and candy to induce a bomber pilot to take them on a mission over Rabaul.

The four were on duty with an Atlantic convoy for five months before their ship took two torpedoes and went out of control after which it was rammed by two other ships traveling in the darkened fleet. The four remained together to aid wounded, rigged their raft and brought the wounded to safety to earn the privilege of attending officers' school.

Baby Cab Struck by Auto; Year Old Infant Unhurt

Sharon Risko, 1 year old, 700 Monticello avenue, escaped injury last night when her perambulator was hit by a car driven by Joseph Spagnolia, 19, of 717 South Ashland avenue. Mrs. Dorothy Risko, 24, who was wheeling her baby, was injured slightly. She and the baby were taken to Garfield Park hospital. The accident occurred at Washington boulevard and Pulaski road.

HINT TAMMANY HEAD ROLLING TO APPEASE VOTERS

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—Reports gaining credence in political circles here today predict the early ouster of Michael J. Kennedy as chief of Tammany Hall. Democratic leaders are said to have singled him out as a "whipping boy" to appease the voters in advance of a Roosevelt fourth term drive.

Kennedy, who has worn the eagle feather of his extralegal job in the Tammany wigwam for less than two years, is slated for "liquidation," it is said, because of revelations made here last October during disbarment proceedings against former Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio. Testimony at that hearing purported to show Kennedy owed his Tammany appointment to Frank Costello, ex-convict and slot machine king.

President Roosevelt also indorsed Kennedy for the post and prior to the Aurelio case received the Tammany chief as a guest at the White House.

A Fair Haired Boy.

As a former congressman and ardent New Deal supporter, Kennedy was regarded as one of the New Deal's favorite sons. The record shows he has received more federal favors than any previous Tammany chief.

The same hearing which cleared Aurelio also produced evidence substantiating the charge of Frank S. Hogan, district attorney, that Aurelio gave his pledge of "undying loyalty" to Costello the morning after Tammany nominated him.

The disclosures are said to have amounted almost to a fatal blow for the Tammany tiger, already weak and weary after many years on a diet of skimpy patronage and diminished influence.

In 1928 Tammany held power over 1,100 fat jobs on what was called the "exempt" list. These were positions that could be dispensed to any ward heeler without examination as to fitness. Even as late as 1932 the machine commanded $275,000 worth of official salaries.

Even the Wigwam Went.

But as the result of pruning by the state civil service commission the number of exempt jobs on the city pay roll today is down to 432, and most of these are filled by the followers of Mayor Fiorello La Guardia.

The situation grew so desperate that last summer Tammany moved from its former palatial wigwam, which was sold because it could no longer afford to maintain the building.

At the same time the old Tammany society, a patriotic organization whose "sachems" include former Gov. Al Smith, severed relations from the political branch and moved its headquarters into the National Democratic club here.

Tammany Gives Up Ghost.

The Aurelio-Costello affair is said to have so paralyzed Kennedy and his Tammany braves that they abandoned plans to wage an energetic campaign for Lt. Gen. William N. Haskell, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. Other party candidates were jettisoned in the same retreat.

As a result, when election returns were counted last Nov. 2 they showed that Tammany had given up the ghost.

Only by a Roosevelt fourth term victory, politicians say, can Tammany hope to recoup its former influence. Destiny of the tiger, they agree, is now inseparably linked with President Roosevelt's own future.

Tammany, it is pointed out, already has made an attempt to change its stripes by putting the name "Democratic county committee" on the door of its new headquarters. This is indicative, politicians agree, that Tammany wishes to forget its past.

It is for this reason, it is predicted, that the official ax will fall just as soon as Rep. James H. Fay, staunch Roosevelt supporter and chairman of Tammany's executive committee, can call a meeting to lop off Kennedy's official head as a signal to the electorate that Tammany has purged itself and again is worthy of support.

Blames Black Mart

MRS. ELEANOR E. DIECK.

Black market meat helped break up her married life, Mrs. Eleanor E. Dieck, 51 years old, 13737 Wabash avenue, Riverdale, told Judge John A. Sbarbaro in Superior court yesterday. She charged her husband, Carl G. Dieck, 53, of Dolton, a coal and ice company owner, with cruelty. Questioned by her attorney, Harry X. Cole, Mrs. Dieck testified that her husband struck her because she once refused to cook black market meat which he had brought home. "I considered it unpatriotic," she explained. Mrs. Dieck was granted a divorce, plus a $10,000 property settlement. The Diecks have a son in military service overseas. Dieck was represented by Atty. Paul Schreiber.

Decline of Crown Point Cuts Marriage Licenses

Walter R. Mybeck, clerk of Lake county, Indiana, reported yesterday that 2,941 marriage licenses were issued in 1943, compared with 4,215 in 1942. He attributed the decline to the number of men in service. In 1937, when Crown Point was a favorite Gretna Green for Chicago couples, 11,410 licenses were issued, but that figure has not been approached since Indiana made blood tests a requisite for the issuance of licenses.

NEW DEAL PLUM DIET AIDS HAGUE, SAYS GOV. EDISON

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 6 [Special].—Gov. Charles Edison, Democrat, declared in an interview today that Frank Hague, Jersey City political boss, "would have been a dead duck politically long ago had it not been for patronage from Washington."

Gov. Edison.

The governor avoided mention of President Roosevelt, explaining "the issues involved are not personal." He conceded, however, the statement was "one of the most blunt I have ever made," and carried the unmistakable implication that he held the Roosevelt administration responsible for perpetuating the Hague machine.

Machine Is Weakening.

"In spite of all we can do," the governor added, "Washington still stands for Hague appointments, and he is still getting plenty of federal patronage. In fact, that's about all he is living on now."

But ammunition from Washington notwithstanding, the Hague machine no longer is the powerful, invincible juggernaut of a few years ago, Gov. Edison maintained, pointing out that the ageing sage of Jersey City has not scored a major victory at the polls in the last two years. The Republicans have won almost all major campaigns against Hague.

"He is still unbeatable in the primaries," the governor said, "but he clearly has lost the position of being able to control and win the elections that count.

Likens Hague to Hitler.

"Patronage is the answer. He has lost a great many appointments under me, and I believe he will lose more under my successor. It is conceivable that the loss of patronage here at home not only will ruin him as a state power, but will mean the end of his days as boss of Hudson county as well. Help from Washington certainly would seal his doom."

The governor, swept into office three years ago on the strength of Hague support, but never a disciple of Hague political philosophy, pictured the Jersey City mayor and state Democratic chairman as akin to Hitler—"a floundering dictator for whom everything in the last two years seems to have gone wrong."

Says Hague Loses His Grip.

"It is obvious that he has stopped taking the advice of the brainy men around him. He was wise enough to surround himself with smart men, but now that he is going on his own, he is doing one stupid thing after another. The talk among his own people is that he has lost his grip."

The governor said that during his first year in office, 98 per cent of the letters he received from Hudson county residents were either anonymous or mailed from outside the county.

"But in the last year that percentage fell to almost nothing. Hudson people mailed their letters from their own towns and signed their names. To me that's evidence that they no longer fear 'the boss.' And in due time they may get courageous enough to vote against him."

"Personally," he continued, "I think Hague was, but no longer is, one of the best executives I have ever known.

"But he is utterly ruthless and has the soul and arrogance of a bully. He will stop at nothing to get what he wants. He fancies himself as God."

SEEK CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE SEAT OF REP. SUMNER

G.O.P. Committee Hears County Aspirants.

The political range was cooking stews on all burners yesterday. Having completed the Republican organization state slate for 1944, G. O. P. leaders were presented with the problem of finding a suitable successor for Congresswoman Jessie Sumner, who announced she is quitting the house because "it is almost a farce to pretend we still have a republic."

In Milford, Ill., yesterday Miss Sumner said that she will not listen to demands that she run for her fourth term from the 18th district. Local party leaders were unable to suggest any one in her place who would rate the shouts of "Give 'em hell!" which greeted her demands for an American foreign policy.

Aspirants Are Interviewed.

The G. O. P. committee on candidates for Cook county yesterday interviewed another batch of aspirants for the organization ticket. Leslie E. Salter of Rich township, former assistant federal prosecutor, was the latest formal entry in the race for state's attorney.

Michael J. Connelly, 8th ward committeeman, said he would be glad to run for the clerkship of the Superior court. The same office was bid for by Laddie T. Pelnar of Berwyn, who aided Gov. Green in the country townships of Cook county in the 1940 primary.

Mention Fisher for Clerk.

Justice George M. Fisher of the state Court of Claims, secretary of the county central committee, meanwhile was reported to have an inside track for the clerkship of the Appellate court. Eugene Nusser, 34th ward committeeman, was interviewed for the office of coroner. A. W. Komarek, Riverside committeeman, put in his name for recorder of deeds.

The large group of hopefuls aiming at four sanitary district trusteeships was joined by the following: William Devine, secretary of the state liquor commission; Mayor John Jaranowski of Calumet City, Ald. Harold W. Mogg of Evanston, Joseph P. Martin of the 44th ward, Raymond G. Gregory of Norwood Park, and Joseph F. Novotny, 50th ward committeeman and head of the Illinois Republican Ex-Service Men's league.

Consider Bench Candidates.

For the Municipal court judge the committee considered Benjamin Schwartz of the 20th ward.

Chairman John T. Dempsey of the Cook county central committee, who heads the 33d ward group, and William Busse, veteran committeeman of Elk Grove township, were chosen at a caucus yesterday for delegates to the 1944 national convention. They represent the 7th congressional district.

With the possibility that Democratic affairs might be pepped up, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, only party member holding state office, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Springfield. Hughes has been mentioned most often as Democratic nominee for governor.

Today he will consult with his physician, Dr. Clifford Barborka, who attended him during a six weeks' stay in Passavant hospital. Upon Dr. Barborka's advice, Hughes said, will depend his political activity here this week-end. On Monday Hughes and Mrs. Hughes leave for Tucson, Ariz., for several weeks of sunshine.

WALKER URGES JOINT PLANK ON FOREIGN POLICY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—Asserting that the Democratic party is going to "stand or fall on the job we do of winning the war and planning the peace," Frank Walker, national chairman, called today for election of a congress pledged to "support an international policy that means something."

In an interview outlining his views on the issues of the political campaign, Walker criticized the Republican leadership for what he described as its failure thus far to display any disposition toward agreeing with the Democrats on a post-war foreign program.

Advised of Walker's statement, Chairman Harrison E. Spangler of the Republican national committee said his address to Republican state chairmen and national committee members at Chicago Monday would constitute a reply. He withheld comment.

G.O.P. CHAIRMAN DUE TODAY FOR PARTY MEETING

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Harrison E. Spangler, Republican national chairman, is due from Washington this morning to open headquarters in the Stevens hotel for the Republican national committee sessions next Monday and Tuesday. Chief business of the committee will be choice of time and place of the national convention. This is expected to furnish a test of strength between supporters and opponents of Wendell Willkie, who is seeking the Presidential nomination.

Chicago, thru a non-partisan citizens committee, is to bid for the convention by guaranteeing $75,000 to meet the expenses of the party session which will adopt a national platform and nominate the Republican candidates for President and Vice President. A duplicate bid is to be made to the Democratic national committee in Washington Jan. 22, when it meets to set a place and time for its national convention.

Willkie Opposes Chicago.

The Willkie forces are opposed to Chicago, and are trying to raise a fund of $150,000 to bid for a convention in New York. Willkie some time ago declared against the selection of Chicago as the convention city. His supporters have assailed Chicago as being a center of isolationism and of pre-Pearl Harbor opposition to American intervention in the war.

Word from the East is that in the fight to select any city but Chicago, the Willkie forces will be led by Sinclair Weeks, Massachusetts national committeeman, and Ralph Cake of Oregon, who has been scouting for Willkie. For days the Willkie managers have been canvassing national committeemen to line up opposition to Chicago.

A majority of the committeemen west of the Alleghenies are reported favoring Chicago. As the members arrive tomorrow and Sunday both sides will start surveying strength. Of the 104 members of the committee the supporters of Chicago figure they have a majority. Willkie supporters now also are claiming a majority. If Chicago gets the convention, it will be regarded as a setback to Willkie's Presidential ambitions.

Chicago's Advantages Cited.

Otherwise Chicago has no active competition for the party conventions. Its geographical and climatic advantages, hotel accommodations, transportation facilities as the railroad hub of America, and size of the convention hall, have brought many conventions here in past years. Then, too, Chicago as the heart of the continent, is regarded as less subject to group pressures and high gear salesmanship.

Chicago's chances because of natural advantages have been enhanced this time by a request made by Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, that both Republicans and Democrats pick Chicago as convention city, to lighten the war time burden of the railroads.

The supply of sleeping cars is extremely limited, because of troop train movements, and Chicago stands far ahead of all other cities in the number of beds in regular line sleeping cars.

Chicago Leads List.

H. F. McCarthy, director of the ODT division of traffic movement, lists favorably located cities, with the number of sleeping cars terminating in each, as follows: Chicago, 11,368; New York, 7,129; St. Louis, 3,240; Detroit, 1,528; Kansas City, 1,279; Cleveland, 1,235.

William J. Hennessy, manager of the convention bureau of the Association of Commerce, said Chicago also has an adequate supply of first class hotel rooms for the political conventions.

JURY TO PROBE LETTER HOPKINS CALLS FORGERY

Note Indicates New Deal Is Backing Willkie.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—The authenticity of the much publicized Harry Hopkins letter to Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university in Texas, is to be investigated by a District of Columbia grand jury next week. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's confidant in chief, branded the letter, written on White House stationery, a forgery and asked the department of justice to run down and prosecute the forger.

Dr. Umphrey Lee.

The grand jury investigation will be the curtain raiser to the inquiry by a senate committee into the circumstances of the nomination of Wendell Willkie for President by the Republican national convention of 1940, including charges that efforts were made to buy delegates for Willkie from "a roomful of money." The committee is to meet soon after congress reassembles next week.

Letter Quoted by Sparks.

The text of the letter, quoted by former Mayor C. Nelson Sparks of Akron, O., in his book, "One Man—Wendell Willkie," to prove the close political relations of Willkie and the White House, follows:

"Dear Umphrey: What has been done in the—matter? Will you write me, please. Willkie is going to be the man, in my opinion, and I can promise you good coöperation from that quarter if you think it would be helpful."

Sparks regarded the letter as important circumstantial evidence that the White House is pulling wires to get Willkie nominated by the Republicans as the opponent of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term, that Hopkins is confident of success and that Willkie is reciprocating with political aid to the President.

Connally Is Alleged Target.

Sparks said the Willkie coöperation the Hopkins letter promised was in connection with the grooming of Dr. Lee to oppose Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.] for reëlection in 1946, Connally reputedly having incurred Presidential displeasure.

Stopping off here tonight en route from New York to Akron, Sparks told reporters he may stand on his constitutional rights and refuse to surrender to the grand jury the original copy of the letter.

After Hopkins denied writing the letter and Dr. Lee denied receiving it, asserting that he does not know Hopkins, Sparks made public a photostat of the document with its signature remarkably resembling Hopkins'. When Hopkins then pronounced it a forgery and asked an investigation, Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle sent two FBI agents to Akron to get the letter from Sparks.

Sparks refused to part with it but said he would show it to the attorney general and later wrote Biddle suggesting that he proceed legally to obtain the document. This step the attorney general is taking in submitting the question to a grand jury.

Hopkins to Face Jury.

The department of justice said Hopkins would not be subpenaed but would appear before the grand jury voluntarily.

"If Mr. Hopkins wants a grand jury investigation, let's get on with it," said Sparks. "I shall be only too glad to go before the grand jury and they don't need to subpena me."

Sparks is prepared to disclose to the jury the word deleted from the letter. It is "Alamo." Sparks said he deleted the word at the request of friends of Dr. Lee. What the word refers to is a mystery.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Tom C. Clark announced the grand jury will call all persons having knowledge of the facts "to determine whether there has been any violation of section 22-1401, title 22, of the District of Columbia code, as enacted by congress, which makes it a criminal offense to make or publish a forgery with intent to injure another."

If the grand jury conducts a thoro inquiry, numerous witnesses will be called in addition to Sparks, Hopkins, and Dr. Lee. The jury may wish to examine Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, who is reported to have learned of the existence of the letter, and his assistant, George N. Briggs, who went to Oklahoma and Texas in connection with the matter. Another possible witness is Frank Phillips, the Oklahoma oil man, who formerly served under Ickes as petroleum coördinator. Phillips is a friend of Dr. Lee and is reputed to have had the letter in his possession for a time.

Decree Is Final

MARY ASTOR.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6 (AP).—Film Actress Mary Astor obtained a final divorce decree today from Manuel Del Campo, now a royal Canadian air force flyer.

In obtaining her preliminary decree Dec. 14, 1942, Miss Astor blamed her husband's fondness for night life for her marital unhappiness, saying he called her a nuisance because she did not want to accompany him to parties.

She was given custody of their 3 year old son, Anthony. They were married in Yuma, Ariz., in 1937. The actress previously was married to Kenneth Hawks, film writer killed in a plane crash in 1930, and to Dr. Franklin Thorpe, from whom she was divorced in 1935 after a sensational court battle.

PICK JEFFERSON AS NAME OF RED SCHOOL IN N.Y.

New York, Jan. 6 [Special].—The Communist party will enter the educational field here next month when it opens the "Jefferson school of social science" as a "people's" university where "education of a progressive character" will be offered it was learned today.

The party has named its new school for Thomas Jefferson in line with its practice of assuming labels designed to trade on American historical figures. Previously it had used the names of Lincoln and Tom Paine for similar propaganda purposes. The Abraham Lincoln school is in Chicago.

The entire project was conceived and worked out by the inner hierarchy of the Communist party under Alexander Trachtenberg, member of its all powerful national committee and expert on literary and educational affairs, it was learned.

Vanderbilt Kin a Backer.

One of the school's financial angels will be Frederick Vanderbilt Field, great-great-grandson of Commodore Vanderbilt, and former executive secretary of the Communist front American Peace Mobilization. Field, who has an independent income of $40,000 a year, was turned down for an army commission last February because of his numerous flirtations with the Communists.

Another backer is to be A. A. Heller, who was known 20 years ago as "the millionaire bolshevist" and who is the principal financial backer of International Publishers, the party's publishing house headed by Mr. Trachtenberg.

The Jefferson school is to be a merger, with greatly extended promotion and financing facilities, of:

1. The Workers school, heretofore the party's official educational emporium at 35 E. 12th street, which has had a hard time filling its classes since the war started, and

2. The School for Democracy, formed by the city school teachers ousted as Communists. The school has always denied any connection with the Communist party.

Director of the Jefferson school, according to a four column story in today's Daily Worker, is to be Dr. Howard Selsam, one of the dismissed city college instructors and head of the School for Democracy. It is being set up under agreement with the Workers School for Democracy, the announcement says, by which the work of the latter two will be "greatly extended, with augmented means, to reach wider sections of the community."

Called "Marxist Institute."

At first the Communists contemplated calling it the American People's school. Until Jefferson was selected for the honors it was referred to simply as the new "Marxist institute." It probably will take over the Ruthenberg library now located at Communist national headquarters.

The school has the usual front "organizing committee." Most of its members, a close inspection shows, have long been active in Communist Front affairs.

One is Trachtenberg himself. Another is Dr. Max Yergen, Negro Communist and president of the newly organized George Washington Carver school in Harlem from which six directors recently resigned because of Communist control.

The courses, taught by 60 instructors, are to range all the way from politics and trade unionism to music and creative writing.

Jefferson was selected for the name, according to the announcement, because he, "more than any other single individual, helped keep America free and one nation indivisible."

15 Rail Unions Blame F. D. R. for Failure to Adjust Wages

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 [Special].—The break of the railroad workers with President Roosevelt and the New Deal, which most of them have supported since 1933, was widened today when 15 railroad unions charged the President and his lieutenants with most of the blame for failure to adjust the railway wage disputes.

It was recalled that a union spokesman, once an ardent Roosevelt advocate, recently told a house committee that railway employes are disgusted with the administration and will "tell them so at the next election."

The unions' latest expression of animosity toward the administration was contained in their official organ "Labor." In news articles, an editorial, and a cartoon they denounced "White House propaganda stunts," the "blitz" against rail unions, and questioned the President's real motive in taking over the railroads.

"Labor" is published by 15 standard railway labor organizations including the operating unions and some, but not all, of the non-operating unions.

Claim Marshall was "Used."

They declared that Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was dragged into the rail wage controversy despite his preoccupation with invasion plans and was "used" in a scheme to inflame public opinion. This "capable soldier," they said, was prompted by the White House to make an international incident out of a dispute the President could have settled on reasonable terms in 24 hours.

A cartoon showed the President and James F. Byrnes, chief of the office of war mobilization, sitting side by side and the latter saying: "Listen, boss, I have another bright idea to cripple labor unions," while a frowning Uncle Sam warns: "Get rid of that fellow, Franklin. He'll wreck you."

A headline on a news article read: "Plan to Discredit Rail Union Flops; Strangest of Propaganda Stunts Staged by White House." The editorial was headed: "Why this 'blitz' against rail unions? Did the White House wish to avoid answering questions about taking over the roads."

Marshall's "False Whiskers."

The editorial inquired into the reason for Gen. Marshall being "dragged" into the controversy and forced to "put on false whiskers" in a dispute the President should and could have settled quickly. It continued:

"Was it because the American people were beginning to ask highly embarrassing questions about the taking over of the railroads? Did the White House desire to avoid giving straightforward answers to these questions and hope to divert public attention from the main issue by launching the silly tale that the mere mention of a strike in the United States would prolong the conflict in Europe six months?

Had to Obey Orders.

"We do not accept the contention that Gen. Marshall did what he did on his own motion. He is not that kind of a soldier. He got his instructions from higher up and those instructions were so definite he felt he had to obey. Anyone who candidly examines the facts cannot escape that conclusion.

"We believe the American people will continue to ask: 'Why did President Roosevelt insist on taking over the railroads?' and we are confident, whatever the White House may do, the people will get the correct answer. Then they will discover:

"That the wage dispute between the five operating rail unions and their employers might have easily been disposed of before the deadline set for a strike; that the national mediation board was proceeding along that line; in other words, was performing its legal duty under the railway labor act.

"Then the President snatched the controversy from the hands of the mediation board without even notifying the members. He summoned the chiefs of the five operating unions to Washington and in the most truculent language demanded they permit him to arbitrate the dispute and agree in advance to accept his verdict."

F. D. R. Snatched It Away.

After two unions had accepted, the editorial said, the President, "with great beating of the drums," took over the roads, "insisting the nation was menaced by some frightful tragedy," but "while this scare campaign was being pushed to the limit" the heads of the other three operating unions were within a few blocks of the White House and prepared to settle.

"The President and his chief lieutenants," the editorial declared, "are almost entirely to blame for the failure to adjust the railway wage dispute. The White House is also responsible for Gen. Marshall's unfortunate statement which, according to the best information available, is now being used by Hitler's propaganda agencies."

Threaten Election Reprisal.

The warning that railway employes "will tell them at the next election" was uttered by George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks, in an appearance Dec. 17 before the house interstate commerce committee.

Harrison showed every indication that he and his associates, representing 1,100,000 nonoperating employes, have exhausted their patience and expect nothing from President Roosevelt or the administration.

"Our people are mad at what has happened," he said at that time. "They are thoroly disgusted. I don't think it did the Democrats a damn bit of good the way they handled this thing, and our people are going to tell them so at the next election."

He denounced "administration arrogance and bungling" and asserted "The people are sick and tired of the way they are being treated by burocrats in Washington."

BRICKER ORDERS GAMBLING BAN IN WAKE OF SUICIDE

Resort Named in Death Note Is Raided.

Toledo, O., Jan. 6 [Special].—Gov. John W. Bricker today ordered all gambling places in Lucas county "closed and kept closed" as a result of the suicide yesterday of George D. Wilcox, Detroit advertising executive, who left notes saying he had lost $30,000 to Toledo gamblers.

The governor also ordered Lucas county officials to forward him a full report on the gambling situation in the county. He declared there "is not a gambling place in the state that could not be closed if local officials want to act," and warned that if they didn't the attorney general will begin an inquiry that will include "failure of officials to enforce the laws."

Club Raided, 17 Seized.

Prescutor Joel S. Rhinefort announced he would ask the Lucas county grand jury to investigate gambling and directed Sheriff Charles L. Hennessy to post a 24 hour guard at all places suspected of permitting gambling.

Sheriff's deputies made three raids on the Club Devon, one of the places where Wilcox said he had lost money, and finally closed it in the third raid tonight. They arrested 15 men, including Ben Aronoff and Joe Fretti who were charged with operating a gambling establishment.

Wilcox had sent a wire to Aronoff asking the operator to meet him at 11 p. m. Tuesday, apparently to discuss Wilcox' pleas for restitution of some of his gambling losses. Aronoff said he was out of town and didn't get the telegram until yesterday morning after Wilcox had been found dead of poison in the Commodore Perry hotel.

"I'm sorry the situation occurred but I don't see where I am responsible for the act of a man who was a perfect stranger to me," Aronoff said. "His losses at race tracks thruout the country were not my fault."

$2,100 Loan Recalled.

Aronoff said he never had met Wilcox and that the business man had not been in the Club Devon for two years. He was last there, Aronoff said, on Dec. 3, 1941, at which time he claimed he lost between $3,000 and $4,000 and, after much wailing about his predicament, a representative of the club lent him about $2,100.

Aronoff said a club employe told him Wilcox related that he lost between $10,000 and $15,000 at Detroit race tracks in 1941 but that friends helped straighten out his financial affairs.

Racketeers Denounced.

In one of the letters Wilcox left he denounced "gambling racketeers who have preyed upon the weaknesses of such persons as myself."

Coroner Frank G. Kreft returned a verdict of suicide and made arrangements to have an autopsy determine the poison used. Wilcox was married and was the father of a son, 19, and a daughter, 12. He was 48 years old.

CHICAGO SPAR 1ST IN COAST GUARD SCHOOL OF RADIO

SPAR Marion Klemchuk, 4157 Clarendon avenue, was named yesterday as the first Chicago woman in uniform to attend the coast guard's radio school for women.

When Mrs. Klemchuk enlisted in the SPARS, she expressed a preference for radio training, but there were no billets open at that time. She has been in the coast guard a year. Her husband also is a coast guardsman.

Lt. Mary Kennedy Daly, SPARS recruiting officer in Chicago, said the coast guard wants to place SPARS in the type of work they prefer, and that Mrs. Klemchuk's case is an example of that policy.

3,737 WALKOUTS IN 1943; DOUBLE 15 YEAR AVERAGE

14 Million Man Days Lost, Says Bureau.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—The number of strikes in 1943 was almost double the average for the 15 year period preceding Pearl Harbor, a study of records of the bureau of labor statistics showed today.

The 1943 total [with December roughly calculated on the basis of the preceding 11 months] was 3,737, compared with a 1927-41 average of 1,945 and a 1942 total of 2,968.

The number of man days of idleness in 1943, however, was slightly below the 15 year average altho the 1943 working force was much greater. This would indicate that last year's strikes were of much shorter duration.

The 1943 man days of idleness totaled 13,947,273, a tremendous jump from the 1942 total of 4,182,557. The board estimated that the four coal strikes were responsible for nearly two-thirds of the increase.

More Workers Involved.

The number of workers involved also was up greatly—from 839,961 in 1942 to 3,337,091 in 1943—but this does not mean that 3,337,091 different workers were idle at some time in 1943. The total includes the large mine working force, multiplied four times because the same men struck four times.

The 15 pre-Pearl Harbor years, of course, involve a smaller number of potential strikes than 1942 and 1943. They also include depression years when strikes were negligible. In years of business progression, the number of strikes and man days of idleness substantially exceeded the 1942 and 1943 figures. For example, the man days idle in 1937 were 28,424,857 and strikes reached a total of 4,740.

2.8 Per Cent of Employed Involved.

In 1942 the workers involved in strikes amounted to 2.8 per cent of the total employed, compared with 7.2 per cent in 1937.

Records show that strike idleness in 1942 amounted to .05 of 1 per cent of the available working time. In 1941 it was .32 of 1 per cent. The percentage is not available for earlier years.

The statistics summarized:

	No. of strikes.	Workers involved.	Man days idle.
1927-41 aver.	1,945	865,474	14,391,373
1942	2,968	839,961	4,182,557
1943 [Dec. est.]	3,737	3,337,091	13,947,273

GAMBLER FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Kas., Jan. 6 (AP).—Benny Portman, 50 year old tavern operator with a court record of liquor and gambling activities, was found shot to death today in his automobile, parked in the main business street. The car was parked at the same place all day yesterday, but the body went unnoticed until this morning.

Benny Portman.

Police had searched all night for Portman after his wife reported him missing Tuesday.

In 1930 while he was on parole from a federal sentence for bootlegging, Portman figured as intermediary in the $100,000 kidnaping of Michael H. Katz, drug store chain owner. He was reached by the kidnapers and handed the ransom note and subsequently aided the family in negotiatoins that led to Katz' release.

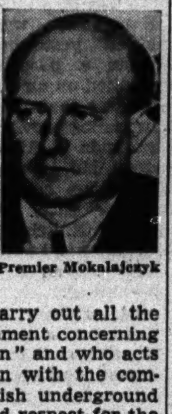
Corrigan is a nephew of Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan and McAuliffe is a son of Chief Frank C. McAuliffe of the fire insurance patrol.

POLISH PREMIER DEMANDS RIGHTS OF A REPUBLIC

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Polish state never has ceased to exist, Polish Premier Stanislaw Mokalajczyk said in a broadcast to his countrymen from London today. He said Polish affairs are being administered from inside by a secret delegate from the Polish government in London who "has the authority to carry out all the functions of government concerning home administration" and who acts in close coöperation with the commander of the Polish underground army. He demanded respect for the rights of a republic.



Premier Mokalajczyk

Mokalajczyk's statement comes as an answer to the Moscow radio, which announced that the exiled Polish government already had forfeited the right to represent Poland.

Points to 1942 Decree.

The prime minister declared the decree concerning temporary organization and administration of Polish territories was signed Sept. 1, 1942, by all members of the government. Telling his countrymen the Polish state continued to function, the prime minister asserted:

"All that happened is that its organs had become secret under the pressure of events with the exception of those which had to remain in the open for the purpose of carrying on duties outside the country."

Referring to Polish-soviet relations, Mokalajczyk said: "We should have preferred to meet the soviet troops not merely as the allies of our allies fighting against the same common enemies, but as our own allies as well. We demand respect for the rights and interests of the Polish republic, its supreme authorities and its citizens in any war situation and at any state of development of the international situation."

Common Frontiers Urged.

Czecho-Slovakia's president Eduard Benes returned to London today after signing a treaty with Russia and, according to members of his entourage, he is convinced all countries in central and southeast Europe "need cordial relations with Moscow." It was reported he might seek to reconcile Poland and Russia. He failed to add to the Czech foreign office's denial that he told the Czech colony in Cairo that Czecho-Slovakia and Russia would have common frontiers after the war, but his return here is timed with the announcement of "the Moscow plan for Poland," which indicates such is the Russian intention.

What makes this intention more important is the fact it was published in the Wolna Polska, organ of the soviet-subsidized Union of Polish Patriots in Russia. This supports the popularly held theory that, despite the dissolution of the Communist International, Russia intends to employ Polish Communists in the future setup of Poland.

Czech Moves Watched.

Outside of the information that no decision has yet been made, nothing new can be learned tonight regarding the reported intentions of Benes to reorganize the Czech government in London to include for the first time Communist ministers.

The Tribune corresyondent finds it difficult to reconcile the attitude of the British press against the Poles, who are pictured as unreasonable while at the same time the newspapers fail to show any resentment against Moscow denunciations of the Polish government in London.

Nazis Reported Testing New Naval and Flak Gun

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP).—The Berlin radio tonight said the Germans are testing a new type of heavy shore battery designed to shell targets at sea and to fire at approaching bomber formations with explosive shells at great range and altitude.

Condemned

DANIELLE DARRIEUX.

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 6 (AP).—The newspaper "Bir Hakeim," which identifies itself as a clandestine French publication, recently said the French motion picture actress, Danielle Darrieux, was among those "condemned" as collaborators with the Germans. Persons with good circumstantial evidence believe the paper, supposedly printed in France, actually is printed elsewhere. Its anonymous backers claim the support of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

R.A.F. FEINT PLAY WORKS AGAIN IN BIG STETTIN RAID

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP).—The R. A. F. feinted the Germans out of position last night by sending a light force of Mosquito bombers to jab at ruined Berlin 15 minutes before the main force of giant Lancasters and Halifaxes arrived over the Baltic port of Stettin, 75 miles to the northeast, and slammed it with more than 1,000 tons of bombs.

The air ministry disclosed that the Germans fell for the scheme, rushing fighter packs to protect Berlin and leaving the route wide open for the heavy bombers to get thru to Stettin.

Success of the subterfuge was credited with the holding of British losses down to 15 planes in both attacks and in other light Mosquito raids on western Germany and northern France.

During daylight today the aerial offensive was continued against northern France by R. A. F. light bombers escorted by fighters. Three enemy planes were shot down and two of the allies' failed to return. The targets were designated merely as "military objectives."

[There were several indications early today that the allied aerial assault on Europe was continuing. R. A. F. bombers roared out over the English channel, the German radio left the air, often a sign of raids, and a raid alert was sounded in Geneva, Switzerland.]

Prison Farm Fugitive Caught After 16 Years

Warden Joseph Ragen of Stateville received word yesterday that Paul Kalwenske, who walked off the prison honor farm in 1928 where he had served five years for burglary, was under arrest at Butte, Mont. Ragen said Kalwenske was seized when he applied for a war plant job and his fingerprints revealed his identity. Kalwenske had been sentenced to prison from Chicago.

LECTURER PUTS POLE BOUNDARY ABOVE ALL ELSE

The question of Poland's eastern boundary transcends all other considerations and becomes part of the moral issues for which the allied nations are fighting, Dr. Waclaw Lednicki, Polish scholar and lecturer on Slavic cultures at Harvard university, told the Chicago chapter of the American Friends of Poland yesterday at a luncheon in the Arts club.

"The ideal of justice, and a genuinely new order entirely different from the new order at which Hitler is aiming, requires that peace be established on the basis of law and order," said Dr. Lednicki. He deplored any tendency to permit international injustice simply to appease some strong nation.

Polish for Four Centuries.

This assertion came toward the close of a lecture on Russian-Polish relations in which Dr. Lednicki produced various arguments to support Poland's claim to the eastern lands occupied by Russia in 1939.

"These lands belonged to Poland from 1386 to 1795," he said. "Some of them—Galicia, for instance—never belonged to Russia, even after the partition of Poland."

Dr. Lednicki conceded that the population of these eastern territories is not entirely Polish and that the Polish people do not constitute an absolute majority. But he recalled that the Ukrainians, Ruthenians, Jews, Russians, Tartars, and Germans in the disputed lands had co-existed with the Poles for centuries, and that general conditions of life there more closely resemble the conditions of life in central Poland than in central Russia.

Urges Neighborly Equality.

Dr. Lednicki favors a policy permitting Poland and Russia to live cordially side by side as equals.

"The future of Poland depends on close collaboration with Russia—but collaboration in the frame of independence and in the frame of order and justice," he said.

He recalled that the Polish government in exile frequently had held out the hand of friendship to Russia. He said that he personally favors Polish-Russian collaboration.

"Russia is an ally," he declared. "We hope to greet her armies in Poland as an ally."

Dr. Lednicki defended Poland against the charge of anti-Semitism sometimes leveled against her. While conceding that there had been some anti-Jewish activities over a three year period because of Hitler propaganda, he recalled proudly the country's long tradition of tolerance.

"Seven centuries of tolerance are more eloquent than three stupid years," he said.

Germans to Penalize Juvenile Work Shirkers

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—The Nazi minister of justice, Otto Georg Thierack, has ordered severe penalties for chronic cases of absenteeism among juvenile workers in Germany, a broadcast dispatch of the Nazi agency DNB said today. For juveniles "repeatedly absent from work in spite of having been sentenced," the dispatch said, "education in an approved institution may be ordered."

U.S. NAVY PLANS TO EXPAND THRU 1947, SAYS OWI

Reveals 8 Billions in Ships Projected.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—The greatest sea and sky fleet in the world has plans to go on expanding thru 1947, it was disclosed tonight shortly after a top navy official called for post-war maintenance of the navy as a guarantor of world peace.

The office of war information reported the navy's construction plans call for the building of more than 500 combat ships in the three years 1945 thru 1947, and in the same period, about 400 patrol and mine craft, more than 600 auxiliary vessels, and 70,000 landing craft.

For reasons of military security, the 1944 program was not detailed, but it was stated that naval ship construction alone will total 8 billion dollars according to present schedules, 1½ billion dollars more than in 1943.

Disclosures Follow Address.

The disclosures followed an address in New York by James V. Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, in which he declared:

"Far into the future, our own national security must have as its first foundation the maintenance of the great sea and air power which the United States navy is now in process of building."

He said that 1943 had seen the construction of 1,600,000 tons of combat ships, including 65 aircraft carriers and 13,617 naval combat planes, making of the navy "the greatest sea and air striking power in the world."

OWI Reveals Program.

Taking up where Forrestal left off, OWI included in a report on general munitions cutback a review of navy plans which showed that ship construction plans have been projected ahead thru 1947. Aircraft plans go thru 1945.

The navy's 1944 cutbacks were mainly shifts from defensive to offensive weapons, as illustrated in a switch from destroyer escorts to invasion craft. A jump of 60 per cent in fighter and bomber output is projected for 1944 over 1943.

600 JAPS KILLED IN BATTLE; TWO DESTROYERS HIT

Marines Drive Eastward on Cape Gloucester.

ADVANCED ALLIED HDQ., New Guinea, Jan. 7 [Friday] (AP).—Six hundred Japanese have been slain during heavy fighting now in progress in dense jungle country at invaded Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Both sides brought up artillery and strafing American planes supported the attacking marines.

Bringing total enemy losses to more than 2,000 since the marines landed Dec. 26, the latest casualties were inflicted during a slow, arduous push against fierce resistance in the eastward direction of Borgen bay.

Bitter Fighting Rages.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur, in announcing today the preliminary results of the battle, said bitterest fighting has been going on since the marines swung to the offensive in that sector. Previously the marines at Borgen bay had been on the defensive against sharp counterattacks.

Covering developments thru Tuesday, the spokesman said the marines had made some advances against a strong force of Nipponese but that progress was limited.

Along the New Guinea shoreline opposite the Cape Gloucester operation, Japanese positions on the coastal approach to Madang were deteriorating.

At Saidor, where United States 6th army elements landed Jan. 2, contact has been made with the enemy at Cape Iris, 10 miles to the northwest. The allies are less than 50 miles from the shipping and supply base of Madang.

Squeeze Japs in Trap.

Japanese caught between Saidor and the Huon peninsula to the southeast were squeezed into a narrowing trap. On the peninsula, Australian jungle fighters have moved four miles above Cape King William to within 67 airline miles of the Americans at Saidor. The Saidor invaders had helped cut down the distance by pushing eight miles southeastward.

The Madang area, now receiving almost daily aerial blows, was battered in a 243 ton attack Wednesday afternoon by Mitchell, Marauder, and Liberator bombers escorted by Lightnings and Thunderbolts. Alexishafen, an air base, was one target. Supplies and bivouacs were fired and shattered as far south as Bogadjim, Madang's southern outpost defense point.

In a raid on Kavieng, New Ireland, Tuesday, planes from an aircraft carrier of Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific navy scored several hits with torpedoes and bombs on two destroyers.

Down 10 Jap Planes.

The same day, Solomons fighter planes, probably from Torokina field at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville, swung over Rabaul, main Japanese base on New Britain, and fought it out with 30 Japanese fighters. At a cost of one raider, the attackers downed 10 enemy planes for certain and probably bagged an additional five.

On the northern end of Bougainville, Brig. Gen. William S. Matheny of Spokane, Wash., bomber commander in the Solomons, sent his Liberators against Buka, an enemy air base, spreading large fires. Col. Harry Wilson, all-America football player at West Point in the late '20s, was on a Mitchell bomber in a strike by medium units at the same area. The raids occurred Tuesday.

U. S. WILL DRIVE ON THRU JAPAN PROPER: HALSEY

Predicts Celebration 'Where Tokio Was.'

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6 (AP).—Adm. William F. Halsey, home on leave from his South Pacific command for the first time in 16 months, said today that "when we get to Tokio—where we're bound to get eventually—we'll have a little celebration where Tokio was."

"The Japs don't like the way we're fighting and they're going to like it less," he told a press conference while here for a short visit with his wife.

"Thru Japan Proper."

The admiral said he accepts that the European war must be won before huge amounts of materiel and men can be sent to the Pacific, but added that when that time comes, the army, navy, and marines, "anxious and itching to go, will drive on thru Japan proper."

He estimated 10 Japs are being killed to every American lost.

"The Japs are good fighters," the admiral added, "but any belief that they are supermen, possessed of extraordinary bravery and are not afraid to die, is not true.

"It's fear, stupidity, and mass bravery at various times that makes them act like they do. They're just as afraid to die as we are.

Pilot Caliber Down.

"The Jap planes also are good, but their pilot caliber is going down hill. And as for their naval gunnery, the only time we see it is at night. They like to play at night because they're strong at torpedo work. But we'll meet them, day or night."

Adm. Halsey praised Gen. MacArthur as "a splendid soldier," said American forces in the Pacific are more interested in fighting Japs than voting in a Presidential election back home—"only one in 500 is interested in voting"—and when asked if the Pacific offensive would reach its peak this year, replied: "I hope so."

'TERRIBLE TERRY' ALLEN IS GIVEN LEGION OF MERIT

Camp Horn, Ariz., Jan. 6 (AP).—The Legion of Merit was presented today to Maj. Gen. Terry [the Terrible] Allen for outstanding service in commanding the first infantry division in Sicily.

The presentation was made by Maj. Gen. Alexander Patch, commanding general of the California-Arizona maneuver area.

Gen. Allen, who returned to this country several months ago, is commanding the 104th Timberwolf division, training here.

ROB TRUCK DRIVER OF $45.

LEAP-FROGGING DRIVE STIRS YANKS; NOW IT'S 'PHILIPPINES BY JUNE'

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AN ADVANCED NEW GUINEA BASE, Jan. 7 [Friday].—The successes at Cape Gloucester and Saidor in the last two weeks have started a fire of optimism among troops in the forward areas. Before Christmas the popular slogan was: "The Golden Gate in '48." Now the word of the hour is: "The Philippines by June."

This optimism is based on the leap-frogging up the New Guinea coast. When looking at the map the rank and file of the troops smile as they see it is only 600 miles from the northwest tip of New Guinea to Mindanao, the most southerly of the Philippine Islands, and in between lies the Island of Halmaheira, which already has been visited by the allies.

Whether this optimism is justified or whether this gazing at the map is just so much sightseeing, the rank and file have no way of knowing. But as never before they are hopeful and their pessimism about spending years in the Pacific has taken a knock on the chin.

GLIDER TO CARRY 30 MEN, 2 JEEPS PASSES TESTS

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 6 (AP).—A new glider capable of carrying 30 troops and with clearance to transport two jeeps was successfully tested at Ford airport in Dearborn today.

The new ship, an experimental model, is a high wing monoplane with plywood wings, of stressed skin design, externally braced. Called the CG-13, it is basically an enlargement of an earlier type of Ford built glider — the CG 44 — which had a carrying capacity of 15 soldiers.

The new glider is designed to withstand a much higher towing speed than its smaller predecessor. It is equipped with the regular flight instruments and radio and has two landing gears — a conventional wheel gear with hydraulic brakes which can be dropped when desired, and a pair of fixed skids for use where landing area is limited.

PEARL HARBOR DISASTER LAID TO F. D. R. POLICY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6 [Special].—The disaster at Pearl Harbor was laid at the door of President Roosevelt's "Pacific policy" tonight by Rep. Clare Booth Luce [R., Conn.], in an address before a gathering of Republican men and women.

A Preventable Horror.

"This forseeable and preventable horror called Pearl Harbor," Rep. Luce said, "Mr. Roosevelt quite recently characterized as 'an accident.' An accident, indeed! Forgive us if I seem to speak bitterly. Of this astonishing description of the calamity that ignorance and indifference to the Japanese menace brought upon our nation, but the making of our future Pacific policy must begin with a full, if bitter, understanding by all of us of the meanness, the folly and the stupidity of the American policy in the far east in the last 10 years. Perhaps 'peurile and picayunish' are words that really do apply to that question."

Mrs. Luce then said that the Roosevelt policy in the far east in the last 10 years can be summed up under three heads:

Appeasement, non-co-operation or economic isolation, and unpreparedness. As to appeasement, she said that right up to Dec. 7, this country had remained Japan's greatest supplier of oil, scrap iron and other war materials — which were being used to close the door to China.

Bombs Made in America.

"The bombs dropped not only on Nanking and Chungking, but on Manila and Pearl Harbor, Wake, Guam and Midway, were marked 'made in America by Roosevelt's far east policy,'" said Mrs. Luce.

"It was not California's foreign policy in Asia nor the Republican party's foreign policy in Asia, nor the American people's foreign policy in Asia that failed," she said. "It was Mr. Roosevelt's Pacific policy that failed, and the payoff was Pearl Harbor."

WORK ORDER HITS 3,000 STRIKERS IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP).—Mayor Bernard Samuel's 2 day old administration ordered 3,000 striking city employes back to work today and pressed 60 inmates of the city's prisons into service as guards at the Torresdale filter plant.

Officials of three locals of the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employes [AFL], which called the strike last night to inforce demands for a 10 cents an hour pay increase, voted tonight to continue the walkout at least one more day.

15 INCH SNOW HITS MONTREAL; CONTINUE STRIKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 6.—Curtailed for 16 days by a strike of 2,000 municipal white collar workers, Montreal's municipal services were further strained today by a 15 inch snowfall. Altho traffic was snarled, little clearing work was done.

Gerard Picard, general secretary of the Catholic Confederation of Workers, was in Quebec today. Strike leaders said he would bring back concrete proposals from the provincial government for settlement of the strike.

VOTE? SURE WE WANT IT, YANKS AND WACS SAY

Divided on Question of Polls Control.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 6.—The question as to whether the overseas soldier will have the right to vote in this year's Presidential election and get time enough to cast his vote and have it counted is still running high in this theater of the war, four days before congress reconvenes to consider more soldier vote legislation.

Most of the soldiers interviewed in this area the last few days definitely want to vote and many are interested in the controversy over whether the states or federal government should control the balloting.

Most of the Americans questioned are either attached to this large headquarters or work on base supply jobs in the surrounding area. But a considerable number are front line fighters on their way back to Italy, Sicily, Corsica and Sardinia after hospitalization for wounds or sickness.

Yanks Give Views.

Many Yanks said they did not know the basis of the controversy and why there should be one. But more often the interviewer encountered a soldier who took a flat attitude that "congress should see to it that the men who are fighting the war get a chance to vote without any delay."

Technician Basil Williams of Alachua, Fla., said he hoped to cast his first vote this year but had not followed the controversy at home. Staff Sgt. Cecil A. Griffin of Chapin, Ill., said he had not thought much about voting. He had been too busy.

"I am 25 years old and have been in the army four years without voting," said Corp. Roy P. Greeson of Resaca, Ga. "This year I would like to vote. I see by the paper that Georgia is trying to be the first state to give us the vote."

"You Bet We Want Vote."

Sgt. Marshall Jones, 35, of Cairo, Ill., who was wounded in Sicily while leading a rifle squad with the 3d division, said:

"You bet we want to vote. The fellows who go in after the Germans with a rifle ought to be able to have a ballot." Pvt. Harry Singer of Lancaster, Pa., asked:

"Why shouldn't the guy who fights the battles have a say so in his government?" Corp. Herbert J. Peterson of Chicago, a former office equipment salesman who is now a teletype operator, said:

"The question of states' rights is very important. But far more important is the question of getting the machinery set up so the soldiers can vote in time. This is now more important to us than states' rights."

Chicago WAC Speaks Up.

WAC Pvt. Jeanne Strong, a pretty file clerk from Chicago, said not many of her friends cared one way or the other. But Technician Genevieve Buzenski of Mansfield, O., and Pvt. Grace K. Stankewitz of Cleveland, O., disagreed.

"Both of us voted at home and we want to vote now," said Miss Buzenski, a former recreational director, who turned army cook.

SKULL FRACTURED BY ROBBER.

Alonzo Heath, 83 years old, 4907 Cottage Grove avenue, was believed near death last night from a skull fracture inflicted by the blows of a Negro robber who set upon him as he left his son's garage at 5000 Cottage Grove avenue.

Urges U. S. and Australia to Get Better Acquainted

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 6 (AP).—Urging "a free interchange of people" to enable Australia and the United States to become better acquainted, Keith Murdoch, president of the Australian-American coöperation movement, today described as "a great tragedy Australia's failure to interest Wendell Willkie in a visit here." He said there is no reason why an exchange of people in widespread spheres in both countries should not begin at once.

CRASH THRU NAZI LINE ON 10 MILE SECTOR IN ITALY

Yanks Lead 1 Mile Gain Thru Wall of Shells.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 6 (AP).—American and British infantry, plunging forward in a new offensive on a 10 mile front in the mountain maze before Cassino, have advanced an average of a mile and are smashing into concrete pillbox defenses guarding the Germans' new Italian "Siegfried line," headquarters announced today.

All along the rugged front from Venafro to Rocca d'Evandro and astride the Via Casilina to Rome the Nazis fiercely resisted the attack launched in a cold, driving rain early yesterday.

Drive Thru Rain of Shells.

American doughboys of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th army bore the brunt of the assault north of Via Casilina, while British infantry struck south of that main road to Cassino and the Eternal City, 70 miles beyond.

"The Germans are fighting bitterly for every inch of ground in their customary style, but have been driven back at least a mile in most places," an allied spokesman said. The Nazis poured thousands of shells into the advancing allies and fire blazed from hundreds of enemy machine gun nests.

Waves of American A-36 Invader dive bombers roared low over the front, strafing and bombing the enemy's emplacements.

Hand to hand fighting was in progress thru the ruins of San Vittore, six miles from Cassino, with American troops in possession of approximately half the citadel.

Ships Shell Nazi Port.

Canadian forces on the Adriatic coast consolidated their positions on "Point 59," a fortified hill about three miles north of Ortona, from which they had evicted the Germans Tuesday night in a stiff fight.

Supporting the 8th army's struggle up the Adriatic coast, the British destroyers Jervis and Janus shelled the port of Pesaro, an important supply point for German troops fighting below Pescara.

[Yesterday's German war report said: "In the western sector of the southern Italian front the Americans attacked in an area northwest of Mignano and west of Venafro after strong preparatory artillery fire. The attacks were repulsed with severe losses for the assailants with exception of local dents, which were sealed off. Fighting with the reënforced enemy continues. On the Adriatic coast minor enemy attacks collapsed."]

TITO'S PARTISANS HURL NAZIS FROM 60 MILE VALLEY

LONDON, Jan. 6 (AP).—Jugo-Slav Partisans have driven the Germans out of the entire 60 mile long valley of the Cetina river, which flows into the Adriatic sea at Omis, 15 miles below the Nazi held port of Split, the headquarters of Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz announced today.

The war report broadcast by the "Free Jugo-Slav" radio said "bitter street battles" were continuing in Banjaluka, the Croatian base of the 2d German tank army.

Fighting for the town of Novomesto in Slovenia also is continuing.

Greek Successes Told.

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 6 (AP).—The exiled Greek government today told of new guerrilla successes against the Nazis, including one battle that cost the enemy 600 casualties.

EX-EVANSTONIAN LEADS RESCUES ON BURMA LINE

AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN NORTHEAST INDIA, Jan. 6 (AP).—It was revealed today that the rescue unit intelligence service of the 600 mile aerial supply route to China was organized by Capt. John W. Nesbit, former language instructor at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. This service is credited with saving scores of flyers downed in the jungles on the "hump line" that replaced the Burma road.

Coincident with this announcement was the revelation that the Jap air force in China has suffered heavy losses as the result of supplies flown to the American forces under Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault.

In a list of enemy planes shot down by Chennault's men there appear the names of Capt. H. N. Blackstone, 235 South Maple avenue, Oak Park, Ill., credited with downing three Japs and one probable, and Capt. H. H. Wayne, Yorkville, Ill., one confirmed and one probable. Both have returned to the United States.

Auroran Who Bagged 7 Axis Planes Wins DFC

Lt. Claude R. Kinsey Jr., who became one of the first American air aces in the African fighting, has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, according to official notification received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kinsey, 321 Marion avenue, Aurora. He downed seven axis planes, was himself shot down and captured. He later escaped from an Italian prison camp, and is now at Miami Beach, Fla. Presentation of the D. F. C. is expected to be made shortly. Last month Lt. Kinsey was decorated with the army air medal.

MEN OF 2 LANDS UNITE UNDER ONE BATTLE BANNER

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Jan. 4 [Delayed].—A shipyard riveter from Ohio, a race horse buyer from Pennsylvania, a farm hand from Alberta, Can., a shopkeeper from Ottawa, a night club proprietor from California—it is from such widely assorted types of men that one of the most unusual fighting units of this war has been assembled.

This outfit is a specially trained force of Canadians and Americans welded into North America's first "international army" which is aiding the allied drive against the Nazis defenses on the road to Rome. In just a few months it has won fame for its deadly striking power.

Today on a high hill a group of newspaper men stepped cautiously off a narrow trail between German mine fields to let litter bearers carry a wounded man to a first aid station. He was an American.

Rescued by Canadian.

He was being carried down instead of lying helpless in a foxhole in the bitter cold and snow because of the heroism of a Canadian comrade.

During a patrol skirmish the American had been cut off from his comrades. The Germans shouted to him to surrender. He replied with a hand grenade, but was shot by the one German who escaped the grenade blast.

The Canadian crawled thru enemy fire to rescue the American and then other members of the patrol helped lug him to a litter.

The incident typifies the spirit of this history making outfit. You cannot tell them apart from their talk or dress. They are a combination of the cream of American and Canadian youth, plus a few oldsters.

Commanded by a Yank.

In this organization, the Americans and Canadians retain their own citizenship and are paid by their own governments, while fighting and living side by side. They are commanded by a young American colonel, a West Point graduate.

Their first action in Italy was a push several weeks up sheer cliffs and almost indistinguishable trails which the Germans had strongly fortified. More than usual number paid for the assault with wounds or their lives, but the Germans who resisted stubbornly also paid heavily.

The proud boast of this unit is that you name the place and they'll take it. The original proportion was 40 per cent Canadian and 60 per cent American. Now the force is nearly two-thirds American. The troops all are clothed in American made uniforms and bear American weapons.

The unit is known for its physical endurance and high morale. The men found they could march long distances at amazing speeds and looked with disdain on any one unable to keep pace. Newcomers outdid themselves to satisfy their comrades they were physically worthy of membership in the unit. Thus they made the grade on their own initiative without urging from their officers.

ADM. CARPENDER PROMISES: 'ALL NEWS POSSIBLE'

Rear Adm. Arthur S. Carpender, for 16 months commander of allied naval forces in the Southwest Pacific, who this week assumed command of the 9th naval district, yesterday pledged the people of the middlewest the widest naval publicity within bounds of security.

"It is incumbent upon me," said the successor to Rear Adm. John Downes, who was retired last week, "to see that the people get all possible information about the navy, just as it is incumbent upon me to keep secret those things which would aid the enemy.

"The task ahead for the people in this area is to supply a maximum effort toward support of the fighting forces. The war must go on until Japan is crushed, no matter what the cost or how long the time. Japan must be reduced to the point where she never again can become an aggressor."

No stranger to Chicago—he commanded the naval R. O. T. C. unit at Northwestern university from February, 1938, to September 1939—Adm. Carpender said he welcomes his new command and return to Great Lakes.

WHY PRICES GO UP

AND WHAT WE CAN DO TO KEEP THEM DOWN!

HERE'S WHAT'S HAPPENING

BUT..

SO WE MUST..

Here are the 7 practical things our Government wants us ALL to do now—to prevent runaway prices

1. Buy and hold War Bonds.
2. Pay willingly our share of taxes—including increased taxes—that our country needs.
3. Provide for our own and our family's future by adequate life insurance and savings.
4. Reduce our debts as much as possible.
5. Buy only what we need and make what we have last longer.
6. Follow the ration rules and price ceilings.
7. Cooperate with our Government's wage stabilization program.

You can see how each of these seven points helps to hold the line against runaway prices. Some make sure that our idle money goes into safe places—War Bonds, savings, life insurance—where it cannot bid up prices of scarce goods. Others remind us to "play ball" with the ration rules and price ceilings. And if we all do these things we will be doing our part to hold down the cost of the war. And—we help to make sure that our Post War World will be the world of our hopes come true.

68,000,000 Americans, with the help of their life insurance agents, are already doing one of these 7 things. They have also found the peace of mind, the family protection, the feeling of independence that owning life insurance brings.

It is in the interest of these 68,000,000 people—as well as the nation as a whole—that the Life Insurance Companies of America have joined together to bring you this wartime message to help prevent runaway prices.

AIKEN PREDICTS COMPROMISE ON FOOD SUBSIDIES

Senator's Stamp Plan Is Backed by WFA.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—An early congressional compromise on the highly vexed government food subsidy program was foreseen today by Sen. George D. Aiken [R., Vt.] in announcing that the war food administration has indorsed his food stamp plan to aid low income families.

George D. Aiken.

Meanwhile, Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the senate special committee on post-war planning, announced he would summon WFA officials to a hearing tomorrow on charges that overstocking of perishable foods by the government is resulting in waste thru spoilage. The WFA today denied these charges, declaring that the total spoilage loss was negligible.

Sen. Aiken said hearings on the food stamp plan would be opened by a senate agriculture subcommittee in a few weeks. The plan is aimed at guaranteeing adequate basic diets to 18 million persons. Its probable cost to the government was estimated by WFA at 3 billion dollars a year.

Would Outlaw Subsidies.

The proposal to subsidize the grocery purchases of families with substandard incomes is contained in a bill introduced in the senate last summer by Senators Aiken and Robert M. LaFollette Jr. [P., Wis.] which would at the same time outlaw consumer food subsidies.

A similar bill filed in the house by Representatives Jerry D. Voorhis [D., Cal.] and Charles M. La Follette [R., Ind.] differs from the senate measure by providing controls over food subsidies instead of prohibiting them. Sen. Aiken said the house measure provides a meeting ground for the compromise.

"I hope this bill will settle the heated controversy over subsidies," Sen. Aiken said. "The present consumer food subsidies are bad and they are not working."

Says Farmers Losing Money.

"I have just returned from a visit home and I find that the farmers have been hit hard by declining live stock prices. The farmers are losing money and the consumers are not getting corresponding benefits."

The food stamp plan, according to Aiken, would benefit the 20 per cent of the civilian population whose food buying power has been hit hardest by wartime increases in food costs, without subsidizing the other 80 per cent.

Under the proposed plan, stamps redeemable for approved foodstuffs would be distributed in a manner similar to that used in the depression period food stamp plan for alloting surplus foods to needy families.

A family's eligibility for food stamps would be determined by the adequacy of its income to purchase a minimum standard diet prescribed in the bill.

The WFA estimated that at present prices the basic diet for an average family of four would cost $646 a year and that such a family would need a total income of $2,350 a year to allow enough food money for that diet.

REGIONAL OFFICE TO SIFT POLITICS IN GREEN BAY OPA

Alex Elson, regional administrator of the office of price administration, yesterday promised an investigation of the alleged attempt by the district OPA office at Green Bay, Wis., to force the appointment of a ration board chairman at Eagle River for political reasons.

Elson said he had not received a report from the Green Bay office, but "there is a standing order in this region of the OPA that appointees shall be named without regard to politics, race, sex, or color," and that employes who break this rule are subject to discharge.

"Our policy is to have a representative segment of the population of each community represented on its ration board," he said. "There are 851 boards in the seven states of the region, and once in a while one violates the rules."

At Eagle River, it was charged, the county defense council nominated four persons to succeed a resigned board chairman, but the Green Bay office disregarded the recommendations and named C. A. Harris of Land o' Lakes, a Democrat, township chairman.

BOLIVIA SETS UP NEW CONTROLS ON NEWSPAPERS

Censor Power Given to Officials.

La Paz, Bolivia, Jan. 6 (AP).—Bolivia's new revolutionary government today set up a press and propaganda department to handle its news and radio activities and to "orient" Bolivian newspapers.

The new department will register news agencies and take over the government radio station Illimani. It also will have charge of censorship.

At the same time a government decree created a commission to judge "illicit enrichment and crimes against the high interests of the nation." The commission, to be made up of two civilians and a military officer, will receive accusations, investigate them and submit charges to the courts. The decree said public officials who do not bring forward their knowledge of such wrongdoings will be tried as accomplices.

Meantime union leaders at four mines controled by the Patino interests said in a statement tonight they were unable to comprehend "the action of the United States in defense of the deposed regime" of President Enrique Penaranda, who was ousted in a coup d'etat Dec. 19.

The union leaders, saying they spoke out "in view of foreign propaganda against the revolutionary regime," asserted that Penaranda's regime "signfied native fascistic dictatorship."

The revolution, they said, had placed in power "uncontaminated young men who fight always for the demands of the laborers."

It was understood that no American country rejected the proposal.

SLUG AND ROB AD EXECUTIVE DURING PARTY

Charles O. Husting, 42 years old, an account executive for Young & Rubicam, Inc., advertising company at 333 North Michigan avenue, was robbed of more than $60 and then slugged in the driveway of his home at 369 Hazel avenue, Highland Park, by one of three young men attired as soldiers.

The young men then drove off in a car belonging to Mrs. Charles B. Puestow, 437 Glencoe avenue, Highland Park, wife of Col. Charles B. Puestow, commanding officer of the University of Illinois 27th evacuation hospital unit at Elkins, W. Va., and former associate professor of surgery at the University of Illinois.

Col. Puestow, who leaves tomorrow to return to Elkins, was honor guest at a party in the Husting home. Late in the evening Husting heard a motor running in the driveway and assumed that other guests had arrived. When he went out, two men stepped from Mrs. Puestow's car, leaving a third at the wheel. They took Husting's money and then one slugged him, leaving him dazed.

President, Still Ill, Works on Message to Congress

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—President Roosevelt, still trying to shake off the effects of the grippe, remained in his White House quarters again today and continued work on his annual message to congress. He had one brief appointment. Adm. Harold R. Stark, commanding American naval forces in the European theater, saw him to say good-by before returning to his command. Stephen Early, Presidential secretary, said Mr. Roosevelt's Friday morning press conference would be canceled.

UNVEIL RATION TOKENS YOU'LL GET ON FEB. 27

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 6 (AP).—Uncle Sam's new dime-sized ration tokens were unveiled to newsmen and photographers today, a half billion of them or more.

The new ration token.

The red and blue discs—they come in the two colors—are being manufactured by the Osborne Register company here. Some 2 billion will have been made and distributed by the time they go into use Feb. 27.

George J. Nealeans Jr., of Cleveland, national distribution manager for the office of price administration, termed processing of the tokens the "biggest manufacturing job of its kind in the history of the world." The factory has been working top speed for 24 hours a day, seven days a week for months.

The fibre plastic comes to the factory in long rolls which, passing thru initial processing, are fed thru punch presses at a rate now approaching 50 million finished tokens per day.

Better Business Bureau Sifts Ration Violations

The Better Business bureau yesterday was authorized by the office of price administration to obtain ration stamps to make food and shoe purchases in an effort to uncover "unfair practices and violations in the sale of rationed goods," Kenneth Barnard, general manager of the Chicago bureau, announced.

DE FOREST SAYS RADAR WILL END FLYING HAZARDS

Radar, the radio-electronic device used by the army and navy to detect approaching enemy land and aircraft at great distances, will be widely adapted to safety uses in navigation of commercial air liners after the war, Dr. Lee De Forest, famous radio engineer, predicted in an interview yesterday in the Drake hotel.

Dr. De Forest invented the original radio tube upon which virtually all modern radio developments rest. He operates an experimental laboratory at Glendale, Cal., and is at work upon secret projects for the government.

All danger of collision between aircraft, either at night or in bad weather, will be eliminated by radar signals in the cockpits of passenger planes, Dr. De Forest said, and variations of the system will tell pilots their exact altitude above the earth and distance from mountains or other dangerous obstructions. Eventually, radar equipment will be made in form sufficiently light to be available for small private planes, he said. At present, weight restricts its use to heavy aircraft.

FAIL TO FIND DEATH CAUSE.

A coroner's jury was unable yesterday to determine the cause of the death of Paul Darlak, 17 years old, 1257 West 14th street, who was found dead last Nov. 25 in the street at Throop and 18th streets of abdominal injuries.

TRACTION PRICE MUST BE 'RIGHT,' MAYOR WARNS

Asserts City Will Not Pay Above Worth.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly yesterday warned that the city, in negotiating with security holders of the surface and elevated lines, will not consider any inflated prices. The mayor has a plan to purchase and unify these properties and the Chicago Motor Coach company under municipal ownership.

"The city will not be bound," he said, "by values of the surface and elevated lines caused by touting and speculation."

Negotiations looking toward purchase have been going along for weeks, but no stipulation has been made. The price must be high enough to obtain the properties, but low enough to satisfy the financial interests who will lend the money and also meet public approval as expressed in a referendum.

Market Prices Fluctuate.

The mayor apparently referred to flurries in quotations on surface lines securities in La Salle street. This has been noticeable recently in junior securities of the lines, which have paid no interest for many years, some of which sell at 16 or 17 cents on the dollar.

First mortgage bonds of the surface lines, which have paid 5 per cent since 1907 and carry a prior claim on the properties, including more than 30 million dollars in cash, have been selling around 75.

Lines Making Money.

On Dec. 31 the stock market value—reflecting only the amount that the L and street car lines paper would bring—was near 72 million dollars. A few months ago the figure was around 64 millions.

Both companies are making money, the L for the first time in some years, and it is doubtful if these figures would be attractive to present owners. It is reported that a banking syndicate, looking into the sale of the new company securities, is making an independent survey of the values.

Fight 12c 'L' Fares

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—A Supreme court decision handed down Monday will be relied upon by the office of price administration to defeat the proposal of the Chicago Rapid Transit company to raise rates 2 cents to 12 cents a ride, Harry R. Booth, OPA public utilities chief, said tonight.

Booth said the high court's decision in the Hope Natural Gas company case has nullified the report of a master in chancery in the Circuit court of Cook county, Illinois, which recommended that the 12 cent rate be established.

In a drive against the master's report, OPA will join the Illinois Commerce Commission and the city of Chicago in a hearing before Circuit Judge Walter J. Labuy in Chicago on Jan. 17 to request that the 10 cent fare be retained.

Booth said the Supreme court ruled that the methods followed by the rate-making body in fixing fair rates which public utilities may charge are not to be questioned by the courts unless the rates are patently unjust.

TAVERN LOOTED OF LIQUOR.

Burglars who broke into the North Town tavern at 3459 West 59th street stole a cash register and liquor valued at $350, the owner, Mrs. Sue Minsik reported yesterday to the Chicago Lawn police.

OPERA IS ASSURED 2 STATION OUTLET FOR CHICAGO AREA

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The Metropolitan Opera broadcast will have a Chicago outlet after all. WMAQ gave up the Saturday program because of new commitments. For several days the Blue network was unable to find a place for the opera. However, WLS and WENR have rearranged their programs so they can take "Lucia di Lammermoor" starring Lily Pons tomorrow. WLS will carry it from 1 to 3; WENR to its conclusionn.

One of the factors causing WMAQ to give up the opera is the premiere at 4 p. m. tomorrow of a new series titled "Your America" over NBC, emanating from Omaha in connection with the Union Pacific road's 75th anniversary. Nelson Olmsted, story teller, and Josef Koestner's orchestra will be regulars on the hour. Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska will speak and Grace Nelson McTernan will be guest soloist. Olmsted has started a new daytime story period—9:15 a. m. Mondays thru Fridays over WMAQ.

IT'S CHRISTMAS FOR ORTHODOX FAITHS TODAY

Today is Christmas for all the peoples of the earth who observe the Julian calendar. In Chicago, members of the Russian, Ukrainian, Serbian, and Bulgarian Orthodox churches are observing the sacred day with solemn services and feasts.

Serbian traditionalists thruout the city are dining today on Christmas bread-cake and wine. A low mass is being offered at 5 a. m., and solemn high mass at 10 or 10:30 a. m.

Russian orthodox families consumed their holy Christmas meal, a lenten dinner, yesterday and held services last night. SS. Peter and Paul Ukrainian church, at 9211 South Avalon avenue, was newly redecorated for the festivities last night.

2,000 TREES BURN IN OBSERVANCE OF 12TH NIGHT

More than 2,000 Christmas trees were burned in a huge bonfire in Powell park, Waukegan, last night as an observance of Twelfth night. A crowd of 7,500 persons looked on. Guest of honor was Mrs. Anna Olsen, 71 years old, 238 Ridgeland avenue, Waukegan, recently designated by the navy as the symbol of naval motherhood. Mrs. Olsen is the widow of Lt. Hjalmar E. Olsen, and the mother of Rear Adm. Clarence, Capt. Charles, Lt. Comdr. Robert, and Lt. Comdr. Albert Olsen, and mother-in-law of Comdr. Henry Munson. A fifth son, Lt. Comdr. Earl K. Olsen, was killed in action in the Solomons.

Children's Hospital Picks Dr. Gibson to Head Staff

Dr. Stanley Gibson, chairman of the department of pediatrics at Northwestern university medical school, has been named chief of the medical staff at the Children's Memorial hospital at 707 Fullerton avenue, John P. Wilson, president of the hospital, announced yesterday. He succeeds Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich. Dr. John A. Bigler replaced Dr. Gibson as assistant physician in chief.

INSTALMENT XLVII.

DUNN EXPLAINS.

"The boys found Reynolds on Wolf creek," Fox explained to Dunn. "We aim to hang him to that big cottonwood."

"What did you find out about the fight in the stable?" Tuck asked. "How did Purdy and Clemson come out?"

"Purdy was killed—Folsom too. Cad is a prisoner. I talked with him. He says MacGowan and his boys did not want to do any shooting but Folsom cut loose and plugged Tim Owen. Was that the way of it, Fred?"

Tuck nodded. "Yeah, Folsom started the rookus."

A dark bearded man broke out angrily. "That ain't the point, Allan. The K-B outfit wasn't in this row till they came bustin' up here looking for trouble."

Reynolds put a question to Dunn. "MacGowan and some of his riders are in that ranch house holding Cad Clemson a prisoner. Is that how it is?"

Dunn looked at the Triangle R man with bitter resentment. He too, had his personal reason for hating Reynolds.

"You've got it right," the lank rustler said. "MacGowan is roosting right there with two aces in the hole—and another one coming up."

"What do you mean?" Fox asked.

"He has Cad, but he wouldn't dare touch him, knowing we would wipe him out if he did."

"Don't fool yourself." Dunn differed sharply. "He's not worrying about what we'll do to him. That fellow never did pinch his cards. He plays 'em for all they're worth. If we hurt Reynolds or any of his men you can order a coffin for Cad."

"All right," Tuck cut in. "Cad is one ace. You spoke of two more."

"The second one is that Miss Reynolds is at the ranch with him. She rode in with Doc Seneca just before we got here."

"My sister," the prisoner cried. "She is at Cheyenne visiting the governor's daughter."

"She's right there in that house nursing Tim Owen," Dunn denied doggedly.

His companions stared at him, much disturbed.

"And the ace just being turned for MacGowan is a posse heading this way led by that Scotch fellow Muir," Dunn continued, exasperation in his voice. "Miller has turned on us and is leading it in. There will be several others pouring in after that. If necessary, the governor will send the militia."

"Neal has been loadin' you Allan," the bearded man said.

Dunn shook his head. "No, Buck. The game is up. We've got to turn loose our prisoners and fix up a truce with Neal. His idea is that the cowmen have been whipped plenty. From now on they will be reasonable. We'll have to pull in our horns some too."

"We'll turn them all loose but Reynolds," Tuck suggested.

"Go ahead with yore plan and hang him," Dunn said, sarcasm heavy in his manner. "He's the one with the drag at Cheyenne. Maybe the governor won't do a thing about it."

Reynolds said nothing. He felt his case was stronger if he let the others argue it for him. Until Dunn came from his conference with Neal MacGowan the ranchman had been a man without hope. At great risk to himself and his men Neal had probably saved him.

The argument was interrupted by the waving of a towel from the ranch house.

"They want to surrender," Fox screamed jubilantly.

"Guess again," Dunn corrected acidly. "They have found out we've got Reynolds and they want to talk turkey."

Neal made a tour of inspection after Dunn left, to make sure that none of the enemy were sneaking up on the house. Eleanor went with him. She had an urgent desire to be near him, as if to remain assured that after all her dreadful fear she had really found him alive and safe.

"I've been such a prig," she confessed. "I measured you by my little conventional yardstick and smugly found that you were wrong, and all the time you were the only one right in all this trouble. Tho Austin and his group treated you so badly, you rode in at a fearful risk to try to save them. When I have time to think of it I'll be very very humble. But just now I'm too happy. Except about Austin. Ever since Janet wired me I've been so awfully afraid."

She choked up on that thought and left the conclusion unexpressed. He drew her close and looked down into the mobile face broken with emotion. But he thought he had never seen her so lovely. Her shy sweet confession stirred in him a wave of joy. They had come together at last after great peril.

"I'm very happy, too," he told her, "tho maybe I ought not to be until we are out of the woods."

"If you are still in danger I want to share it with you," she said, in her low, husky voice.

His eyes caught fire from the ardent glow of his sweetheart. A drum of happiness began to beat in his breast. Life flowed thru him, deep and strong and vital.

The voice of Driskill brought them back from the enchantment of love. "Three more guys joining our friends outside," he sang out to them from the front door.

In Clemson's bedroom Neal had found a pair of field glasses.

"They're right excited about something," Pete said.

Neal focused the glasses on the huddle of outlaws. They were packed close in heated argument.

He handed the glasses to Eleanor. "Looks to me like one has his hands tied," he told her. "Maybe you can make him out."

She took a long look and lowered the binoculars. "It's Austin," she faltered. "There's a rope round his neck."

Neal verified what she said. He unfastened the belt from his waist. "I'll have to go out and talk with the boys," he said.

"No," Eleanor protested. "I'll go. They wouldn't hurt me. I would be quite safe."

"So will I," Neal assured her. "If I go unarmed, carrying a peace flag."

"What makes you so sure of that?" Driskill cut in doubtfully.

"I'm the one that ought to go. Austin is my brother, and we all know none of them would shoot a woman."

"One of them might shoot first, and find out afterward you are a woman. It's a man's job, Eleanor. We can't hide behind you."

REMINGTON AND DU PONT HIT BY U.S. TRUST SUIT

Seek to End Deal with British Combine.

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—The justice department today accused E. I. du Pont de Nemours, the Remington Arms company and Britain's Imperial Chemical Industries of conspiring to restrain trade "in chemical products, arms, including war materials, and ammunition."

Du Pont's president, Walter S. Carpenter Jr., promptly disputed the charge and said the American public and the war effort had benefited, rather than suffered, from his company's activities.

The government action, a civil suit filed here, was summarized by Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle as charging that the big chemical and arms firms "have been and now are parties to contracts and agreements in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Wendell Berge, in charge of the anti-trust division, issued a statement saying that it is "a major blow against the cartel system" of dividing world markets.

Carpenter, at the Wilmington, Del., offices of du Pont, said in his statement:

"The du Pont company denies that it is now or ever has been a party to any cartel arrangement using the term cartel in its generally accepted sense.

"The du Pont company has for years had an agreement with Imperial Chemical Industries providing for a mutual opportunity to acquire patent licenses and technical and scientific information.

"This agreement has been of the greatest benefit in giving to the American public products and processes which have materially raised the standard of living. Even more importantly in connection with the present war effort, the knowledge resulting from this agreement and the products made available as a result of it have been of inestimable value."

Hopes It Will Be "Warning."

Berge contended that the three firms "treated the world as a kind of colonial empire to be divided up between them and coöperated to eliminate the competition of small manufacturers." He said he hoped the suit would "serve as a warning to American and foreign monopolists."

Du Pont, said Biddle's explanation of the complaint, was found to have been allocated, by international agreement, the United States and Central America as its exclusive sales territory and I. C. I. to have been given the rest of the world, except Canada, Newfoundland, and South America.

"Both companies were to refrain from manufacture in or export to each other's exclusive markets while Canada, Newfoundland, and South America were to be shared," said the complaint, which alleges the allocation agreement dated back beyond 1920 as to du Pont and I. C. I. and from 1933 as to Remington.

Would Dissolve Contracts.

The suit asks the abrogation of "illegal contracts" and a perpetual injunction against I. C. I. from violation of the anti-trust act.

As an example of the alleged conspiracy's working, the department said that in 1920-'29 du Pont sought to protect I. C. I. from the competition of American cartridge companies "by withdrawing from these companies discounts and rebates in connection with the sale of powder so that they might not disrupt I. C. I.'s markets by cutting prices."

Du Pont is described in the proceeding as the largest American manufacturer of chemical products, Remington as the largest manufacturer of sporting arms and ammunition and since 1933 controled by du Pont, and Imperial Chemical as having a virtual monopoly of the chemical industry in Great Britain.

Ella Raines at breakfast yesterday in the Blackstone hotel.

Ella Raines, movie star, spent yesterday in Chicago. Her visit occurred en route to Hollywood, Cal., from Orlando, Fla., where she spent six weeks with her husband, Capt. Kenneth Trout, army air forces officer just returned from overseas service.

STRANDS OF HAIR MAY BE CLEW IN SLASHER ATTACK

Crime laboratory tests will be resorted to by police in order to identify the assailant of Miss Florine Henry, 27 year Federal Reserve bank employ who was beaten and slashed in the laundry of her home at 1234 Loyola avenue, last Sunday, Capt. Michael Ahern said yesterday.

Fifty strands of hair which Miss Henry wrenched from the attacker's head before she was knocked unconscious and slashed by a razor, serve as the only clew police have, Ahern said.

Police continued to hold for further questioning, Clement J. McGrew, 55 years old, 1100 Loyola avenue, a janitor, who was seized in a drunken condition Wednesday when civilians noticed he had a bloody hand. McGrew said he injured himself when he fell, police said, adding that the suspect was bald.

TWO BOY GROUPS TO MAN TRUCKS FOR PAPER DRIVE

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

One thousand Chicago Boy Scouts and several hundred members of the Chicago Boys' club will take on a more than man sized job by the manning and loading of hundreds of trucks during the city-wide curb side waste paper collection Jan. 15. The boys stepped into the breach of a possible man power shortage for the collection thru the pledges of their representatives yesterday.

Assurance that the city's youth between 12 and 17 years old would take over the heavy job in large numbers was made by officials of the two youth groups at a mass meeting of fraternal and civic organizations in the Morrison hotel. The meeting was called by the office of civilian defense, the war production board, the Chicago Newspaper Publishers association, and paper mills to plan the collection and enlist volunteer help and trucks.

Call for 1,200 Workers.

The need for hundreds of trucks and more than 1,200 volunteer workers to collect the waste paper from the curbs and to unload the bundles at 75 paper yards dotted over the city was outlined to the delegates by John G. Sheldon of the WPB and William H. Bennett, representing the consuming mills.

"I am sure that we will be able to furnish several hundred sturdy youngsters to man the trucks," Norman H. Cook of the Chicago Boys' club responded. "Our boys have been working hard for all the salvage drives, metal, rubber, and grease, so I know that they will get into the spirit of the present campaign. The boys who are too young to do the heavy work will canvass homes on Jan. 14 to remind the housewives to bundle up their scrap paper. If it is necessary, the boys will prepare the bundles and cart them to the curbs."

Scouts to Man 100 Trucks.

The Chicago council of the Boy Scouts of America will be able to enlist some 1,000 older Scouts, or enough to man 100 trucks, W. Arthur McKinney, executive of the council, announced. "Our boys will do anything they are called on to do to insure the success of the campaign," he added.

Hundreds of letters urging active participation in the waste paper salvage program have been sent out to leaders of Camp Fire Girls groups thruout the city from Camp Fire headquarters, Mrs. William T. Grable, executive for Chicago, reported. The Chicago Girl Scouts will drum up bundles of scrap paper in their neighborhoods, Miss Florence Ann Schlott, director of the Girl Scout program, pledged.

Many Other Groups to Help.

Other organizations whose coöperation in the campaign was pledged by their delegates yesterday included Medinah temple of the Shrine, Rotary International, Kiwanis, Urban league, Grocery Manufacturers' Sales Executives, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, the Elks, and the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Additional Chicagoans who are willing to lend trucks or a helping hand on the day of the pick-up should report to Mr. Sheldon at Andover 3600.

PILE OF OLD PAPERS HIGH AS BROOM HELPS SAVE LIVES OF MANY

One hundred pounds of old newspapers is a bundle the height of a house broom. One hundred pounds of waste paper will make 200 containers for precious blood plasma to save the lives of our boys overseas.

Housewives thruout the city are requested to save scrap of waste paper that enters the home and to place this salvage on their curbstones for a city-wide collection Jan. 15. The scrap should be divided into old newspapers in bundles 12 inches high, magazines and books in bundles 18 inches high, corrugated and cardboard boxes, flattened and tied in bundles 12 inches high, and wastebasket contents in boxes or bags. All should be folded flat and tied securely in crisscross fashion.

Proceeds of the collection will be given to the city's service men's centers.

MOTHER CALMLY HEARS JURY PIN SLAYING ON HER

Apparently without emotion, Mrs. Mildred Merkel yesterday heard a coroner's jury charge her with manslaughter in the poker killing of her 2 year old daughter, Claire, on Jan. 3 in their home at 2133 North avenue. Altho she did not take the stand at yesterday's continued hearing, she admitted the veracity of testimony given by Policeman Phil Carolin of District 30.

Carolin testified that despite Mrs. Merkel's earlier insistence that the baby suffered the head bruises when she fell from a toilet stool, she later admitted under police questioning that she herself wielded a stove poker which killed her daughter.

Her husband, Fred, disclosed that the couple had frequently quarreled because he charged that she loved Beverly, her first child born out of wedlock, more than Claire.

Merkel said that on three occasions since last September he had returned from work to find bruises on Claire's head.

Mrs. Merkel, who is 22 years old, will be taken to Criminal court building Monday for formal indictment. She plans to attend the funeral of the baby at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 2246 North avenue if the police commissioner grants her request.

Healy's concern is one of the country's widest known excavators. One of his recent jobs was digging new lock seats for the Panama canal.

Survey shows why people
TAKE VITAMINS

FOR COLDS!

"Preventing colds" outweighed every other reason on the list. And "fewer or no colds" topped the survey's list of noticeable results from vitamin taking. This last statement still has to be proved by a scientific test. But nevertheless, many people do contend vitamins have cut down on their colds.

TO KEEP WELL!

One of the chief functions of vitamins is their ability to keep your resistance high. And in these times especially, you can't afford to be sick! Don't expect vitamins to "cure" you after you've caught something. But do make sure that you get enough of them daily to help keep your resistance high.

AS A FOOD SUPPLEMENT!

Capsule vitamins are exactly the same as those in foods; that's why you can use them to round out rationed meals. They are an invaluable safeguard against a vitamin-deficient diet!

BECAUSE OF EXTRA WORK!

You need more vitamins when you work longer, harder hours. Hasty, poorly chosen meals may not give you enough! Play safe! Take extra vitamins!

Get your vitamins in SUPER-KAPS

Super-Kaps give you all the vitamins known to be essential in the diet. (A, D, C and the 5 vital B Complex vitamins.) Yet they cost only 3c a day

You can also get the same vitamins plus 8 minerals in Super-Kaps Vitamins and Minerals. 50-day supply—$1.98.

THE WAYS OF THE FOURTH TERM CANDIDATE.

The response of Mr. Roosevelt's left wing friends to his unpaternal treatment of the New Deal is pained. Some of them concede that politically he may have been wise to dissemble his love, but need he have kicked them downstairs? There also are admonitions that if Mr. Roosevelt deserts the cause the standard will not fall to the ground, but will be seized by stronger hands. The new paladin is not identified. He's certainly not Cotton Ed Smith of South Carolina and probably not Mayor Hague of New Jersey.

The left wingers, making all the allowances they can for their chief, still think he has acted badly. Mrs. Roosevelt sounds a note of disapproval. The New Deal is not ready for the lavender. If there was a family council before the can was tied on, the chief must have taken the advice of Harry Hopkins, the Rigoletto of the White House. One of Mr. Hopkins' jobs was to help win elections by distributing alms. There are no alms to give. He would suggest a change of tactics.

It would seem, however, that the radicals are forgetting Mr. Roosevelt's favorite political tactics. The apparent desertion from the New Deal is a familiar bit of them. It is conclusive evidence that at this time Mr. Roosevelt is seeking the fourth term. Later he may change his mind. If he does it will be the most painful thing he ever did and he will do so only if he himself concludes that he cannot win. Next November is the gateway to his garden of the gods wherein all ambitions and cravings can come to a glorified realization with the whole world at attention.

Each time Mr. Roosevelt has offered himself as a candidate it has been by saying that he did not propose to do what he later did. He alone knows how far he deceived himself. Otherwise the record is open. As a first term candidate he reproved Mr. Hoover for debt and deficit spending, said that industrial collapse and national calamity were bound up in them, promised an immediate reduction in all governmental expenditures, and expressed horror that any one even in political excitement could say he was going off the gold standard. It is needless to comment on those statements.

In the first term the idea that there was a Roosevelt revolution was accepted in the White House. Mr. Roosevelt said that at least it was a peaceable one. Emergency had led the people to accept goose-stepping. The Blue Eagle of the NRA looked imperiously out of the window of every business establishment. The eagle had assumed the authority of the hammer and sickle. The codes required their signers to relinquish their legal rights and allowed the code authorities to exercise unrestricted powers. Congress, in fact, abdicated. It delegated its powers to Mr. Roosevelt's extralegal administrations. We were headed for a Communist dictatorship. The Supreme court stopped these trends in their tracks. In running for the second term Mr. Roosevelt took notice of this issue.

The second term candidate denied that he had anything in his thought, traditions, or intentions which could justify the idea that he favored a Communist form of government. He made his repudiation a solemn engagement with the people. As soon as the election returns were in the CIO borrowed the sitdown strike from the French Communists and, with the support of the national administration, made an attack on industry by the seizure of properties. Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet members aided the Communist elements in the CIO. Mr. Roosevelt himself said that his opponents who had met their equal in his first term would meet their master in his second. Master was a significant word. He proposed to gain control of industry by taking over the production of electric power, extending authorities such as the TVA all over the country. He had the temporary economic commission fully develop the thesis that capitalism was outmoded and must be replaced.

The third term candidate was engrossed by the war in Europe. Steps short of war already had been taken by him here. He recognized however, that he could not win if the people were convinced that his reëlection inevitably meant that the men of the National Guard, already called out, and the men taken by the draft law, already passed, would be sent overseas. He declared "again and again" that "your boys" were not going into foreign wars.

We come to the fourth term and he says that the New Deal has served its purpose. For what lies ahead it is not suitable. It was not designed for war problems. Mr. Roosevelt wants a new slogan. His disgruntled left wing friends may be referred to the record of his campaigns. For an election he drops a purpose and assumes a pretense. The New Deal is in battle with its own former beneficiaries. They are now furious. Matters grow worse every day. Mr. Roosevelt as a fourth term candidate undertakes to turn attention from domestic failures to the war, from himself as head of the New Deal to himself as commander in chief.

Give him a fourth term and he'll assume a mandate for anything that can be hatched within the walls of the White House or conveyed to it from other quarters. The radicals, of all people, should understand what may be called his campaign reticences. The fourth term candidate ducks away from the New Deal because just now he thinks it is a dead horse. The fourth term incumbent would not be bound by anything the fourth term candidate said.

OPA IN POLITICS.

The chairman of the Vilas county ration board at Eagle River, Wis., resigned recently. The county defense council offered the names of four persons to succeed her, all of them experienced. The district OPA office at Green Bay rejected these candidates and substituted a man of their own choosing who had no OPA experience.

The Green Bay office is said to have insisted that the chairman of the Vilas county ration board be a Democrat, and a good one, and the four persons selected by the defense council did not possess that qualification.

A county ration board chairman receives no pay and has to do a lot of hard work. He must familiarize himself with all the manifold rules and regulations of OPA, keep a ponderous set of records, and donate his time freely to the community. In addition, if he does his work conscientiously, he can easily make himself the most hated man in the county.

Why, then, are the Democrats so determined to put their own people in these jobs which are thankless when they are honestly administered? Can the aim be to give special consideration in rationing to persons who promise to vote for the fourth term and to withhold privileges from those who take the contrary view? That's one way to get votes and it's thoroly familiar to New Deal practioners of politics. They created WPA during the depression ostensibly to relieve poverty but actually to buy votes. They created OPA during the war ostensibly to avert inflation but actually to . . .

Certainly no one can pretend that OPA is regarded by the New Dealers as a sacred trust, not to be sullied with patronage. The good jobs in OPA, politically speaking, go to the McKeoughs and the Mulcahys, stanch Democrats all of them.

THEY DON'T WANT SOLDIERS TO VOTE.

If there has been any doubt as to who doesn't want service men to vote in this year's election, it is resolved by the remarkable joint statement that Secretaries Knox and Stimson have just sent to the secretaries of state of the 48 states, outlining the steps which the war and navy departments will refuse to take to facilitate soldier voting. Mr. Roosevelt's two renegade Republicans are seeking to sabotage service voting this year, just as they sabotaged it in 1942 by ignoring the instructions of congress.

The two secretaries assert that the army and navy cannot furnish state election officials the names, serial numbers, and military addresses of service men voters from each state; that they cannot distribute to men and women in service any voting instructions, application for ballots, or the actual absentee ballots issued by the states; that any ballots that are forwarded must be provided at least 30 days in advance for men in the United States and at least 45 days before the election for those overseas.

All these restrictions, the secretaries assert, are necessary because "nothing must interfere with the services' primary obligation to wage victorious war." Those high sounding words lose their meaning when it is recalled that the Roosevelt administration has never had difficulty in finding space to dispatch to overseas combat areas tons and tons of OWI tripe, not to mention Roosevelt pins that ended up securing the diapers of Algerian infants.

While the two doddering secretaries disclaim interest in any particular bill to provide for soldier voting, the restrictions they seek to impose are obviously intended to hamstring the voting bill introduced by Rep. Vursell of Illinois and to make propaganda for the fourth term vote stealing measure that Sen. Lucas and Sen. Green of Rhode Island are still trying to put over.

Mr. Lucas is out with a new version of his bill. He is willing to abandon some of its previous vicious provisions if he can only get congress to approve his plan for a commission appointed by President Roosevelt to handle the ballots. The senator claims that the powers of the commission have been so trimmed down that its duties would be purely administrative. The answer to that is that it would still handle ballots and that Mr. Roosevelt's record of using governmental agencies to advance his own political fortunes is so notorious that he or his appointees are the last persons in the country who can be trusted to touch any one's ballot except their own. If the senator gets his ballot commission, it would not be surprising to find it voting a few thousand Fighting French for the fourth term and sending the ballots out to Adolph Sabath's rotten borough to be counted.

It is congress, not Secretaries Knox and Stimson, who will finally determine what the army and navy are to do to facilitate the exercise of the franchise by people in military service. Rep. Vursell seeks to prevent the recurrence of the 1942 sabotage by provisions in his bill making it mandatory on the army and navy to distribute ballot applications to service personnel here and abroad and to give air priorities wherever necessary for the transmission of absentee ballots to the soldier voters and back to the state authorities. These provisions are not unduly onerous and will not interfere with the prosecution of the war. Approval of the bill by the house elections committee seems assured. Congress should pass it and if Messrs. Knox and Stimson choose again to disobey or ignore the law congress always has the remedy of impeachment.

"You Could Be Shot in Germany or Japan for Wasting Paper" is the heading of an advertisment sent the Signal by one of the national and state agencies putting on a waste paper drive. One batch of advertising matter that came in this week was in an expensive, heavy manila envelope 16½x22½ inches in size, large and heavy enough for shipping half a bushel of potatoes. Besides this we have received one or two smaller packages a day of like material for the last week, very little if any of which we can use. It's a good thing the men who are at the head of the campaign to save waste paper do not live in Germany or Japan.—Springport, Mich., Signal.

TOP O' THE MORNIN'.

The curious weather conditions of last Monday and Tuesday mornings caused this column to investigate the subject of frost, and we found that there are two kinds—hoarfrost and rime. The words are used synonymously by nature-painting novelists, and rime is encountered chiefly in English literature. The difference, apparent only to the trained eyes of meteorologists, is in the crystal formations and their locations. Rime, formed from undercooled fog or cloud, is found on the windward sides of its places of deposit. It is always built out directly against the wind.

* * *

So here is something to amuse you in the cold, dark war dawns. When you have learned to tell the difference between hoarfrost and rime you may go to work singing, "O, what a wonderful morning!"

* * *

Something tells us that the frost of last Tuesday morning—hoar or rime—was a record-breaker in this region. It dressed the trees more completely than a full-fledged blizzard.

Four-figure time, as this column calls it, seems to have been born in World War I., which also spawned daylight saving time. A few years after the war it was being used for railroading in continental Europe, and civilian watch faces adapted to it were available for purchase by the ultra modern. Ten million Americans in service are now using it glibly, even in the letters they send home. Yet we cannot find a word about it in the latest dictionary, a general encyclopedia of 1929, or a scientific encyclopedia of 1938.

We crave information about the inventor of the 24 hour clock, as it is called by its addicts. The man who took a. m. and p. m. out of life and made the time of day sound like a problem for Joel Kupperman certainly deserves recognition. . . . When the gentleman is found we would like to ask him what has become of that old military herp, the zero hour.

LEGACY BEYOND PRICE.

When I was small I had three aunts,
Aunt Prue, Aunt Belle, Aunt Ann;
Aunt Prue collected rare antiques,
Blue glass, a jeweled fan;
Aunt Belle had wealth and spacious grounds
Surrounded by a wall;
Aunt Ann had just a tiny house
And nothing much at all.
But, O, the wondrous tales she told
Of olden, valiant days.
They glowed like jewels in the sun
To my enraptured gaze.
When Aunt Prue died she left me glass,
But Aunt Ann left me riches far
Beyond imagining.
The rare old glass is broken,
I gave the ring away,
But Aunt Ann's tales of gallantry
Have been my bread each day.

History of the Gold Coast—LV.

Nineteen hundred and fourteen—a fateful year for the world. The throbbing of the war drums which Kaiser Wilhelm der Kleine thumped when he taunted his uncle, King Edward VII., and when he wasn't waxing the ends of his reversed handlebar mustache and polishing his silver breastplate, then broke out into the rolling thunder of war. The armies of Europe were on the march again. The war was far, far away, but as the months passed an uneasy feeling arose that it was not as far away as first thought. Trouble arose once more along the border and the 1st Illinois cavalry, the horse guards of the old gold coast, left its armory on North Clark street for the sandy reaches of the Rio Grande.

Here matters moved along at their usual tempos. But changes were being made. The neighborhood was having its face lifted in spots. The municipal pier was being completed at the foot of Illinois street, and not far away in Streeterville factory buildings were being built. The Fourth Presbyterian church, Dr. J. Timothy Stone, minister, unable to secure sufficient ground on Rush street for its new buildings, was erecting a new church in gloomy gothic at Chestnut street and Lincoln Park boulevard.

East of the waterworks on Chicago avenue a new armory was being built for the 1st cavalry. The style of this structure defies analysis. Perhaps military-eclectic best describes this masterpiece of architectural hodgepodge. There was, however, one ray of relief. At Rush and Pearson streets the walls of the Quigley seminary were arising. View its beautiful chapel when the soft summer moon shines on its west front with its great rose window. It soars from the pavement to the very tip of the flèche [alas, now removed]. It causes a feeling and stirring of the calm, sure, and steady faith that moved Louis IX. to build its prototype, the Sainte Chapelle in Paris, some 700 years ago. Captain John.

DR. DOYLE WRITES A BOOK.

A London fog is everywhere without.
Inside the house a single, struggling light
Illuminates the study. Thru the night
He puffs his pipe, with papers strewn about
Upon the table. Why do patients flout

Immortal shapes take substance. From the height
The gods are watching. Let the doubters doubt.

"He sits at ease beside his glowing grate—
Then comes the step of danger on the stair—
A murdered man lies buried in the snow.
Already Scotland Yard is in despair.
Will Mr. Holmes——? He does not hesitate;
'Come, Watson, get your hat on; we must go!'"

THE ADVANTAGES OF DENTAL HEALTH.

SOME of us can recall the time when about the only thing that forced us to the dentist was an aching or a broken tooth. What a change has come over our customs concerning the hygiene of the mouth. We now realize that the chewing apparatus is an excellent index of general health. It tells us something about resistance and the physical state of the body. Frequently the dentures are years older than the body. The very fact that many are obliged to resort to artificial substitutes somewhere in the forties indicates that neglect or bad nutrition has damaged these natural adornments.

The teeth are living structures. The hollow space within is filled with nerves and blood vessels and the color will be brighter if it is alive. Destroy the living parts within the root canals and changes in shade may constitute a blemish.

Dental disease does not strike at the age of thirty or forty. It begins in childhood and, like rheumatism or arthritis, has a tendency to hang on. Baby teeth are prone to decay. In consequence, every morsel that the little one swallows may become contaminated from an oozing cavity. It is essential to keep the so-called milk set as healthy as possible. Otherwise the youngster cannot masticate his food properly. This is important because he is growing and he needs every atom of nourishment.

Furthermore, these first "ivories" pave the way for the oncoming permanent set. If the baby tusks disappear too early, many of the second crop will come through prematurely or assume unnatural positions. Such crooked structures are always embarrassing and, while the skilled dental surgeon can do much to bring them into alignment, this might have been prevented by the practice of visiting his office twice a year.

The habit of brushing before and after each meal, of washing the mouth thoroly and gargling are of prime importance. These procedures require only a minor amount of thought and attention.

But, despite all precautions, the oral cavity is never clean. We can take a swab from the tongue and, under the microscope, discover numerous microbes, fungi, etc. Thus gum infections, caries, and abscesses are the natural result. How much systemic disease is traceable to this region is unknown but the amount is substantial. Many a kidney complication, many a bout with fever, can be laid to this focus.

The exact cause of decay is not understood. But germs play an important rôle. Certain acids, the result of fermentation, can gradually thin the hard, firm covering. Once this has disappeared, even in a tiny spot, ever present microörganisms declare a holiday as a suitable place for their growth has been established.

On the appearance of a cavity, have it repaired. Delay means that the dentist will have ten times as much to do, at ten times the cost. This is one occasion when we dare not procrastinate. The boy or girl with an even pearl-like set possesses a personality asset which will reflect itself in better nutrition.

BEE CURE.

A. W. writes: I have been told that bee stings are administered to sufferers from arthritis. How is the remedy supposed to act?

REPLY.

Successful cases have been reported. The venom is designed to stimulate rebellion on the part of the tissues and thus call forth hidden reserves.

HEAT RAYS.

R. B. writes: In what disorders is the infra-red lamp used?

REPLY.

Whenever heat is needed to aid circulation—for example, infections, sprains, bruises, too much fluid in the tissues, etc.

SLOW CLOSURE.

Mrs. T. B. writes: The opening in the head of our 19 month old baby is not yet closed. She is normal and healthy. Is this cause for worry?

REPLY.

No. Make certain, however, that her diet includes plenty of cod liver oil.

VISION IN ALBINISM.

D. F. writes: Do albinos see well?

REPLY.

Because of the absence of pigment, the eyes may be more sensitive to light. Furthermore, there is present frequently a to-and-fro movement of the eyeballs. With some, vision is normal, altho a fair percentage suffer from astigmatism.

LEMONS.

S. T. writes: Is it true that the juice of a lemon in a glass of water daily will help to ward off rheumatism?

REPLY.

Not unless you need alkalis. If you do, the practice will be harmless.

TRYING TO SLIP BY AGAIN

Front Views & Profiles
By MARCIA WINN

Letter from a Seabee.

"The landscape here is littered with weird, impossible-looking contraptions. These are said to have something to do with the C. B. construction program. One of these gadgets has a flexible axle which makes the wheels look as if they were falling off. I am never certain in what direction it is going. When one comes down the road, I duck to the other side, only to find that I have guessed wrong. Don Quixote would have had the time of his life down here."

Letter from a Navy Lieutenant.

"The other day two husky and good looking natives came out to our ship at anchor [in the South Seas]. They spoke excellent English and wanted to know if anybody on the ship spoke English. They then asked if any one was from Ohio. One man was, and they asked him if Ohio had been admitted to the Union yet. They had us going, but finally laughed too much themselves. Turned out they were Negro Seabees from a neighboring camp."

Letter from a Marine.

"Well, all the world is looking ahead to Christmas, two days. It's different here [New Guinea] from the cold, windy, soft white snowy kind at home, THE TRIB, crowded street cars, Lake Michigan, the girls. . . . We are expecting St. Nick to come over in a pair of red shorts. It's a hundred in the shade. If he has any sense, he'll not forget his raincoat, either."

Letter from a Red Cross Worker.

"We called on two camps [in England] on Christmas eve and two on Christmas day distributing presents. There was not enough for an individual present for every man, so we had to devise some amusing scheme of giving the gifts so that the unlucky ones were not offended, such as a sewing kit for the man with the baldest head. That caused a terrific argument, and we ended up spending the rest of the evening counting individual hairs.

"We were honored the other day at lunch in the officers' mess when a mock investiture was held for our benefit. We were decorated with the D. D. C. Lt. Williams, a cute little hillbilly from Kentucky, stood up at his table and with great ceremony and many gestures read off a long citation about how we three doughnut benders had risked our lives under doughnut strafing and exhibited conspicuous bravery beyond the call of duty by going directly and unhesitatingly into thickly infested G. I. territory. A boy was there with camera and flash bulbs to catch the scene of pinning the decorations on our blouses and the kissing of the giggling girls on both cheeks.

"The D. D. C. is the Distinguished Doughnut Cluster. In return we made a lei of stale doughnuts with a large red cross dangling at the bottom. This we draped around the neck of our benefactor."

Sign of the Times.

Circulation at the public library has fallen off to such an extent that the five book per card limit has been removed, and the book borrower now can take out all he can carry.

Helpful Note.

The telephone directory at the army's new hospital in Galesburg contains a paragraph entitled: "How to Make a Call." It states:

"Remove the receiver. Listen for dial tone, a steady humming sound. If the busy signal, a rapid buzz-buzz, is heard at this time, without jiggling the hook wait for the dial tone. Place your finger firmly in the opening over the figure to be dialed. Pull the dial around to the right until your finger strikes the stop arm. Allow the dial to return by itself until it stops. Proceed in the same manner with all figures of the number being called. If the called line is busy, you will hear the busy signal. Hang up the receiver, and call again a little later. If the called line is not busy, the ringing signal, an intermittent burring sound, will be heard as the called telephone is rung."

Those newfangled inventions are tricky.

WANTS PISTOL PRACTICE.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, my wife, returning home from her doctor, was brutally handled by one of our moronic purse snatchers. Needless to say the rat was successful in his efforts.

I suggest that Mr. Kelly's office of civilian defense, instead of passing out Pharisaic literature in the coming election campaign, offer a course in the efficient use of small arms for the benefit of our wives, sisters, and mothers, so that they may successfully defend themselves from such despicable attacks.

I'm sure the suggestion, if accepted, would be much appreciated by the 10 million men in the army and navy, and those of us at home who are not always in a position to accompany our women outdoors after dark. CHAS. PAQUE.

THE ESQUIRE VERDICT.

Notre Dame, Ind., Dec. 31.—I hope you will see fit to give some space in your columns commending the action of Frank C. Walker in his recent decision about Esquire. It was a courageous gesture on his part, and cannot be of the slightest political value either to him or his party. What he did, he did in conscience. We hope you will support him, not, God knows, as a Democrat, but as one member of the present administration who sets aside politics to follow his conscience. The wailing reported in your columns this morning that "this is the opening attack on the press in general" is not worthy of you.

WAR BRIDES' ALLOTMENTS.

Lawton, Mich., Dec. 26—I have read in today's TRIBUNE Mrs. J. Murray's letter on stopping allotments to war brides. I happen to be one of them, whose husband is an officer overseas. I met him during war. We war wives usually live off the allotment and earn as much money as we possibly can for our husbands to get started on when they come home. The writer sounds like she's one of those mothers who are peeved because their sons met their future during war time.

POLITICS AS USUAL.

New York, Dec. 20.—We are told that the Democrats want the Republicans to dispense with politics until the war is over, but I notice that Mr. Roosevelt reports to the Democratic party chieftains before he reports to the congress of the United States. This may be a suspension of politics but it doesn't smell that way. PAUL.

PULASKI VS. CRAWFORD.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—I wish that I could find myself in sympathy with the Poles, with their hopes of regaining their lost land. But I cannot. No, not so long as they retain that proud old American street, Crawford avenue, that they wrongfully took from us a few years ago.

I find myself understanding to a greater degree the reasons for the old European hates when I reflect on how in their power the Polish barons in the city council seized this old American landmark and refused to listen to all the protests that arose at that time.

My little personal hate yields satisfaction only to myself, perhaps, when at the polls I repudiate every Polish candidate for office, but I know that I am not alone in my feeling. For me and for many others there never will be anything but Crawford avenue.

OLD TIMER.

NO PASS.

Elcho, Wis., Dec. 26.—"Sinatra gets a pass," but instead of getting a pass, a specialized man, a chemist doing research work on finding substitutes for critical materials, was drafted even after his employer made the necessary appeals to halt his induction. Where do you think he was put? In limited service shunted from one camp to another, and now helping with the postal rush.

Would it not be better if when a specialized man is examined and found not fit for general service to put him back in his own specialized field where he can contribute his knowledge into worth while things, instead of doing those things that another limited service man, not specialized, can do?

KINDA DUMB.

THE RAIL WAGE CASE.

Pontiac, Ill., Jan. 2.—The New Dealers must think the people are too dumb to know that if an 8 cent an hour increase in wages for railroad employes, when granted thru the orderly and successful procedure of the railway labor act, is inflationary, then the same increase if granted thru dictatorship is likewise inflationary.

One has the right to assume that the only reason that the wage settlement was held up, making necessary a strike call and the taking over of the railroads, was to satisfy the egotism of Mr. Roosevelt. What a sorry example of democracy to be placed before the world by men who claim to be fighting for world democracy. R. R. E.

SOCIAL SECURITY REFUND.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I understand that not more than $30 per year is to be deducted from one's salary for social security. In the last year I have worked in several factories and deductions have been made from my combined total earnings of $3,700. Can I file for a refund? Z. S.

Under the terms of the social security act, an individual contributes 1 per cent of the first $3,000 of his wages per year from each employer. Any amount that an individual has paid in excess of $30 a year will be refunded to him by the bureau of internal revenue upon his making application for such a refund. For the Chicago district, a refund may be obtained by writing to the collector of internal revenue in Chicago. C. L. TOWNE.

MILLIONS POUR INTO REALTY AS INFLATION HEDGE

Market for Homes Shares Investment Boom.

BY AL CHASE.

Fear of possible heavy losses by inflation and ever mounting income taxes are the motivating forces behind the present fast stepping real estate market, big operators and owners agreed yesterday. Millions upon millions of dollars have been and are being poured into improved properties, ranging from the world's largest hotel to one story bungalows. Nearly all purchases, especially of homes, were made as a hedge against the devalued dollar of a threatened inflation.

Many of the largest realty transactions of 1943 were efforts to soften the impact of war time income taxes, but in a majority of these cases the fear of inflation hastened the buyer in making up his mind to spend his money on something which could not be affected by monetary conditions.

Only Rents Supervised.

Another powerful argument for buying real estate is the fact that it is one of the few commodities not controled by the federal government. Rents temporarily are supervised by Washington, but Uncle Sam doesn't tell you whether you can sell or buy, what price to set, or to whom you may rent your property except in the case of new homes designated for war workers.

"Altho real estate today is worth probably 50 per cent more than before the war, it's still a cheap and safe investment," said Ward Farnsworth, head of the firm bearing his name. "It's what I'd call a legitimate market in which buyers don't have the big promotional ideas they had in 1924, 1925, and 1926. Instead of depositing 5 or 10 per cent or taking an option for a nominal consideration for 30 to 60 days, today's buyer promptly makes up his mind and pays cash."

Little Buyer's View.

The big buyer frankly admits he's hedging against inflation. The little buyer, according to an official of the Chicago Title and Trust company, who says he always asks the reason for buying, invariably replies this way: "These are uncertain times and I want to get something I can put my hands on and keep." The official said there was no question that most of today's buying is for a hedge against inflation.

Both the big and the little buyers seem to have plenty of cash to swing their deals. Large operators are not issuing bonds as they did in the boom days of the 1920s when such financing actually was done with money from the small citizenry, nor are they relying on mortgages, but are paying cash in hand.

The little buyers also seem to have plenty of funds to make their home purchases. In both large and small deals, of course, cheap money is an accelerator and reasonable prices asked by sellers are an incentive to buy.

Of the vast amount of capital used during the last 12 months to buy Chicago real estate, more than 25 million dollars has figured in the major deals. In this activity Michigan avenue has been the liveliest thorofare, with well over 18 millions involved.

Some of the largest deals on Michigan avenue have been as follows: 310 South Michigan Avenue building, bought by Continental Casualty and Continental Assurance companies from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company for $5,350,000; Stevens hotel, bought by the Avenue Hotel corporation, of which Stephen Healy is the chief stockholder, from the United States army for $5,251,000; Palmolive building, bought by the 919 corporation, headed by Walter S. Ross of Ross, Browne & Fleming, realtors, from the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company for an undisclosed price understood to have been several millions, subject to a 3 million dollar mortgage, of which $1,050,000 has been paid.

Other Deals on Avenue.

Other Michigan avenue purchases were the northeast corner of Michigan and Erie, bought by Saks-Fifth Avenue from Murray Wolbach and the Illinois Automobile club for $900,000; northeast corner of Michigan and Superior, bought by Superior Properties corporation from Northwestern Mutual for $500,000, and the recent purchase by THE TRIBUNE of a site for a new W-G-N building, just south of Tribune Tower, overlooking the river.

Some of the year's big deals in other parts of the city were: Kesner and V. L. & A. buildings, northeast corner Madison and Wabash, bought by Harry L. Drake, owner of extensive Chicago real estate, from Northwestern Mutual for $1,775,000; State-Lake building, sold by Marshall Field estate to the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company of Greensboro, N. C., for $1,430,000 cash; South Shore block, 71st and South Shore drive, sold by Field estate for $1,300,000 to Randolph Bohrer, who bought nearly 3 million dollars' worth of other properties.

Downtown Transactions.

Two downtown deals thru purchase of capital stock were the Rookery, bought by Western Chain Products company for $850,000 from the Central Safety Deposit company, and the Civic Opera building, bought by General Finance corporation from Chicago Music Foundation for $125,000 cash and the assumption of a $9,885,000 first mortgage.

Other big transactions were: Country Club apartment hotel, 6930 South Shore drive, bought from the Country Club Hotel trust by a group of six Chicagoans headed by Gilbert Keebler, former state administrative auditor, for $600,000; the Park Edgewater hotel, northeast corner of Sheridan and Glenlake, bought by the Park Edgewater corporation, Samuel F. Hillman, president, from the Chicago Title and Trust company for $600,000, and the 12 story coöperative apartments at the southwest corner of State street and North avenue bought by George F. Nixon and William H. Colvin thru purchase of all of the corporate stock for an undisclosed price.

West Side Purchases.

Two big west side deals were the purchase for $650,000 of the Madison-Crawford National bank building, 4010 West Madison street, by Walter P. Powers from Continental National Bank and Trust company and Carl J. Weitzel, trustees for Phyllis Field, daughter of Marshall Field; and the sale of the Guyon hotel, northwest corner of Pulaski and Washington, by the Prudence Bond corporation to the United Guyon corporation, controled by the First United Finance corporation, for $425-000.

In addition, there has been and continues to be a steady purchase of apartment properties, big and little, business buildings, factories. Most active of all have been small homes.

Continue Hunt for Slayer of Alaskan Road Builder

Police continued their investigation yesterday into the slaying of Melvin Nicoll, 28 years old, a crane operator who recently returned from the Alaskan highway. His body was found Monday morning in a vacant lot at 217 Englewood avenue. Nicoll's car was found wrecked at 45th street and Cicero avenue, but head wounds of the victim led police to believe the accident had not caused his death. Police were seeking a woman who may have been the cause of a fight which led to the killing.

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR ROBBED.

William Moss, a street car conductor, told police yesterday that a Negro passenger boarded his car at 54th street and Cottage Grove avenue and then robbed him of his money changer containing $18.

SEIZE CORPORAL IN U. S. ARMY AS AGENT FOR JAPS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—An army corporal, described by the federal bureau of investigation as a soldier of fortune who once was a general in the Chinese army, was arrested in New York today on charges of acting as an agent of the Japanese government without notifying the state department.

Corp. Read.

The bureau, announcing the arrest, identified him as Arthur Clifford Read, about 40, a native born American.

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the bureau said Read admitted receiving about $15,000 from Japanese officials in Hongkong, Seattle, Wash., and New York for propaganda work.

Read began working for the Japanese in 1938 when he gave them information about the Chinese army, Hoover said.

Read spent most of the last two years in New York and in the vicinity of Detroit. At the time of his arrest he was on furlough from Camp Croft, S. C.

4 DENTISTS LOSE LICENSES; FILE AGAINST OTHERS

The department of registration and education yesterday announced the revocation of licenses of four Chicago dentists, and is preparing complaints against six others. All are charged with using extensive advertising and high pressure salesmanship.

The dentists whose licenses were revoked are Dr. Harry L. Basford, 404 East 47th street; Dr. Harold F. Walker, 4831 Irving Park road; Dr. Harry J. Horwitz, 3255 Lawrence avenue, and Dr. Frank A. Buerstetta, 1555 Milwaukee avenue. Frank G. Thompson, director of the department, said these men attracted patients thru false advertisments featuring low prices, then charged more than other dentists.

The dentists against whom complaints have been filed are Dr. Ernest E. French, 1128 Argyle street; Dr. Cecil E. Fisher, 2662 Milwaukee avenue; Dr. Sebastian Campinegro, 1128 Argyle street; Dr. Ewald H. Westedt, 120 North Cicero avenue; Dr. Maurice Feuer, 3248½ North Ashland avenue, and Dr. Howard G. W. Thru the Looking Glass

The extra hair piece, smooth and shiny and beautifully matched to your own tresses, is increasingly fashionable. What lots of women don't realize is that it can also be eminently practical.

One of the busiest feminine executives we know tells us that a chignon she had made has saved her countless hours that would otherwise be spent in having her hair done especially for certain occasions. Comes a rainy day and the hair ends flutter downward, as almost every woman knows. You'll look like a fugitive from the beauty shop unless you curl up the ends, which takes time, or make a hurry-up visit to your hairdresser—which takes even more time and isn't easily accomplished these busy days since shops are booked to capacity almost every day of the week. If you have a chignon it can be used to conceal those straggling ends.

It also can give you a brand new look, and a smart one. Hair is being worn lower than ever across the crown, but not all women can wear the hair flowing long and low in the back—that's a deb fashion almost exclusively. Older women, who like a crisper line in back and should have it, really, can wear a smooth chignon anchored low on the neck, with their own wispy hair ends artfully and neatly gathered beneath it.

The braid, too, can make your coiffure look brand new and freshly arranged when worn in that bleak period that just precedes your usual beauty shop appointment. The braid isn't becoming to all, but those who can wear it well have distinction nowadays, when most feminine heads are monotonously alike in coiffure style.

The hair piece can be a cluster of curls, if you like, tucked in to give crisp freshness when the tresses are at the droopy stage. A good piece, clean, well matched and artfully used can perk up the appearance of your own hair any day, but especially on those days when professional care is needed but not available for lack of time.

There's Onion to Suit Every Cooking Taste

BY MARY MEADE.

Whether you prefer the potent flavor of the garlic clove or the delicate essence of the grasslike chive, there's an onion available to suit every cookery purpose. Soups, sauces, meat dishes, salads, dressings, and casserole dishes are enhanced by the addition of this prosaic vegetable, but if only a whiff of onion flavor is desired the bottled onion and garlic juices or salts may be used conveniently for seasoning.

The large white onions and the smaller red-skinned Italian onions are less strong than the yellow ones, but all three may be used for cooking. Save your tears by peeling onions under water, or scald them with boiling water and rinse with cold water before peeling.

Cook onions uncovered in a large amount of boiling salted water for 20 to 40 minutes, or until tender. If very strong in flavor, drain after cooking 10 minutes, cover with fresh boiling water, and cook until tender. Drain and season with salt, pepper, butter, or margarine. If desired, add 1½ cups top milk and heat thoroly.

Glazed Onions.

Boil onions until almost tender. Drain and dry on absorbent paper or on a soft cloth. Melt 3 tablespoons margarine or drippings over low heat, add 2 tablespoons sugar, and mix well. Add onions and cook, turning frequently, until brown on all sides, about 15 or 20 minutes. If onions start to brown too quickly, remove from heat for a few minutes. Then resume cooking until onions are glazed brown all over.

Deviled Onions.
[Serves six.]

- 6 large boiled onions
- 3 hard cooked egg yolks
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1½ tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 cup medium white sauce
- ½ cup fine, buttered crumbs

Chop boiled onions very fine. Add mashed yolks of eggs, salt, and chopped parsley. Combine with white sauce and turn into six greased ramekins. Sprinkle with fine buttered crumbs. Brown under medium broiler flame.

Stuffed Onions.
[Serves six.]

- 6 large, mild onions
- 2 tablespoons margarine, melted
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ½ cup top milk

Wash and peel onions and parboil for 20 minutes. Drain, remove centers, and chop. Combine melted margarine, bread crumbs, seasonings, minced parsley, and lemon juice with the chopped onion and mix well. Fill onions with stuffing. Arrange in greased baking dish, add top milk, cover, and bake in moderately hot oven [400 degrees] for 15 minutes.

Chopped left-over meat may replace half the bread crumbs. The top milk may be omitted, and small pieces of bacon may be put on top of each onion, in which case bake uncovered.

Onion Shortcake.
[Serves six or eight.]

- 1 recipe baking powder biscuits
- 4 tablespoons margarine
- 1 small can or jar of deviled ham
- 2 cups sliced, fried onions
- 1 cup white or brown sauce or left-over gravy

Roll out standard biscuit dough to ¼ inch in thickness. Cut with 2½ to 3 inch cutter. Spread half the rounds with deviled ham, the others with soft margarine. Put together sandwich fashion in pairs, having spread sides together in the middle, and bake like standard biscuits. Meanwhile fry the onions and make the sauce or heat the gravy. When biscuits are done, split and fill with fried onions. Put together again and pour the hot sauce over all. Serve at once.

TURN IN WASTE FATS FOR POINTS AND PENNIES.

FASHIONS
By Angela

Late winter makes spring-minded frocks welcome in the wardrobe. Special forecasters of milder-weather fashions are black and navy sheers, both one and two piece versions.

Definitely youthful and decidedly on the beam, the black sheer two piece dress [left] has many intriguing fashion points. The snug fitting top has a double fold of material around the simple, high neckline. Plaited white frills depend from the bracelet length sleeves, and a crisp lace rosette at the shoulder has a dainty center piece of narrow American beauty velvet ribbon. Shiny bone buttons mark the back of the dress from top to hem. The slim straight skirt is unique in the fact that it may be worn with the buttons in any position—side, back, or front.

A princess style one piece sheer [center] has smooth slenderizing lines, which flatters the silhouette. A smart basic dress, this chooses lingerie touches in the form of a detachable plaited jabot of organdy, a simple Puritan type collar, and deeply plaited ruffles on the bracelet length sleeves.

The junior miss may well find black and white suitable for her tender years in the youthful two piece dress [right]. Stiffly starched white lace outlines a wide, square neck, bands over the shoulder create an attractive epaulette effect, and the same lace adds an unusual treatment to the bottom of the blouse. Material buttons are used for the back closing. Two tiny plaits dart the skirt front and the back is straight. This same model is available in spice, lemon, beige, and aqua with matching lace.

Charges U. S. Is Inconsistent on Race Issue

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

A statement by President Roosevelt in his Christmas eve broadcast was used in a speech last night by a University of Chicago anthropologist to illustrate widespread inconsistency between word and action in relation to race and nationality.

The speaker, Dr. Robert Redfield, addressing the North American Conference of Foreign Missions in the La Salle hotel, referred to the President's assertion that the doctrine of the strong oppressing the weak is a doctrine of our enemies. Dr. Redfield asserted that it also is, "to a significant extent, the practice of ourselves." Dr. Redfield alluded specifically to the country's attitude toward Jews, Negroes, and Japanese as racial matters.

"What becomes of the integrity of a people who deny, yet practice, a doctrine of their enemies?" Dr. Redfield asked. "Can we assume responsibility for the enforcement of justice in Asia when we do not enforce it in Atlanta or Detroit? A people that professes one way of life and acts in another is a people without integrity.

"We celebrate the Bill of Rights as a charter of liberty, and while we celebrate that document we deny some of these rights to fellow citizens because of race. In our society, in large part because of the social consequences of race, we speak one way and act another. On whose side are we fighting in this war?"

Dr. Redfield declared there is nothing in race itself of consequence; that such consequence it has was attained solely by the way people think about it. He asserted that no inferior races exist except in the minds of people who think themselves superior, but with no good reason for such thinking. Dr. Redfield described prejudice as a mental labor saving device.

"White Americans justify the oppression they permit by believing that Negroes are less competent than are whites," Dr. Redfield asserted. "What really lies in the social order, for which we are responsible, we push off into the biological order, for which we are not responsible. What is in the biological nature of man is there to stay, and is none of our business. A child of one skin color starts off even with a child of any other skin color, if you let him. We do not let him, and we entertain a false biology which seems to justify us."

A. V. Casselman of Philadelphia, Pa., was elected chairman of the conference, succeeding A. L. Warnshuis of New York. Executive secretaries of the conference were reelected.

DURKEE'S IS 4 TO 1 FAVORITE

These women have tried Durkee's Margarine in daily taste tests. They know what they're talking about! They've discovered, by comparing Durkee's with the spreads they've been using, that there's no finer spread.

AN "ALL-AROUND" FOOD

Have confidence in the decision these women have made. Serve Durkee's as your spread for bread. Use it as a topping for potatoes and other vegetables. Its all-around excellence makes it an excellent all-around food.

LET YOUR FAMILY TRY IT

Indeed, those very qualities that make thousands of women say, "Durkee's is better than the spreads we've been using," are qualities that can make Durkee's an overwhelming favorite with you and your family, too.

You'll be delightfully surprised at how economical Durkee's is . . . and how very few points it requires. Ask your grocer . . . today!

One of the foods included in the Official Nutrition Rules

PREFERRED FLAVOR!

Durkee's favored flavor is due to an improved process which seals in the flavor of the cultured, pasteurized skim milk with the wholesome vegetable oils.

PREFERRED NUTRITION!

New Bond Sale Idea Adopted by Winnetkans

BY JUDITH CASS.

ABOUT 40 Winnetkans who have volunteered to do odd jobs for payment in war bonds and stamps will go under an auctioneer's hammer in the Skokie school auditorium in Winnetka on the night of Jan. 18, the date of the start of the 4th war loan drive. This entertaining and at the same time useful idea of starting the drive was originated by Mrs. Benjamin F. Affleck, chairman of the Winnetka war finance committee; Roy W. Walholm, Winnetka chairman for the war loan drive, and Mrs. Edward B. Hall, chief of the OCD community service aids, whose 385 members will make a house to house canvass for war bond pledges.

The Winnetkans, who have offered to do everything from shoveling snow to sitting with babies, will be dressed appropriately for their jobs and will be presented by Don McNeill that night in the auditorium. The auctioneer will be Lester Winternitz. Bidding for their services will be spirited, no doubt, for finding some one to do odd jobs is not easy these days. A good stout fee in war bonds should go for Samuel Otis, cook by avocation, who will officiate as chef on some occasion for the highest bidder.

Especially popular should be the young women who will act as "sitters," Miss Patricia Blackett, Miss Evelyn Gardner, Miss Joan Butler, Miss Carolyn Sutter, Miss Betty De Lescaille, and Miss Suzanne Sullivan. Some of the others who will be auctioned are Laird Bell, who will chop down a tree; Calvin Fentress, chauffeur; Perry Dunlap Smith, snow shoveler; Holman D. Pettibone, wood chopper; Gilbert H. Scribner, lawn mower; C. Colton Daughaday, garden plower; Frederick H. Scott, leaf raker, and Clarence Randall, who is willing to be an extra man at dinner, altho it would seem that his wife is the one who is making the sacrifice.

Some of those giving "help"-less dinners before the auction are Mrs. William B. Hale, Mrs. Henry A. Gardner, Mrs., Ernest S. Ballard, Mrs. Hall, and Mrs. William Sherman Hay.

Wedding News.

For her marriage at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the chapel of Christ church, Winnetka, Miss Betty Magie will wear the same lovely satin gown in which her sister, Peggy, was married to Ensign James Daubenspeck. Tonight's bridegroom, Ensign Robert Parker Coffin, arrived yesterday from Lakehurst, N. J., where he had completed his training with the naval air corps. Following the wedding, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quick Magie, will give a reception in their Winnetka home. Ensign Coffin is the son of Mrs. Charles H. Coffin of Winnetka.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Virginia Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leif Jensen of Glencoe, to Corp. George Banta III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Banta Jr. of Menasha, Wis. The wedding took place Dec. 28 in the First Presbyterian church of Fayetteville, N. C., near Corp. Banta's post, the Maxton air base. Corp. Banta was graduated from Shattuck Military academy, and he and his bride attended Lawrence college.

Engagement News.

Miss Vail, a graduate of the Roycemore school, received her degree last June from the University of Wisconsin. Her fiancé, a 1940 graduate of the university, attended its law school for two years before entering the naval reserve. He received his commission from the naval training school at Northwestern university and since has participated in the invasions of Sicily and Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gould Watson of Glencoe announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen, to Pvt. William A. Marbach of the army, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Henry Marbach of Pontiac, Mich. Both Miss Watson and her fiance

Surgeons O. K. 99 Hospitals in Chicago Area

Two hospitals in the Chicago area were accorded provisional approval and another was removed from the provisional status and given full approval yesterday in a list of 99 hospitals in and near Chicago which meet the requirements of the American College of Surgeons.

The two hospitals placed on the list for the first time were the Oak Forest Cook County Institutions at Oak Forest and the Bethany Home and Hospital, 5015 North Paulina street. The institutions were given provisional approval because they are endeavoring to meet the requirements but have not yet done so in every detail.

Oak Forest is listed as having a 4,500 bed capacity and the Bethany hospital is listed as having 190 beds.

The hospital removed from the provisional list and given full approval is the Winfield Tuberculosis sanatorium in Winfield. It has a 92 bed capacity.

A total of 3,253 hospitals thruout the United States and Canada were approved. This is an increase of 264 over those approved a year ago, Dr. Irvin Abell, chairman of the board of regents, said.

"It is almost surprising that the list of approved hospitals has increased," Dr. Abell said. "Great shifts of population, and concentration of workers and their families in suddenly overcrowded industrial communities have created new problems in civilian health service. With depleted staffs of doctors, nurses, and other personnel, hospitals have great difficulty in meeting the needs, yet the record shows a splendid accomplishment in prevention and treatment of disease."

Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate director of the College of Surgeons, said that more than one-fifth of the 7,183 doctors in the Chicago area have joined some branch of the service.

To meet the requirements for approval by the college, Dr. MacEachern said, hospitals must have a modern, well operated physical plant, administered by a competent director and governing board. They must show an organized staff of well trained physicians and surgeons who have access to good diagnostic and therapeutic facilities. Complete medical records, readily accessible for research, must be available at all times.

National Registration of Nurses Postponed Indefinitely by WMC

Indefinite postponement of the national registration of nurses planned for the week of Feb. 7 was announced yesterday in a statement by the war manpower commission. The statement laid the delay to "circumstances beyond the control of the war manpower commission," and requested states to refrain from holding individual registrations until the status of the national registration is determined. It added that a draft of nurses for military service is not contemplated.

Miss Madeleine McConnell, chairman of the Illinois committee, procurement and assignment services for nurses, has informed the 11 local committees in the state that the postponement has nothing to do with their function of classification of nurses in their various areas.

White Collar GIRL

Eyes Right.

I've yet to fall off a scaffold
When a WCG doth curvet
Along the rue—that is to say,
I have not fallen YET.

THE BILLPOSTER.

Dollars to Paper Clips.

Almost any business man safely can bet dollars to paper clips with his secretary that she cannot read the keyboard of her typewriter correctly. The test characters are these:

• & /

Can the white collar girls name them? JOHN G. CURTIS.

It Sticks in the Mind.

The thumbnail description of the flu [overheard in the elevator]: "You feel as tho you were a one man football team against the Bears."

Will Scarlet's comment: "It's all right to walk the straight and narrow providing you don't absorb too much of the narrow."

The white collar wife who, merely as a joke, mailed her husband a piece of sentimental writing in an envelope [addressed by another girl in the office], then watched from a distance to see his reaction. When she observed him gaze dreamily, tho happily, into space she wished she hadn't been so playful.

Feminine Firsts.

The first American woman osteopath was Dr. Jeanette Hubbard Bolles. She was graduated in the first class from the School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., in 1894. . . . Chicago's first restaurant woman was Mrs. C. F. Schaefer, sister of Philip Henrici. Together they opened a restaurant in 1868 on State street where Marshall Field & Co.'s store now stands. . . . The first regional librarian in Chicago is Pearl Field, who in 1920 became head of the Legler regional branch. There are 10 branches and 13 sub-branches in the district which she directs. . . . The first president of the National Association of Women Lawyers was Emilie M. Bullowa from New York. She was president from 1899 to 1900. Only one past president of this national association of women lawyers is a Chicagoan—Helen M. Cirese, president in 1939. . . . Isn't Miss Kranz the first prominent woman candy manufacturer in Chicago? . . .

The December issue of Independent Woman [official publication of the business and professional women's clubs] carries an illustrated article on the eight American hostesses on trans-Atlantic planes. The dean of the group is Dorothy Bohanna, who made the first commercial nonstop flight to Europe as a stewardess. . . . Gen. Eisenhower has a confidential typist, Sgt. Nana Rae, who was a secretary in New York City before she joined the WACs. . . . The biggest toy balloon business in the United States is owned by a woman, Helen Warny. Prior to the war she was reputed to use more helium than any one but the United States government. . . . She began as a secretary in a hydrogen gas factory. . . . The first woman safety inspector [junior engineer] in 33 Bendix plants is Thelma Boone.

The Midwest Horticultural society will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Lammers, 5222 Lakewood avenue.

Fashion Turns Back Pages to Cloche of Old

BY REA SEEGER.

Turn back thru the pages in the fashion folios of the last war and find the cloche headgear. Take a good look at the newest head lines and see the comeback versions of this present war. Then you'll realize there's nothing new under the sun except clever revivals and modified versions of something that clicked a number of years ago.

The new cloche millinery is definitely of this era. The hats are not the truly obliterating models of the last war, but the current contours are suggestive of that bell-like outline, even tho coiffures and profiles stand out for attention.

Straw fabrics in gay, lilting colors are the newest. Trust the women, even in this busy war time, to hustle out in straw hats as soon as the last echo of a pealing Christmas bell is hushed or the first snows bring out the mufflers and woolies for the masculine half of the world!

However, there also are pastel tinted felts and smart mellow ivory and beige beauties in both fabric and felt. They have the same flattering cloche curve to the shallow brims. And it's good to see higher crowns again. The crowns are dramatized with swathed ribbon of tri-toned colored bands of jersey or crepe. Brims are exceptionally flattering because of the subtle down swoop curve. Wear the topper with a lush green or tobacco colored French veil and you have the most patrician of town hats.

Tricky little straw hats copied from the gentlemen's fedoras are rakish bits of color to wear with the first tailored suits, especially the exciting new pin checked fabrics. There is an enviable affinity between suits of pin check pattern and such a snappy little millinery masterpiece. A bow and short streamers of contrasting colored grosgrain merely accentuate the simple swank of the fedora effect, while adding the correct and telling femininity.

Thomas Tribute Is Inadequate —as a Concert

Theodore Thomas memorial concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Désiré Defauw conducting. Presented at Orchestra hall Thursday evening, Jan. 6, 1944, and scheduled for repetition Friday afternoon. The program:
Overture, "Coriolanus" ..... Beethoven
Siegfried's Rhine Journey, from "The Twilight of the Gods" ..... Wagner
Siegfried in the Forest, from "Siegfried" ..... Wagner
Siegfried's Death Music, from "The Twilight of the Gods" ..... Wagner
Symphony No. 5, E minor ["From the New World"] ..... Dvorák

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

It was scarcely a tribute to the memory of Theodore Thomas to hear the Chicago Symphony orchestra he founded in faith more than half a cenutry ago commemorate the 39th anniversary of his death with an inadequate concert, lukewarmly received by an audience at Orchestra hall. But that is what happened last night when Désiré Defauw conducted the second Thomas memorial of his brief Chicago career. The first was just a year ago when he made his debut as guest conductor.

Perhaps the most eloquent commentary on last night's performance is that while it held Beethoven and Wagner, the best of it was Dvorák's "New World" symphony. Demanding neither profundity, nobility, nor the majestical splendor of great orchestral utterance, it was reasonably well played. True, it revealed no new facets, nor did it fully exploit all its known charms. But it was showily handled, with a certain dash, Bohemian in at least one sense of the term, and it permitted the orchestra to recapture much of the stature we know it to possess, tho we seldom hear it nowadays as evidence. Some of the scherzo had the lilt and lift and sparkle worthy of the caliber of the men and women who sat in such familiar formation on the stage.

But the Beethoven and the Wagner fell far below the standard justifiably expected of a major orchestra. The "Coriolanus" Overture was merely dull in a blunt, characterless sort of way, but the three episodes from Wagner's "Ring" had a truly capricious career, sometimes careening at such a tilt the hapless soloists got lost by the tonal wayside. The "Rhine Journey" rose from an interminably slow beginning to a burst of sound almost raw in its failure to achieve molten fusion of tone. Siegfried's forest began in subterranean growlings, but was rescued by the calm song of the cello choir heightened by John Weicher's violin and Ernest Liegl's flute. The death music was briefly theatrical when the full throated orchestra burst into brilliance, but it was a shiny surface theatricality, devoid of the cumulative splendor, the mounting sense of inexorable climax, that can and should hold mesmerism in the very skill of its emotional unfolding.

Two Invited as Guests at College Club Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. E. V. L. Brown will be special guests at a 6:30 o'clock dinner tonight at the Chicago College club, after which Mrs. Brown will give a dramatic reading of "Our American Cousin." Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trigg and Miss Josephine Geiger will be host and hostess. A club tea from 4 to 5 p. m. today will follow the symphony concert.

Stage Notes

A report from New York yesterday said Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson again will depart from the cast of "Sons o' Fun," this time Feb. 1, to make a picture for Universal. Mr. Olsen paused between Civic Opera house performances to say the date is not definite, but will be settled within a few days when Universal representatives get to town. After the picture commitments are completed, he added, he and his partner hope to go overseas on an entertainment tour. Then "they haven't a thing to do except get a new show ready for the Winter Garden." When the stars do leave "Sons o' Fun," Steve Olsen and Marty May will step back into their roles. Meanwhile, Rosario and Antonio are out of the cast, and have been replaced by Roberto and Alicia.

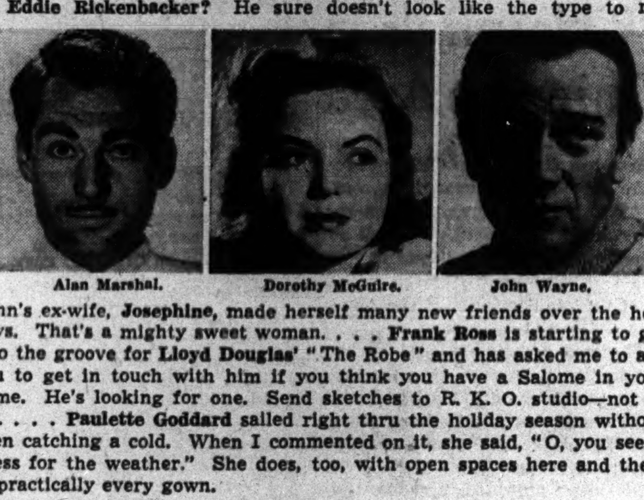
The New York opening of Maxwell Anderson's "Storm Operation" has been delayed for the third time, the last postponement caused by Myron McCormick, the leading man, who lost his voice. Another voice reported in difficulties is Paul Robeson's, taxed by "Othello," a surprising development in an actor trained on "Emperor Jones."

Joan Blondell is ill and will not be with "Something for the Boys" when it begins its journey toward Chicago in Philadelphia Monday night. Marjorie Knapp takes over Ethel Merman's role, and Miss Blondell will join the company later. Other replacements are Russ Brown for Frankie Hyers and Lew Hearn for Charlie Howard.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 6.—Charlie Koerner again had to go outside to borrow players for "I Married the Navy," which will co-star Dorothy McGuire and Alan Marshal. . . . Andre Kostelanetz will do the Jerry Kern score of "Cover Girl" on Jan. 16. Don't say I didn't tell you. . . . What's this talk about John Wayne getting the part of Eddie Rickenbacker? He sure doesn't look like the type to me.



Alan Marshal. Dorothy McGuire. John Wayne.

John's ex-wife, Josephine, made herself many new friends over the holidays. That's a mighty sweet woman. . . . Frank Ross is starting to get into the groove for Lloyd Douglas' "The Robe" and has asked me to ask you to get in touch with him if you think you have a Salome in your home. He's looking for one. Send sketches to R. K. O. studio—not to me. . . . Paulette Goddard sailed right thru the holiday season without even catching a cold. When I commented on it, she said, "O, you see, I dress for the weather." She does, too, with open spaces here and there in practically every gown.

Reaching for It.

One of the funniest ads seen in a metropolitan paper was the one Warners ran claiming they proudly presented "Midsummer Night's Dream" with Jimmy Cagney, Olivia De Havilland, and Mickey Rooney. Mickey's name must have been thrown in for good measure, what with Cagney and Warners in a perpetual row—Livvy and they in the law court, and the picture a stinker. Anyway, it gave us all a good laugh. . . . Betty Hutton's newest shadow is Charles Russell, actor under contract to S. P. Eagle. . . . Papa and Mama Crosby celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Jan. 4. Everett fed them oysters and salmon from their home town. Bing gave them gold plates. It's mighty hard to get gold for them thar presents nowadays.

Doing Her Bit.

Ingrid Bergman is in Alaska. She was given her choice of Alaska or South seas. Being Swedish, she chose the cold country, knowing she could stand the climate better than some of our less hardy perennials. Neil Hamilton is with her doing his magic acts. Ingrid has a mighty fine chance to grab herself an Oscar for her performance in "For Whom the Bell Tolls." . . . When Frank Sinatra was here before, he lived at the Garden of Allah. When he returned, other "inmates" put up this sign, "Glad you're back." But he'd gone on to the Sunset Plaza, where other guests were requested to bed down early because Frank likes his sleep undisturbed. . . . Our Hollywood agents knock themselves out. When "The Face" was playing at the Playtime theater one of them stopped me and asked if I wouldn't go see it. When I asked what it was about he said, "It's the life of Leon Vinsky." No, he'd never heard of Leonardo da Vinci.

Paint and Polish.

Billy Haines has redone Ann Sothern's living room around a portrait of her by Paul Clement. Paul also painted Barbara Hutton's son, Lance. As a surprise, Leland Hayward had a portrait done of his son for Margaret Sullavan. Upon looking at it, Maggie exclaimed, "I can't believe it. Only a mother sees that much beauty in her own offspring." She's now anxious to get back to be painted by Paul with her two daughters. . . . Ilka Chase is about to make another visit to our town, this time with her husband, Bill Murray. They usually come separately. . . . That cute little Diane Lynn, who's so good in "When Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" makes her debut as a concert pianist here on Jan. 21. . . . Lt. Alfred Vanderbilt of the navy ran into his brother, George, over the holidays. Nobody here knows where Al is. . . . Phil Terry's Christmas present to Joan Crawford was some mighty handsome sables. Ray Milland's diamond cluster to his wife makes her look even more ethereal. . . . Danny Danker: "Don't mind if they laugh at your red socks with your tuxedo. Joseph Hergesheimer always wore red with his—and hand knit ones at that."

Defensive play gets its real test in duplicate games. For here there can be neither satisfaction nor profit in defeating the opponents' "several" tricks—the question is whether you defeat them enough tricks to compensate for the offensive score you might have made. Consider this typical case.

South, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

South's preëmptive bid was stretched one trick, but it had an excellent outcome.

West led his fourth highest spade. Dummy played low; East won with the ace and cashed the diamond king, looking for West's signal in the suit. When West gave a come-on with the nine, East laid down the diamond ace and a third round. West won and shifted to the club jack. East captured the queen and shrewdly returned the diamond jack. Declarer ruffed with the 10—and West, not so shrewdly, over-ruffed with the queen. That was the last trick for the defense. Result: a 500 point penalty for East-West, as against the 600 or more points they could have gained thru bidding game in no trump.

The match-point score would have been changed materially in East-West's favor if West had not been so eager to over-ruff South's heart 10. The defense up to that point had been admirable, but the over-ruff was an elementary mistake. All West had to do was permit South to win with the heart 10, discarding a spade or a club. Now, regardless of South's machinations, West would have to get two trump tricks, with his queen and nine, thus raising the penalty to a satisfactory 700 points.

The Teen Age Girl in Need of Understanding

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you have a 13 year old daughter, you'll be interested in this poem. Listen:

"THIRTEEN."
[By Dorothy Harriman.]

She wears her lipstick
Thick.
Her social standing is in danger
Without the latest record changer.

With shoes now larger than her mother's,
Her appetite surpasses brother's.
The sound of dishes being laundered
Reminds her that her time is squandered
Away from practice at piano.
So,
Off to Bach and Duvernoy she'll go,
Her soul their own . . .
Until she hears the telephone!

She fights
To stay up late of nights;
And sometimes while she sleeps,
She weeps.

Striving to reach sixteen's estate—
O fair
Miss Silken Hair!
Who herds her days like flocks
Of naughty sheep, urging them to race upon
The sweet green lawn
Of time. Unheeding how a gate unlocks
By unseen hands—letting each lamb and ewe
Soundlessly flitter thru
And out of view.

Do I need to say more to you whose daughter is about 13? Do I need to say more than this poem says to help you thru the times when you look on and listen with bewilderment and love, with irritation and affection—when you want one minute to scold and the next to hover with tenderness; then feel tears ready to spring as you look on at your own little girl, sometimes a boisterous tomboy, rushing headlong toward young womanhood?

Read this lovely, discerning poem again. It will help you to patience and understanding.

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Ed S., Chicago—When I want to press a piece of rayon, dress, waist, etc., on right side, I press over a piece of cellophane. This eliminates danger of any uneven shine. I press many silk pieces the same way, with just a warm iron.

Mrs. Harold H., Oak Park—We broke our toaster, and don't like oven toast. Accordingly we took out our skillet, heated a bit of butter in it, and then fried bread on both sides. And was it good! We now call it our French toast.

Anne H., Racine, Wis.—I don't take any more chances of burning my fingers in adding water to a steaming hot teakettle. I just add water thru the spout.

A Miss of 14 Is Told Way to an Evening of Fun

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

On the SOLID side

Here comes a question from a junior miss—a young character who wants some answers on the "who, when, and how" angles of dating, but quickly! Her story goes this way:

"I will be 14 years old in March and I, and several other girls in our crowd about the same age, wonder what should be the recreation for girls and boys our age? We'll all be going into high school next year, and often things come up about which we don't agree with our parents. We'd like to know at what hours we should be in at night and where we should be allowed to go. Should we be allowed to go out on dates? Should we be allowed to have girls and boys visit our homes? Most of us will end up doing what our mothers and fathers say anyway—but we'd like to know what you think."

The right answers to these questions just aren't in the book because they vary with each new honeychile and each new set of circumstances. First, about dating. If your mother gives the okay, then curl up your hair, put on your sack and snood, and have a good time—but take it slow and easy and pick your spots. Make it a movie, a basketball game at school, and a coke and sandwich. All the big time, glamor places will still be there when you're 21.

And what to do with the time on your hands now that you've put away your ball and jacks and have taken to wearing lipstick. The same activities should interest the lower-teen group as do the upper-age brackets—movies, sports, music, and reading. But the big difference is that below 16 these "activities" aren't usually enjoyed in exclusive boy-girl combinations. It's more fun to have the whole crowd do things together. Get up a skating party. Get several girls to go to a movie together on a Friday night or, better still, get a group together, plain or mixed, to come over to your home some night. Your mother will love it, if you tell her about it long enough beforehand.

About that zero hour when a gal should check in, most parents are lenient about setting the clock—if you let them know definitely where you are going, with whom and how, and at what time you expect to be home—and if you keep your word! Ten o'clock is a nice round hour to get home if you are at a movie or visiting a friend and 12 o'clock for something super-special.

Film Treatment of Delinquency Is Inexpert Job

"WHERE ARE YOUR CHILDREN?"

A Monogram picture, directed by William Nigh, featuring Jackie Cooper, Gale Storm, Patricia Morison, and John Litel, and presented at the Garrick.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

I am much displeased with this picture.

My displeasure was born when I saw the trailers advertising it. . . . Cheap, sensational advertising, pandering to low adult inquisitiveness and adolescent curiosity and yen for thrills. Then—I saw the movie.

"Where Are Your Children?" is a clumsily handled "expose" of what goes on with our untended boys and girls and essays to solve their problems—chief being parental conduct.

Now this is a timely and tremendously important subject. But it's one for the surgery and not for the sidewalk. . . . One to be approached with high intelligence and clean hands, not to be bandied about on movie screens before promiscuous audiences—heralded by publicity scareheads such as these:

"First Smashing Drama of Juvenile Delinquency to Reach the Screen" . . . "Smashing Drama of a Generation on the Loose" . . . "What's Going on Behind the Backs of You Adults?" . . . "Today's Youth on the Wildest Rampage of All Time" . . . "Wild Youth, 'Juke Joints' in Film of Juvenile Crime . . ."

Jackie Cooper, Gale Storm, John Litel, and several others in the cast do the best that could be done with their roles. . . . Much that happens in the story could—and does—happen every day. . . . But, as presented, the film is a sensation monger instead of the fine, searching, constructive motion picture it might have been.

See you tomorrow.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Chicago area alumnae of Sigma Kappa sorority are engaged in two projects in behalf of service men. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Freeman S. Church they are making scrapbooks of special interests, such as art, music, the theater, and serial stories, which the U. S. O. distributes to recreation centers at camps.

The second project is sponsorship of a performance of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness" at the Goodman theater the evening of Feb. 15. Proceeds of the performance will go to the alumnae's magazine fund for service men, whereby subscriptions to sailors' and soldiers' favorite magazines are given to camp and ship libraries, recreation rooms, and reading rooms.

Tickets to the theater party, at $1.10 each, may be obtained by calling Miss Marian Bigelow any evening at Diversey 7948, or by writing to her at 2742 North Hampden court. Miss Bigelow is president of the Sigma Kappa alumnae in Chicago.

Mrs. Church's committee is composed of chairmen of each of the four member groups: Mrs. George Menard of the north shore alumnae, Mrs. Wesley Gault of the south side unit, Mrs. Robert W. Milow of the Oak Park-River Forest group, and Miss Muriel Rodley of the loop business girls' unit.

The Navy Mothers' Club of Chicago, Inc., with headquarters at 335 North Michigan avenue, elected a new panel of officers at its January meeting. Heading the board as president is Mrs. C. Ashley Deneen. The four vice presidents are Mrs. Hartford Kolb, Mrs. Henry Fecht, Mrs. Ralph Jennings, and Mrs. Jay A. Seadler. Mrs. George Meister is treasurer; Mrs. Lavina Edwards, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Della Rothermel, recording secretary.

The club's plans for this month include a party for navy families and their friends at 8 p. m. Jan. 21 in the clubrooms.

Committee chairmen appointed for 1944 include Mrs. Leo Stumphy, canteen; Mrs. Edward Chandler, historian; Mrs. Louis J. Winkels, ways and means; Mrs. Stephen Rohman, membership, and Mrs. Max Ritzwoller, social.

Other chairmen are Mrs. J. J. Lipp, Travelers Aid; Mrs. F. Schoenwolf, memorial; Mrs. James D. Davidson, war stamps and bonds; Mrs. Anna Dowling, welfare, and Mrs. Helen Joyce, publicity.

The American Camp and Hospital service, a Chicago women's organization whose president is Mrs. Louis Green, is furnishing a visitors' and recreation room at the Naval Air Technical Training center, 87th and Anthony streets. The project is being undertaken under the auspices of the camp and hospital committee of the Chicago chapter, American Red Cross. Mrs. Rudolph W. Glasner is volunteer chairman of the committee.

The club, with headquarters at 540 Briar place, will have a membership tea Monday. Furnishing of the room is the organization's first project since it was formed recently.

Mrs. Benjamin C. Rose is membership chairman; Miss M. Karel Spak, entertainment chairman, and Mrs. Ida Weller, chairman of the board of directors.

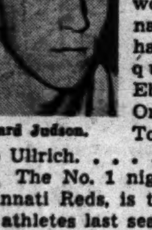
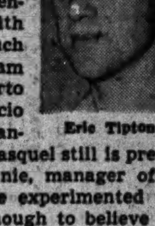
In the WAKE of the NEWS

[While Arch Ward, regular conductor of The Wake, is enjoying his vacation, the column will be prepared by members of the sports staff.]

LORENE MILLS, a filly named for Mrs. Doug Mills, wife of the University of Illinois athletic director and basketball coach, will make its debut on Chicago district tracks this summer. . . . The horse is the property of Pete Adams Jr. of Urbana. . . . Wish Egan, who will be proprietor of the Detroit Tigers' press headquarters at the Evansville spring camp, has sent word to all prospective patrons to bring along their ration books. . . . Otherwise, Wish warns, there will be no cheese in the ice box, and Egan is a No. 1 cheese enthusiast. . . . If trick names mean anything the Senators already have won the 1944 American league pennant. . . . President Clark Griffith has assembled chattels with such quaint appendages as William Ebranyi, Olivrio Ortiz, Roberto Ortiz, Francisco Quintis, Epitacio Torres, Gilberto Torres, and Santiago Ullrich. . . . And, of course, Alejandro Carrasquel still is present. . . . The No. 1 nightmare of placid Bill McKechnie, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is the left field position, where he experimented with nine athletes last season. . . . Bill is optimistic enough to believe that Eric Tipton will be the answer to his prayers next summer. . . . One reason Connie Mack traded Roger Wolff to the Senators for Tourist Buck Newsom was to relieve Catcher Hal Wagner from Roger's nefarious knucklers, which, according to Connie, sprained Hal's fingers and hurt his game. . . . Ziggy Sears reports great improvement in his physical condition at his home in Texas. . . . He expects to be calling 'em again in the National league in 1944. . . . Howard Judson, the Hebron [Ill.] freshman forward on the Illinois basketball team, is said to have as expert touch as Andy Phillip, ace scorer of the Big Ten champions last season. . . . He still lacks Andy's versatility, however. . . .



Howard Judson.



Eric Tipton.

Soldier Joe Whalen, former professional tennis star, reports that he has run across some pretty fair courts on isolated South Pacific islands. . . . Harold Olsen of the Ohio State basketball squad, believes he has in Sophomore Don Grate one of the greatest prospects in Buckeye history. . . . A perforated ear drum kept the 6 foot 2 inch forward out of military service. . . . At any rate, the headline writers should have a lot of fun with Don's last name. . . . Jackie Fields, the former welterweight champion, passed his army examination despite a glass eye. . . . Coach Earle [Greasy] Neale of the Phil-Pitt Eagles is the only man who both coached a Rose bowl eleven and played in a world series. . . . He was in the 1919 baseball play-off and handled Washington and Jefferson in the 1922 Pasadena contest.

The Leper.

St. Francis felt repulsion at the sight
Of a poor leper whom he met one day,
And, tho his feelings made him take to flight
And let the wretched leper go his way,
Something within his inmost bosom said:
"This is your fellowman; draw nigh and speak!"
And suddenly he overcame his dread
And kissed the sorry leper on the cheek.

Each one of us will meet in life somewhere
A neighbor or a duty that repels,
A person or a task we cannot bear
Because the human element rebels;
But if our hearts would know enduring bliss
We, too, must greet our leper with a kiss.
T. E. B.

God had a dream in the red of the sun
At end of a bright day of peace,
White was the vision when dreaming was done

He gave us that dream of red, white and blue
And blessed it . . . and called it . . . our flag.

Sound Effects.

There is a beat of a tom-tom,
The stamping of horses that prance,
There is the pound of a hammer,
The rhythmic drum of a dance.

There is the sound of a tattoo,
The pulse of a heart at love's glance,
There is the beat in three-quarters,
The music of youth and romance.

There is a throb that will linger,
And accent no rhythm can beat—
But the thrill of them all is the cadence,
The music of marching feet.

Tread softly lest you overlook our need;
Fond mem'ries linger—friends of yesteryear,
Are treasures of the heart—we hold most dear;
Do not trample them 'neath thy feet we pray
But bring them back, to guide us on the way;
Old friends, like old wine, truly are the best—
They wear so well, they've stood life's hardest test;
Our faith in God—the church bells' sacred chime—
A treasured peace, enthroned in heavenly rhyme;
As we look back upon those childhood days—
A warming sun, a brilliant million rays—
Which crowd the mind with recollections sweet,
A wond'rous heritage, making life complete.
Yes, youthful year, a bargain we would make,
We'll trust your judgment and your orders take.
We'll ride astride your prancing steed and do
"Unto others, as they would do to you."
That's our promise—you must preserve the past,
Whose glorious mem'ries will forever last.
F. Sumner Ettinger.

A radio operator in the amphibious force, Stephens was wounded when his ship, returning to Africa after 35 days in Italy, was torpedoed. He has recovered and is on active duty. Stephens enlisted in the spring of 1942 and went overseas after completing his recruit training at Great Lakes.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 6 (AP).—The Toronto Maple Leafs moved into a second place tie in the National Hockey league standings tonight by inflicting a 6 to 1 defeat on the Chicago Blackhawks. The defeat was the Hawks' fifth straight and their ninth consecutive loss of the season away from home.

Rookie Tom O'Neill paced the Leafs with two goals—the first of his National Hockey league career—while Goalie Paul Bibeault played an outstanding game in the nets and Center Gus Bodnar performed sensationally.

Amateur Scores for Hawks.

The lone Chicago goal was scored by George Grigor—one of two Toronto Mercantile league players brought up for a one night performance by the Hawks under the lease-lend system. Grigor got his tally unassisted in the second period. The other lease-lend player was Whitey Farrant.

Bulwark of the Chicago team, both offensively and defensively, was big Earl Seibert. The veteran was a constant threat on the attack.

BEAU JACK AND COSTANTINO TO BATTLE TONIGHT

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—Beau Jack will make his 1944 bow in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night against Lulu Costantino of New York's east side and the fans have made the Negro a 3 to 1 choice to win.

They will not be surprised, tho, whatever happens as they recall his erratic showing of last year. He lost one 1943 fight after having been made the 1 to 3 favorite, dropped another as a 1 to 9 choice, and then regained his New York version of the lightweight championship as a 3 to 1 underdog.

BIG TEN TEAMS CLASH IN FOUR GAMES TONIGHT

Wisconsin, Illinois Meet for Second Time.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

University of Chicago fieldhouse and Chicago Stadium are the sites for two of the eight Western conference basketball games which will be played tonight and tomorrow night and which involve all members of the Big Ten except Ohio State. Purdue opens its conference campaign tonight against the Maroons and Wisconsin and Northwestern headline the Stadium program tomorrow evening.

Ward Lambert, who is beginning his 27th year as Purdue's basketball coach, will arrive early this afternoon with a squad of 14 Boilermaker players. While Purdue scarcely can lose to Chicago, Lambert is hopeful that the game will serve to smooth out his coaching problems in view of the test tomorrow night in Lafayette against Indiana university.

Bill Lodge Not Eligible.

Bill Lodge, Purdue's high scoring forward, who has been placed on restriction as a V-12 trainee because of a scholastic deficiency, will not play against Chicago. It is doubtful if he will be available tomorrow night. Purdue will start Paul Hoffman and Dennis Horn, freshmen forwards; John McPherson, freshman center, and Paul Friend and Charles Haag, guards. Others making the trip for the Chicago game are James Gustafson, Stephen Frazier, John Kennedy, Howard Schmidt, Chalmers Elliott, Mitchell Sokol, Edward Umverzagt, William Cline, and Mac Sullivan.

Chicago also has a part in tomorrow night's Stadium double-header. The Maroons meet De Paul university's undefeated quintet in the second game. Before this contest Amos Alonzo Stagg, College of Pacific football coach who was chosen as "Football's Man of the Year" will be presented with a miniature football by John Schommer on behalf of the Order of the C, the university lettermen's association.

Badgers Meet Illini.

Northwestern and Wisconsin have most important games tonight before they meet tomorrow evening in the Stadium. The Badgers play Illinois at Champaign while the Wildcats open the conference season at Michigan. Illinois whipped the Badgers, 45 to 43, in an overtime game Monday night in Madison.

If the Illini win tonight they will even the all time series with Wisconsin at 30 victories each. Coach Doug Mills will rely on the same starting five that defeated Wisconsin last Monday. Ray Demoulin, regular guard, will not finish the season, however, since the Mulberry Grove, Ill., freshman was inducted into the army yesterday. During his 21 day furlough he will play in five conference games.

Michigan Lineup Revised.

Michigan, which has won three games and lost two in nonconference competition, will have a revised lineup for Northwestern tonight. Michigan's star half back of the recent football season, Elroy Hirsch, moves to center. In the absence of John Leddy, who is not available for the games with Northwestern and Illinois this week end, Dave Strack will be returned to his former guard position to pair with Don Lund. Tom King will start at forward and the other forward will be named from four candidates, Bob Wiese, Wayne Thompson, Bob Stevens, and Bruce Hilkene.

Iowa and Minnesota meet in games tonight and tomorrow night in Minneapolis. The Hawks, by their splendid pre-season showing, are favored over the Gophers. Dick Ives, high scoring forward, and Lloyd Herwig, center, will lead the Iowa attack.

Rejected Twice, Ruffin Finally Is a Soldier

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—Bobby Ruffin, 23 year old Long Island lightweight, has passed his army induction test and is to report at Fort Dix on Jan. 26. He will go thru with his Jan. 14 bout with Tippy Larkin in Madison Square Garden but it is doubtful if he will be able to keep his scheduled date with Bummy Davis in the same arena on Feb. 18. On two previous occasions Ruffin failed to pass his induction examination.

READY FOR SILVER SKATES

Tho the opening session of the annual Tribune Silver Skates Derbies will not be held until a week from tomorrow, these three boys, all members of the Catholic Youth organization team, are ready for the event. John Klemundt (left) won the 1943 juvenile boys' title and therefore must move up to the intermediate class this year. Buddy Solem (center), another leading contender in the intermediate division, won the midget boys' championship in 1937. Don Laser (right), the 1942 juvenile Silver Skates title holder, ranks second in the junior division this season on the basis of points scored in earlier meets. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

C.Y.O. AND PEIRCE RENEW SILVER SKATES RIVALRY

They'll Defend Titles in 27th Derbies Jan. 15.

The Catholic Youth organization and Peirce playground are defending the trophies annually offered in the Tribune Silver Skates Derbies which will be presented for the 27th time in Garfield park Jan. 15 and 16. The C. Y. O. is defending team champion while the youngsters from Peirce playground, coached by Fred Gohl, received the silver trophy last year for the largest number of contestants reporting for the preliminary races.

The team scoring the largest number of points in the eight Derbies—five places are counted in each—annually receives the Walter Eckersall Memorial trophy. When a team wins this trophy three times it becomes a permanent possession. Two such trophies now have been retired but, because it is impossible to duplicate the award at this time, the silver shaft, which was won last year by the C. Y. O. for the third time, will be continued in competition. The name of each club winning the trophy is attached to the base on a silver plate.

Peirce Will Be Out to Win.

While the team entry from Peirce playground has not been received, it is certain that the team will make every effort to retain its trophy. The number of entries does not count. The award is made on the number of skaters who report Jan. 15 and 16 and compete in the preliminaries.

While entries for this year's races will be accepted until midnight Monday, the individual entry blank will not be published after Sunday. Team entries may be filed until Monday midnight, either on the special blank which has been distributed to the parks and playgrounds, or on other suitable sheets of paper. The age of each contestant must be furnished and verified in event the contestant wins any of the 48 major awards or one of the medals in the qualifying races.

And Still They Come.

Team entries were received yesterday from Barrett playground, 2022 Cermak road; Robert Trebes Recreation center, 2218 Clifton avenue; Tilton playground, 305 North Kostner avenue, and Meyering playground, 7140 South Park avenue. In the list of girls submitted by Mary Barrett, instructor at the latter playground, are Suzanne and Donna Meyering, daughters of William Meyering, former sheriff of Cook count, for whom the playground is named.

Chicago skaters will have a fine week-end in which to continue the winter program and prepare for the Silver Skates Derbies. Sixty-nine playgrounds operated by the board of education will compete in their annual meet tomorrow at the north pond in Lincoln park. The midget and junior skaters will report at 10 a. m. and the intermediate and seniors will compete at 1:30 p. m.

The Foresters' 10th annual meet will be held tomorrow afternoon at Garfield park and the Tri-State meet, sponsored by the C. Y. O., is scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

HIALEAH TRACK REOPENS TODAY

Inaugural Handicap Has Field of 17.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 6 (AP).—The cry "They're off" will startle the flamingos in the infield lake tomorrow, and Hialeah Park will inaugurate a 50 day horse race meeting for which the omens are good.

Seventeen horses are entered for the opening day feature, the $5,000 added Inaugural handicap, as owners of the 1,500 thorobreds stabled in the Miami area hurry to cut in on the richest purses of the winter. The six furlong dash shapes up as a good race, with the handicappers giving an advance edge to Poacher, which will be ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

Lowest Purse Is $1,200.

Woolford farm's double threat of Signator and Adulator drew support also, while other pickers strung along with such horses as Cape Cod, Harvard Square, Roman Sox, Shiny Penny, Old Grad, Putitthere, and K. Dorko.

Seeking a fast start after nearly two years of inactivity, Hialeah offers no purse of less than $1,200 for tomorrow's eight race card, and only three events have a value that low. The secondary feature, the seven furlong Fort Dallas, for older horses, is down for $1,700.

Officials Are Confident.

Hialeah opens after a big 20 day winter meeting at Tropical Park, which saw early betting records topple. Hialeah officials are confident that the track will operate in the black after remaining closed last season because of the pleasure driving ban then in effect. Weights for the Inaugural:

Cape Cod, 122; Signator, 118; Adulator, 105; Grasshopper II., 114; Harvard Square, 114; Roman Sox, 113; Poacher, 112; K. Dorko, 111; Mettlesome, 110; Putitthere, 110; Shiny Penny, 109; Old Grad, 108; Eric Knight, 106; Dream Parade, 106; Noonday Sun, 105; Weatherite, 101, and Vim, 95.

TROPICAL SETS BET RECORD.

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—Tropical Park's early winter 20 day meeting closed today with a new record in betting established at $7,109,922, a daily average of $355,496.

A getaway throng of 5,119 was on hand to see Ariel Flight, owned by S. Feinberg, squeeze thru to win by a nose in the featured $1,500 Indian Creek purse.

Bob Muhlke, Auto Racer, Is Rejected by Army

Miami, Fla., Jan. 6 [Special].—Bob Muhlke of Chicago, driver of midget racing cars, has been rejected by his local No. 9 draft board, it was revealed here today. Muhlke reported for his physical examination yesterday.

Fort Sheridan Loses, 76-52, to Bluejackets

The Great Lakes basketball team last night scored its ninth victory in 11 games as it overwhelmed the Fort Sheridan quintet, 76 to 52, in the Great Lakes drill hall.

The 2,500 spectators, including recruits, officers and guests, saw all 15 members of the Bluejacket squad get into the lineup and saw every man score at least one basket.

Foley Scores 18.

Herman Schaefer, former Indiana university star, led the Sailors in the scoring column with 13 points on six field goals and one free throw.

Dick Foley, a mainstay for Illinois until last week, was the high point man of the evening, however, as he tallied 18 points on seven baskets and four free throws for the Soldiers.

Sheridan's Eighth Loss.

The Bluejackets took a 42 to 21 half time advantage and never were headed. It was Fort Sheridan's eighth loss in 17 contests. Lineups:

BINGHAM NAMED RULES CHAIRMAN

N. C. A. A. Tournaments to Be Continued.

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—William J. Bingham, graduate manager of athletics at Harvard but now in the army, was named chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic association football rules committee today and a meeting of the group likely will be called within a month to consider code changes.

Bingham, whose school was the only Ivy league institution to give up football last fall, now is a lieutenant colonel and stationed with the first service command in Boston. He will be able to spend some time on rules problems despite his military duties. He succeeds the late Walter R. Okeson of Lehigh university, who died late last fall.

E. C. Krieger of Ohio university was the only newcomer named to the committee and was appointed secretary.

Retains Presidency.

Philip O. Badger, the New York university president whose tenure as president of the N. C. A. A. is frozen until the end of the war, said his organization would hold tournaments in the various sports where feasible and where the limitations of travel restrictions, lack of man power, and shortage of facilities can be overcome.

Yale already has asked for permission to be host to the swimmers, and the tennis tourney has been awarded Northwestern university. Sites of the others will be determined later, and the possibility of another Red Cross benefit basketball game also will be decided sometime in the future.

Wyoming, 1943 N. C. A. A. basketball champion, and St. John's university, winner of the national invitational tourney, played for the mercy organization in Madison Square Garden last year before 18,316 fans. Both Kansas City and New York are reported seeking the 1944 N. C. A. A. finals.

Rules Broadened.

At the same time, Badger said that the N. C. A. A. eligibility rules for all tournaments had been broadened to permit undergraduates to compete a fourth time. Previously the rules prohibiting freshmen and athletes who had transferred from another school within a year were dropped.

Today's meeting of the N. C. A. A. executive committee took the place of the usual holiday convention in an effort to hold civilian travel to a minimum.

Chairmen of all the various sports committees were reappointed except for the selection of Bingham in football, and in golf.

BARWEGEN AND PIHOS RECEIVE CALLS TO ARMY

Football Stars Will Leave Purdue and Indiana.

Pete Pihos of Indiana university and Dick Barwegen of Purdue, two of Chicago's greatest football players, who began the season as teammates on THE TRIBUNE'S All-Star squad, met in the annual battle for the Old Oaken Bucket, and finished as teammates playing for the East against the West in San Francisco New Year's day, will enter the army tomorrow. They will report at Fort Sheridan.

Pihos was chosen as a starting end on the All-Star eleven which defeated Washington, 27 to 7. A graduate of Austin High school, Pihos was outstanding in his sophomore year and continued his suberb play this season for the Hoosiers. He has been ordered to report for induction at Fort Sheridan.

Barwegen, a former star at Fenger High school, also starred in the game in Dyche stadium last August and continued as one of Purdue's all-time great guards on the squad which went thru nine games undefeated and tied with Michigan for the Western conference championship. Barwegen was named Purdue's most valuable football player by his teammates.

Barwegen has been a member of the army enlisted reserve corps. He reports to Fort Sheridan for active duty.

Catholic Prep Quintets Open Play Tonight

BY FRANK NORRIS.

Twelve members of the Catholic High school league will commence their campaigns for the basketball crown in both the junior and senior divisions tonight. Three double headers will be played in each the north and south sections of the conference. Two teams, Weber in the north and Catholic High of Joliet in the south, draw byes tonight. Both will begin their league schedules Sunday evening.

Defending champion in both divisions is the Mount Carmel Caravan, coached by Jack Tracy. The senior team which vanquished Kelvyn Park, the City league champion, 48 to 24, last March in the Stadium for the city-wide crown, is currently riding the crest of a 24 game winning streak. Closing its splendid season last year with 15 straight victories, the Caravan has already compiled a streak of nine this season during which it marched to the championship of the annual St. George pre-season senior tournament.

Open Against De Paul.

The Caravan draws De Paul academy as its initial south section opponent tonight on the Mount Carmel court. Other south section engagements tonight match Leo against De La Salle on the latter's floor and St. Mel invades St. Rita.

In the north section, St. George, defending senior champion, now under the direction of Max Burnell, its football coach and athletic director, plays host to Fenwick of Oak Park.

Gaels Face Loyola.

Clem Naughton's St. Philip Gaels, the only undefeated Catholic league junior team after a hectic pre-season practice session which saw the Gaels capture the championship of the 5th annual Fenwick tourney, travels to Loyola academy to begin its campaign for the north section junior title.

96 Bowling Fives to Roll at Schalk's

Most of the boys who earn at least a portion of their livelihood by bowling, will assemble tomorrow at Ray Schalk's Evergreen Towers establishment, 2535 West 95th street, where the eighth annual Ray Schalk Five-Man Holiday sweepstakes will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Ninety-six teams, the full complement permitted, will fire for the $1,000 top prize money and other rewards which total $4,800, in four shifts tomorrow and Sunday afternoon. Two squads of 24 teams each will bowl tomorrow night, one at 8 o'clock, the other at 11. The third shift will begin Sunday afternoon at 2 and the final group will start its shooting at 5 o'clock.

Bowl in Tribune Tourney.

Many of the stars who will participate bowled in the recent National individual match game tournament, conducted by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors Association of America on the Auditorium alleys of the service men's center.

The lanes in the service men's center, incidentally, will benefit directly from this Schalk sweepstakes. Altho, as in other years, no admission charge will be made, eight hostesses will be permitted to solicit donations from the crowd, the entire amount of which will be turned over to Mayor Edward J. Kelly for helping to maintain the service men's alleys.

16 to Share Prizes.

The entry list closely resembles a Who's Who of the tenpin sport with the defending champion Monarch Beers, captained by Bill Flesch and anchored by Buddy Bomar, among the chief contenders. More than passing interest will center upon the new city champions, the Meister Brau Beers, led by Bill Hargadon.

The teams will bowl four games across eight alleys on a basis of total pins only. There will be 16 prizes, ranging from a $1,000 purse down to $50.

Joe Dugan, Former Big Leaguer, Critically Hurt

Boston, Mass., Jan. 6 (AP).—Joseph Dugan, former star third baseman with the Athletics, Red Sox and Yankees, was in a critical condition tonight at the City hospital suffering from a concussion of the brain and lacerations of the scalp, hospital authorities said. He was hit by an automobile.

6,000 IN DAIRY UNIONS GRANTED INCREASE IN PAY

Report Milk Price Boost Plea to Be Denied.

Wage increases for 4,200 milk wagon drivers and 1,800 inside dairy workers have been granted by the war labor board, officials of the drivers' union and dairy employes union announced yesterday.

Word from Washington also indicated that the office of price administration will turn down a petition by milk dealers for a 1 cent a quart boost in the retail price of milk. The OPA believes the dealers can absorb the added cost of the wage increases, it was said.

The milk wagon drivers, as a result of an order from the WLB signed by Ben Stephansky, executive assistant to the board, will have their base wages increased $2 to $52 a week. The raise is retroactive to May 1, 1943.

$2.80 Raise for Insiders.

The inside workers will have their base wage lifted $2.80 to $50.80 a week. This boost also is retroactive to May 1, 1943.

The wage increases were approved last November on the condition that they would not be used as a basis for an increase in the price of milk. The OPA today notified the WLB that the milk dealers can absorb the added costs.

William Martin, secretary of the Dairy Employes' union, said yesterday that the pay order had been signed by Stephansky, authorizing the pay increase for the inside workers. The union's petition for a wage boost has been pending for several months. It first was approved by Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization.

Dealers Ask for Price Boost.

The dealers then put forward their petition for an increase, and the entire matter was referred to the Chicago OPA for consideration. Unofficial but authoritative sources predict that the OPA will reject the plea for an increase by the dealers.

The Associated Milk Dealers here submitted a report on operating costs and income to the OPA in November. This report then was sent to Washington for consideration by the milk price division of the OPA.

PROSPECT HELD DIM FOR MORE CIVILIAN GOODS

OWI Says Arms Cut Will Aid Little.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 [Special].—The office of war information tonight warned against interpretation of curtailments in some types of war production as harbingers of early resumption of the manufacture of automobiles, refrigerators, sewing machines, and radios for civilians.

At the same time it said widespread unemployment will grip the country if Germany is defeated quickly without serious drain on this country's stores of military equipment. It asserted, however, such an event was "extremely unlikely."

Agencies Study Problems.

In this regard the OWI said a program to handle unexpected unemployment problems was being studied by the army, navy, war man power commission, war production board, and the office of war mobilization. Priority in the resumption of civilian production will be given to the manufacture of replacements and maintenance equipment for the transportation and manufacturing industries, OWI said.

Overproduction and shifting military needs are the major reasons why ordnance plants, steel furnaces, aluminum plants, and other war production projects are being closed down and war workers laid off, OWI said.

Large scale war production retrenchments will not come this year unless Germany is decisively defeated by June or July, OWI said.

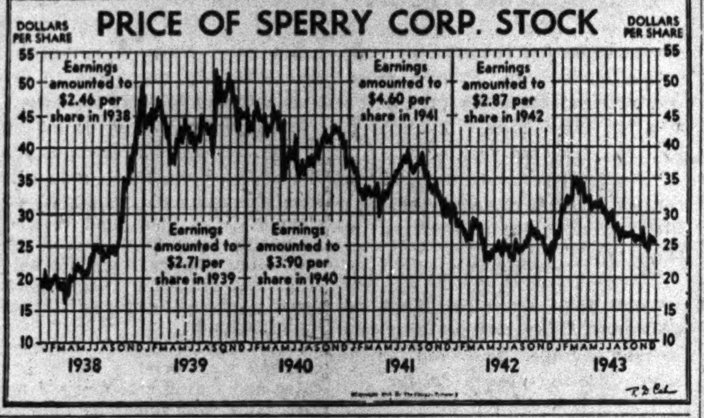
Predicts Larger Output.

In the first comprehensive report in response to newspaper requests for clarification of the government's war production policy, the OWI emphasized that any expansion in civilian goods manufacturing must be considered "purely temporary and subject at all times to a return to military production when required." The agency said war production during 1944 would be substantially larger than last year.

Surplus production of some raw materials and munitions resulted from the gloomy outlook for the allies early in the war, OWI said. It said early production goals had to be set high enough to provide for any contingency.

The overproduction has occurred mainly in small arms and ammunition, tanks, some types of anti-aircraft equipment, noncombat plane production, a 200 per cent expansion in high octane gasoline output, a 50 per cent increase in trucks, and large increases in merchant ships, electronic equipment, big guns, shells, ground ordnance, and signal apparatus.

OWI said the entire 1944 munitions program will be 17 per cent larger than in 1943. The navy department reported its requirements will be nearly one-third more than in 1943—almost 16 billion dollars against 12 billion dollars. During the last six months $2,856,000,000 in naval contracts were canceled, the navy told OWI. In most cases these cuts were made on paper because actual production had not started, OWI said.



CONGRESSMEN WARN GOVERNMENT TO END RATIONING OF PORK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—A group of midwestern congressmen served notice on government food officials today that unless steps are taken at once to free pork from rationing temporarily they would try to force the step by legislation.

The ultimatum was issued at an informal hearing in which a few senators and representatives contended that hog farmers and small packers are incurring big losses because record numbers of hogs are cluttering the markets and packing houses, and not moving normally into retail channels.

CHICAGO GLUT EASED.

The market glut eased at the Chicago stock yards again yesterday, but became more serious at many of the outside marketing points as movement from farms continued above last week.

Altho arrivals in the Chicago yards totaled 24,000 head, compared with 17,588 a week earlier, the carryover last night was reduced slightly more. At the close 14,000 remained unsold, compared with a carryover of 19,000 the night before and 21,000 from Monday into Tuesday.

Steady prices were paid for most of the hogs, with the top and average unchanged, at $13.75 and $13.25 per hundred pounds, respectively. Cattle sold unevenly and lambs were steady.

SEC AUTHORIZES ILLINOIS POWER PRIVATE OFFER

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 6 (AP).—The securities and exchange commission exempted today from competitive bidding requirements Illinois Power company's proposed private offering of 65 million dollars first mortgage and collateral trust bonds, due 1973, and between 4 and 5 millions of 2¾ per cent serial notes.

The bonds will be offered to institutional investors and the notes, maturing serially within a five year period, will be sold to three banks. Chase National Bank of New York has negotiated for half of the note issue; Guaranty Trust Company of New York will buy 37½ per cent, and Harris Trust and Savings bank the remaining 12½ per cent.

British Report Agreement on Money Plans

LONDON, Jan. 7 [Friday]—(AP).—The British and United States treasuries have reached provisional agreement on an international post-war currency plan which is a compromise between the Keynes and White plans "but considerably nearer the latter than the former," the Financial News said today.

In Washington yesterday Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, said the two nations' monetary experts were closer to agreement on currency stabilization plans than they have been "at any time."

The Keynes plan—espoused by John N. Keynes, economist and adviser to the exchequer—proposes to stabilize currencies thru an international clearing union which would have no assets but would permit anticipation on the basis of each nation's world trade.

Provides 8 Billion Fund.

The White plan, drafted by Harry D. White, United States treasury monetary expert, calls for an 8 billion dollar stabilization fund definitely pegged to gold.

The article in the Financial News said the agreement—which is incomplete and excludes points on which there is wide divergence—will be discussed at an impending interallied currency conference in Washington.

The paper said it was learned that the British had agreed to drop some of the principal features of the Keynes plan—including the "bancor scheme." It said "the proposed international institution will not create credit, but simply receive funds from the participating governments and allocate the foreign exchange thus received to countries with adverse trade balances."

Termed Clearing Union.

Under the Keynes plan, which its originator call an International Clearing union, the union would keep its accounts in a currency which he called "bancor." The unit under his plan would be fixed [but not unalterably] in terms of gold and accepted as the equivalent of gold by all members of the union for settling international balances.

18 MILLIONS CHA NOTES AWARDED BANKING GROUP

A group of banks headed by the Chemical Bank and Trust company of New York has been awarded $18,050,000 of short term refunding notes of the Chicago housing authority, Edgar L. Schnadig, treasurer of CHA, announced yesterday.

The interest rate of 0.59 per cent on the one year notes compares with 0.77 per cent paid on similar notes a year ago and means an interest saving of $18,000 for CHA, he said. Notes with six months' maturities bear 0.50 per cent interest. The bids were at par plus a slight premium.

The proceeds will be used to redeem similar outstanding CHA notes used for construction of 3,351 home units.

Lee Rubber's Net Income Increases to 1.2 Millions

Lee Rubber and Tire corporation yesterday reported consolidated profit of $1,241,934, equal to $5.14 a share, during the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, compared with $1,144,765, or $4.74 a share, during the preceding 12 months.

Paper Stock Plan Opposed by Publishers

Creation of a stockpile of newsprint paper to be owned and distributed by the United States government does not accord with independent enterprise in the publishing of newspapers, the Chicago Newspaper Publishers association asserted yesterday in a resolution.

The resolution, copies of which were sent to Donald Nelson, chairman of the war production board, the WPB's newspaper advisory council, and the American Newspaper Publishers' association, declared the stockpile plan was "neither necessary nor practicable," that it "will not operate in the interests of our military forces," and that it should be abandoned.

Asks Immediate Availability.

It urged the WPB and the newsprint industry advisory committee to consider the "wisdom and desirability of amending order L-240" to permit current production to be made immediately available to publishers.

Prior to adoption of the resolution, members of the association considered the stockpile plan, the "present critical situation arising from the newsprint consumption curtailment order which went into effect Jan. 1 as an amendment to order L240," and the latest estimates of Canadian newsprint production.

Raise Original Estimate.

The Canadian government originally estimated it could provide 182,000 tons of newsprint during the first quarter of this year, but later reported it could supply 200,000 tons. It was proposed then that the additional amount be placed in a government stockpile.

The Chicago Newspaper Publishers association includes the Herald-American, Journal of Commerce, News, Sun, Times, and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

BABCOCK PLANS NEW TYPE PRESS AFTER WAR ENDS

Plans for reconverting its operations from war munitions to its former civilian business of building printing presses when peace returns are under consideration by the Babcock Printing Press corporation, New London, Conn., Noah MacDowell, president, disclosed yesterday. In the post-war period the company will embark on the building of newspaper printing presses, a new venture, he said.

The company in past years has largely confined its activities to the building of magazine, job, and related lines of printing presses.

MacDowell said the company, nearly 100 per cent in war work for the last two years, started its war activity three years ago. It has made 90 mm. high explosive anti-aircraft shells and 50 calibre twin gun mounts for the British, and has handled various projects for army ordnance, the air corps, and the navy.

"In our new newspaper press we expect to incorporate quite a few innovations, one or two of which we believe may prove quite startling," MacDowell said.

Chicago capital reportedly is interested in the venture.

Wheat Sold Heavily at Ceiling

A large volume of May wheat sold at ceiling prices on the major grain exchanges yesterday as traders awaited clarification of the new regulations which are expected to remain in effect at least until the new wheat crop is harvested next July.

The sales reflected evening up operations by cash interests and shorts. Mills were heavy buyers against sales of flour to the army and for lend-lease. All trading was at $1.71⅝ a bushel, the temporary price ceiling on futures.

The deferred deliveries of wheat were stronger, but failed to hold the tops because of profit taking, and closing prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were ⅛ to ⅝ cent higher.

Rye, Barley Futures Climb.

All rye and barley futures were higher early with commission house buying sending prices upward 1 cent or more. However, the advance brought profit taking and a reaction resulted. May futures of both grains were under the most pressure. Rye finished ⅛ to ⅜ cent higher and barley was ½ cent lower to 1 cent higher. Oats gained ¼ to ⅝ cent.

Directors of the Board of Trade are scheduled to hold a special meeting today to decide whether the temporary ceiling of $1.71⅝ for futures will be changed.

Meet to Discuss Ceilings.

Grain men will meet with the OPA in Chicago today to start discussions on permanent oats price ceilings. The OPA established temporary maximums on oats on Dec. 4 at 80½ cents a bushel for No. 3 white, Chicago basis.

The government representatives will use the information obtained from the grain trade as a guide in formulating regulations to be used in handling the grain.

A controversy has developed as to what constitutes parity price for rye, Chicago basis, as the result of the steep price advance recently. Trade estimates ranged from $1.31 to $1.38 a bushel. May rye sold at $1.31 at one time yesterday.

RAILS TO MEET 1944 DEMANDS, CHIEFS PREDICT

U.S. Control Viewed as Temporary.

How well the railroads have met their war test was reported yesterday by three Chicago executives at a "Railroad President's day" luncheon in the Palmer House, sponsored by the Mid-West Shippers' Advisory board and the Traffic Club of Chicago. These men expressed belief the roads will meet all 1944 traffic demands.

Col. Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington and army representative in charge of the central railroads under government control, said he believed federal control of the roads—assumed when the unions were threatening a strike—would be temporary. He said he believed no one in government or out wished it continued. Meantime, with operations proceeding smoothly, he said the best thing that those exercising military control over the roads can do is "nothing."

Better Service Is Planned.

Budd said that after the war the railroads will rely on better and more attractive service for passengers and freight and will do their utmost to keep their costs down so that charges may be maintained at the lowest possible levels.

"The first and most obvious thing will be for the carriers to resume purchase of cars and locomotives of advanced types and to get still better ones as rapidly as possible," he said. "Perfection of track and signals will enable the railroads to offer faster schedules."

Asserting that the roads will not buy more of the standard heavyweight equipment, he said that only about 6 per cent of existing passenger equipment consists of lightweight cars and this situation offers the possibility for expansion.

Few Made Because of Cost.

He said only an insignificant part of the 2 million freight cars is lightweight, and that the lightweight freight car has not been perfected because of its cost, an important factor in commercial transportation. The best that can be said is that good semi-light freight cars have been built, he asserted. He expects the problem to be solved, however, and that railroads will get lighter cars, altho not of the extremely light weight justified in passenger service.

J. L. Bevan, president of the Illinois Central railroad, said he doesn't know how reliable estimates in some quarters are that 1944 demands for service will be much larger than in previous years, but he is certain the railroads will be able to meet them. This is on the assumption the railroads will get needed materials and sufficient man power, he said.

Bevan said that despite strike threats the loyalty and patriotism of railroad employes are as sound and stable as for any group in the country. He lauded the rank and file workers for their hard work in keeping the roads running.

Lauds Aid of Shippers.

H. A. Scandrett, trustee of the Milwaukee road, told how the cooperation of shippers had been an important factor in the successful way the railroads have met war demands. He said shippers have been prompt in loading and unloading cars and have cleaned cars well so they could be returned to service without having to stand idle while the railroads cleaned them.

He said the things the railroads have done during the war to improve service have been the installation of centralized traffic control, with an estimated increase in capacity of single tracks by 50 per cent, the lengthening of many tracks to accommodate longer trains, the building of more tracks, as well as new yard tracks.

New Clause Expected to Aid War Contract Terminations

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—The White House is expected to issue within the next few days a new standard clause for inclusion in all government war contracts covering contract termination procedures.

Constructed out of a great variety of clauses presently in use by the war, navy, and other government purchasing agencies, the new provision will be made a standard part of all new contracts and the government will undertake it in all old contracts.

Submitted to Baruch.

It was worked out by interested government agencies and submitted to Bernard M. Baruch, President Roosevelt's post-war readjustment expert, who has undertaken to evolve a complete program for the reconversion of industry to peacetime production and employment.

Issuance of the clause is the first step in his program. It climaxes more than two years of work aimed at standardizing termination provisions and procedures. The over-all effect, Baruch and his associates hope, will be to simplify termination procedures for those companies which hold many war contracts from different agencies.

Covers Initial Procedures.

The new provision was not designed to solve any of the deeper problems of reconversion, such as disposal of surplus materials, protection for sub-contractors, payments to prime contractors or other adjustments between government and private industry which will become acute as soon as the war ends.

Baruch has a governmental committee working on these problems, but its general report is not ready for submission to President Roosevelt. The termination clause was rushed because it covers the initial technical procedures to be followed by private industry in seeking a settlement on terminated contracts.

Stock Market Ends Mixed; Rails Are Firm

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—Stock prices were unsettled by profit taking today and the close was irregular. Rails and specialties were strong exceptions.

The fact that the rallies Tuesday and yesterday were among the most substantial of the last year caused a number of customers to trim commitments on the idea reinvestment purchasing by early December tax sellers may have been completed and that a technical correction was a possibility.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.1 of a point at 50.5.

Armour preferred jumped 15 points to 105 on sales of 220 shares. The common was up ½ at 5⅞.

BONDS CLOSE HIGHER.

New York, Jan. 6 (AP).—The bond market had to contend with profit taking today, but had sufficient strength to absorb offerings without much difficulty and close a little higher.

A group of medium priced rails caused most of the trouble by coming into rather liberal supply at one time but many issues recovered from the day's lowest prices before the close.

CHICAGO STOCKS GAIN.

Price changes were again mainly higher yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Armour, the volume leader, rose ⅝, and Swift & Co. was among five stocks selling at new 1943-'44 highs. Among other active issues, Central-Illinois Securities and Utah Radio Products made small gains, Radio Corporation of America was off slightly, and Libby, McNeill & Libby unchanged. New peaks were attained by Middle West corporation which failed to hold its advance, Central Illinois Public Service preferred, Raytheon Manufacturing, and North West Utilities 7 per cent preferred.

SHIPYARD WORKERS QUIT PORTLAND AREA, OPERATORS REPORT

Portland, Ore., Jan. 6 [Special].—Confirming reports of a large emigration of Portland area war workers, Edgar B. Kaiser, vice president and manager of the Kaiser shipbuilding interests in Portland and Vancouver, Wash., today said plant records show that 3,300 workers left their jobs during the period of Dec. 11 to Jan. 2.

Whether these workers quit because of flu, the recent establishment of a six-day instead of a seven-day week, or simply because they think the war is about over and want to return to their homes in the middle west and elsewhere, Kaiser officials said they were unable to say.

Several Portland business leaders said recent statements of government officials have led to a growing belief that the war is near an end and the thousands drawn into the northwest by lush war jobs are moving to get back to their old homes, in order to get the "first crack" at any civilian jobs that may be available.

TERMS FEDERAL FARM AID BAN ON INVESTMENT

Northwestern National Life Insurance company would like to invest more liberally in farm mortgages, but is unable to do so because the government is financing the farmer, O. J. Arnold, president, told Chicago agency representatives yesterday in the Morrison hotel.

During 1943 the company invested nearly all its premium income in government securities, Arnold said.

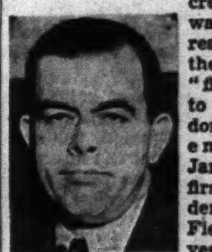
FREE BUSINESS NATION'S HOPE, SAYS PALMER

Field Official Tells Post-War Outlook.

Excellent opportunities for business and for the individual will be created after the war, but will be realized only "if the nation can "find some way to preserve freedom of individual enterprise," James L. Palmer, first vice president of Marshall Field & Co., said yesterday.



James L. Palmer.

Sound economic policies are required of government, industry, and labor to weather the economic upheavals of war, and dislocations of production are likely to become more numerous and more serious as 1944 progresses, he told members of the Bond Club of Chicago at a meeting in the Palmer House.

Real Test to Come.

Palmer, who has been active in Chicago civic affairs and has served as adviser to several governmental agencies, said that the nation will face its "real test" after the defeat of Japan in "finding ways of keeping 55 million persons employed, far more than in any previous peacetime year."

Meeting the test, he said, demands "tremendous physical output of goods at low prices," under sound economic policies which include:

1. The philosophy of scarcity, so prevalent in the '30s, must be abandoned. It has pervaded the government, and has been by no means rarely found in industry, labor and agriculture.

2. Efforts must be concentrated on the achievement of low prices, for in no other way can tremendous physical production be absorbed.

3. Illegal and anti-social monopolistic practices must be destroyed, whether in industry, labor or agriculture. Their very purpose is high prices, which bring scarcity, reduce demand, and reduce output.

Urges Reasonable Incentives.

4. Industry and all those who work must be supplied with reasonable incentives, financial and otherwise. The whole system of business taxation must be overhauled if capital is to be induced to take new risks.

5. Industry and government must exploit every available market to the utmost. The commercial and industrial development of Russia, China, Africa and the Pacific islands provides tremendous opportunities for American industry if the foreign trade policies of this and other countries are liberalized. We cannot sell abroad and at the same time refuse to buy.

By the end of this year, Palmer said, business will find most of the governmental controls still in effect with civilian and war production declining. Next year, the nation will have achieved its maximum reconversion to peacetime production without impairing the war in the Pacific.

Asserting "it is unlikely that the war will end for business as a whole in less than four or five years," Palmer said that many of the federal price, material, and wage controls probably will be necessary until the nation achieves economic equilibrium.

WEEDS
What America needs today is the statesmanship that seeks the co-operation of Business and Industry and repudiates the political mountebanks who magnify the faults and minimize the achievements of those who have wrought the industrial marvel of America.
Weeds are no excuse for casting a blight on the garden.

TAKE LAND TITLE FOR SOUTH SIDE HOUSING PROJECT

Government Deposits $70,406 for Owners.

BY AL CHASE.

Title to the 157 acres of land on which the Chicago Housing authority's $7,700,000 war home project is being built at Langley avenue and East 130th street was granted the government yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan. The judgment was entered on a declaration of taking filed by Assistant United States Atty. Clarence W. Beatty Jr., who deposited with the clerk of the United States District court a check for $70,406 as estimated compensation to 75 former owners of the land.

This is at the rate of $448.44 an acre. Olcott's Land Values Bluebook puts an estimated value of $400 per acre on all of the site with the exception of a few acres along 130th street which are appraised at $500 an acre. The entire site is bounded on the north by 130th, by Champlain and Langley avenues on the west, by 133d street on the south, and the Beaubien forest preserve and the Michigan Central railroad right of way on the east. It all is zoned as class A residential.

Pullman Group Objects.

The Pullman Land association, owner of 60 acres taken over by the government, yesterday entered objections to the amount offered it. According to Winston, Strawn & Shaw, attorneys for the association, experts have appraised the land at $1,000 an acre. The government has offered the association $29,000, or $483 an acre.

The association also was given 10 days by the court to file a cross-petition seeking damages for 20 acres it still owns and which it contends is completely cut off from railroad switch track facilities thru the seizure of the 60 acres which fronts on the Michigan Central railroad.

Management Under CHA.

The big housing project which is controled by the national housing authority, which now has title to the site, will be managed by the Chicago housing authority upon completion. CHA is supervising construction. The project will have 1,500 residential units in two-story row house groups. They will be rented only to war workers, both white and Negro.

Initial occupancy is set for next spring, with completion of the entire project scheduled for August. Shaw, Naess & Murphy is architect.

SOCIAL SECURITY FREEZE FIRST ON TAX BILL AGENDA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6 (AP).—A rider freezing the social security pay roll tax rate will be disposed of next week before the senate acts on any other section of the $2,275,600,000 revenue bill, Chairman Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.] of the finance committee announced today.

He explained that some of the leading members of the house ways and means committee had expressed their intention of holding hearings on the provision if it is adopted by the senate.

Sen. George said he thinks consideration of the new tax bill can be started by Wednesday at the latest. He indicated that the controversial war contracts renegotiation amendments probably would go over into the week of Jan. 17.

BICYCLES URGED FOR INSPECTORS IN CITY DISPUTE

The city council committee on finance recommended yesterday that public hearings on the 1944 budget be held starting Jan. 14, and it is expected that the whole council will approve this recommendation at its meeting today.

The budget, in tentative form, estimates that the city's expenses during the new year will amount to $167,682,000. Of this, $65,148,000 goes into the corporate or operating fund. The corporate figure includes salary raises of $2,000,000 for city employes, which are to be financed thru increases in license fees, inspection fees, and permits. The whole budget also includes $21,343,000 for the water fund.

Yesterday's budget hearing also concerned the dispute with 151 city electric inspectors, members of local 9 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, who demanded their $70 a month car allowance be increased to $90. Their demand was refused and, in protest, they locked up their cars and during the last week have been using street cars and buses in their daily work.

Weigh Use of Bicycles.

Mayor Kelly ordered that henceforth the inspectors will get no allowance at all. This retaliation will cost the inspectors $96,000 which had been set aside for their 1944 car allowance. The mayor decided to use some of the money instead for trucks, or cars.

This move was generally approved by the finance committee, which, on motion of Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], committee chairman, recommended that $20,000 be spent for the purchase of cars for the inspectors. Ald. Joseph Kacena [23d], suggested bicycles might be as serviceable, and would be cheaper. Bowler agreed, but said he preferred motorcycles, with side cars. This suggestion he indicated, will be carefully considered.

Lloyd M. Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, said in a letter, that the inspectors' work last week "was not properly performed." Ald. Kacena, Ald. Bowler, and Ald. Frank Keenan [49th] complained that street lights have gone unrepaired in their wards.

Welfare Report Approved.

The finance committee approved the annual report of George J. Klupfar, commissioner of the city welfare administration, showing that the number of families on relief dropped from 34,758 in 1942 to 20,520 in 1943, and probably will go down to 16,610 in 1944. Costs dropped from$19,871,906 in 1942 to $12,336,658 in 1943, and probably will be cut down to $9,500,000 in 1944. The city's yearly share is $6,000,000, the state paying all above that figure.

The committee also approved a resolution from Ald. Roy E. Olin [8th] providing that city employes entering the military services shall be paid for unused vacation periods.

COUNCIL ASKED TO INTERVENE IN YARDS DISPUTE

The city council will be asked at a meeting this morning to memorialize President Robert J. Dunham and the Chicago park board to "cease their efforts to eject" the Back of the Yards Neighborhood council from the Davis Square park and restore Joseph Meegan as park director.

Four aldermen in wards near the park where 500 children were served lunch five days a week until last Monday will back the move for council adoption of the resolution, Bryan Hartnett [12th] said yesterday. The aldermen, besides Hartnett, are Hugh B. Connelly [11th], Clarence P. Wagner [14th], and James F. Kovarik [15th].

A proposed meeting of the aldermen with Dunham was postponed, Hartnett said, until the aldermen could talk with Mayor Kelly.

Saul Alinsky, chairman of a "strategy" committee of the yards council and director of the Industrial Areas council, announced yesterday that the fight has just begun. He declared that the mayor has power to satisfy Back of the Yards demands thru removal of Dunham. The mayor, he said, will be the target if Dunham is not removed.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. O. Furstenberg, 6549 Blackstone avenue.]

THE QUESTION.

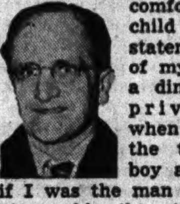
Has a child ever embarrassed you?

WHERE ASKED.

310 South Michigan avenue.

THE ANSWERS.

Rose Nardini, stenographer, 3130 Lyndale avenue—I have a little nephew who can think of the prize questions. I explained a wedding to him, using his father's and mother's marriage as an example. Later, when guests were in the home, he wanted to know if he had been at his daddy's and mother's wedding.

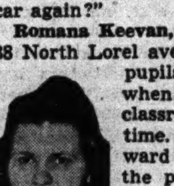


Harry Abram, clerk, 3930 Lexington street—It made me very uncomfortable when a child made a frank statement about one of my habits. I was a dinner guest at a private home, and when we sat down to the table, the little boy asked his father if I was the man who always put his napkin thru the buttonhole.

Evelyn M. Sottmann, jewelry counselor, 1728 East 70th street—I took my little niece to a show, where a girl danced on the stage in a very short grass skirt. My niece stood up, pointed at her, and said: "Aren't you ashamed of yourself? All these people here and you're not all dressed." Everybody laughed, but it embarrassed me.

Mathilda E. Turnock, salesgirl, 831 Sunnyside avenue—My brother had a distinguished business man in his home. When I was serving coffee for them in the evening my nephew embarrassed me by asking: "You're so nice to this man, Aunty; are you going to marry him?"

Howard E. Stolz, rate clerk, 7010 Cregier avenue—I had borrowed a relative's car, but learned later that they didn't like the idea of lending it. When I visited their home the little boy embarrassed his parents and myself by asking: "Do you think you're going to want to borrow our car again?"



Romana Keevan, student teacher, 38 North Lorel avenue—One of my pupils embarrassed me when I entered the classroom for the first time. As I walked toward my desk, one of the pupils told me not to sit there because that was for the teacher. I was embarrassed because they had mistaken me for one of the children.

BEGINS 50TH YEAR AS TICKET AGENT FOR ROCK ISLAND

Half a century is a long time to look after the traveling destinies of the public, but George D. Totten, Rock Island lines city ticket agent, was still smiling when he began his 50th year yesterday as head of the railroad's city ticket office at 167 Jackson boulevard.

Mr. Totten recalls many notables he has served, among them Theodore Roosevelt, who made frequent trips to Colorado to hunt mountain lions and other game.

"The tremendous opportunity afforded ticket sellers for giving service to travelers has grown with the years," Totten said, as he was receiving congratulations from officials of the road. "The tremendous increase in war time transportation, together with the many new conditions that came in with the speedliners, has been a challenge to all of us."

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social service of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

L. H. writes: "I noticed an article which stated that the divorced wife of a service man could receive up to $20 as a family allowance. Is it true that a divorced wife can receive such pay? What if the husband is married again?"

ANSWER: A divorced wife can receive a family allowance only if she has a court order for support. If the man remarried and the court order is still in effect, his present wife will receive the full allowance, but some government contribution, not to exceed $20, is provided for his previous wife.

Mrs. M. L. writes: "My husband is a naval officer. Because he is overseas most of the time, he has not seen our baby. I would like to send him a picture of the child but wonder if the postoffice would accept a package, or if I must have a request from him."

ANSWER: I am sending you a bulletin on the postal regulations for navy men. You may send one parcel per week to men in that service. There are size and weight regulations, but a written request is not necessary, as it is for army men. You may send the picture either by first class mail or parcel post, but since you give your husband's address as in care of the fleet postoffice, which is considered overseas, packages may not be registered or insured.

Mrs. C. P. writes: "I would like information about American soldiers who are held as prisoners of war in German camps. Can these men receive any pay from the United States after they have been captured? The man in question is a private."

ANSWER: A soldier in active service who has been captured by the enemy is entitled to receive or have credited to his account the same pay and allowances he received at the time of his capture.

Mrs. T. R. writes: "I am an expectant mother. My husband is in the marine corps. Can you tell me if I am entitled to free maternity care?"

ANSWER: Wives of men in the four lowest pay grades are entitled to free maternity care. We will mail a bulletin which explains the procedure for obtaining such aid. If your husband is not in one of the four lowest pay grades you are not eligible under this plan, but by contacting the Navy Relief society, you can obtain any necessary assistance.

Mrs. M. T. writes: "I am a class "B" dependent receiving family allowances from two sons in the service. One of the boys recently married and does not think he can obtain an allowance for his wife because of the fact that I am already receiving it. Can you kindly advise us in this matter?"

ANSWER: If your son is not a commissioned officer, it will be mandatory for him to provide an allowance for his wife, and if it can be proved necessary, he also can obtain the allowance for you. He will be expected to contribute $22 toward his wife's allowance, and an additional $5 toward yours.

'ECONOMY DAY' TURNS OUT TO BE EVERYTHING BUT

Economy as a watchword didn't have much success yesterday at a budget meeting of the finance committee of the Cook county board.

Philip Hogan, superintendent of the county's mechanics, reported that he had to raise his requests for help by 24 men, all on the union scale as electricians, carpenters, painters, and plumbers at a cost of about $480,000.

He called attention to the brass on the elevators, which doesn't shine as the city's brass does in the other side of the building. Needed: A brass rubber. He said the elevators were 37 years old. Needed: Much repair work, say $20,000 in 1944. He said the foremen of the mechanical force ought to have car allowances. Needed: $4,200. As for himself, Hogan said, it was up to the board whether his salary should be raised.

Higher Fees Proposed.

Joseph L. Moss, head of the bureau of public welfare, asked that his employes have pay raises. He wanted to raise the fees of county physicians from $1.50 a call to $2—asking $75,000 instead of the $45,000 appropriated in 1943.

Commissioner Mary McEnerney asked dourly if Mr. Moss knew that the doctors charged $1.50 for a telephone consultation and Mr. Moss sidestepped. He urged that Camp Reinberg, closed last year, be opened at a cost of $30,000 so poor folk could go there on vacations.

Commissioner Dan Ryan, presiding in the absence of the finance chairman, Maurice F. Kavanagh, said: "We have to think of the taxpayers; we have got to cut out some frills."

The Cook county nurses home, which furnishes the hospital nurses, was represented by its president, Edwin Austin. He said that it would take all of $2,175,000 to handle the work this year. The appropriation last year was 2 millions, but was overspent by $200,000. Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke quoted some figures. He said there were only 2,100 patients now in the hospital, against 2,595 average for 1943 and 2,800 for 1942.

Dietitians Criticized.

He asked why there shouldn't be a reduction commensurate with this in nursing service costs. Commissioner McEnerney said that dietitians, in her opinion, were "carrying on a little racket." Bobrytzke stood up for good cooking. Commissioner Harry Perry said he was not going to vote for any unbalanced budget and spoke as if he meant it.

Austin said mildly that if the patient load at the hospital stayed down the home might get along on $2,000,000. Ryan closed the meeting before two lady business agents present could get in any plea for more janitresses and more pay. Next meeting: Monday.

The board will have to cut about 2 millions from department requests to balance revenues of $19,700,000.

FOUR ARRESTED AFTER SLAYING TO FACE COURT

Arrested as an aftermath of the slaying by police of William Auburn Thompson, a 28 year old ex-convict from Oregon, two men and two women will be arraigned today in Felony court. A fifth prisoner held for questioning in connection with the activities of robbers, who held up Sunny Ainsworth, seventh wife of Tommy Manville, and numerous others during a short lived crime spree, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Acting Capt. Robert Welling yesterday ordered Robert Greenwood, 18, charged with receiving stolen property. A valuable ring belonging to a victim who had identified Thompson was found in his possession. Richard Thornton, 35, occupant of the apartment at 205 East Ontario street, which police raided, was booked on charges of possession of obscene pictures.

LaVerne Fritz, 18, 4824 North Paulina street, and Judy Oellrich, 19, of 4553 North Claremont avenue, were booked for disorderly conduct. Charlene Johnson, 17, of 4552 North Claremont avenue, was sent to the juvenile home. Thompson was slain Sunday when he and two companions fought a gun battle with a police squad at 4500 Sheridan road. His pals escaped. Victims of robberies committed by the trio could not identify Greenwood or Thornton.

BLAST CRIPPLES 1 OF 12 FURNACES AT GARY PLANT

One of a dozen blast furnaces in the Gary plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation will be out of commission for several days, it was disclosed late yesterday as the result of an explosion at 9:25 a. m., which shook the works, shattered many windows, frightened many, and injured five workers, one critically.

The explosion was caused, it was said, by a steamline break in the No. 3 blowing engine house of the works.

Mark Hanley, 43 years old, 420 Maryland street, Gary, a second engineer, was the man critically hurt. At the hospital he was said to be suffering from internal injuries.

The others injured, all of them less seriously, were George Maier, 59, chief engineer, 100 West 8th avenue, Gary; Roy Daves, 43, oiler, 35th street and California avenue, Gary; Joseph Kelly, 34, oiler, 705 Connecticut street, Gary, and Cecil Capos, 47, carpenter, Valparaiso, Ind.

Window Washer Killed in Fall from 7th Floor

Walter Polski, 60 years old, a window washer who lived at 643 Melrose street, was killed yesterday when he fell from the seventh floor of the Barry apartments at 3100 Sheridan road. Sgt. Joseph Mallow of the Sheffield avenue police said Polski's safety belt apparently broke when he swung his weight against it.

THINK IT'S BEEN A MILD WINTER? WRONG BY 11½ %

Authority Whips Out Statistics as Proof.

It may be hard to believe, but the winter so far has been 11⅓ per cent colder than average, Frank E. Spencer, national chairman of distribution for the Oil Heat Institute of America, disclosed yesterday.

"What's fooled everybody," Spencer said, "is that there has been very little snow or ice and almost no sharp wind."

"December, 1943, was 11 per cent warmer than December, 1942, yet December, 1943 was 6 per cent colder than average. And even tho the whole heating season so far this year has been 1.4 per cent warmer than it was a year ago, the entire season up until Dec. 31 has been 11⅓ per cent colder than average.

November a "Fooler."

"November made the difference. It was much colder than average in November. Then December came along with its milder weather and brought up the averages."

Spencer said the industry foresees little trouble or suffering for the 120,000 families in the Chicago area who burn fuel oil.

"We find," he continued, "that oil burners have learned how to use and to conserve it. They have learned to operate their heating plants under rationing, about which they knew little last year during their first experience.

Larger Deliveries Allowed.

"Washington has changed the rationing system so it is much simpler than last year. It allows us to make larger deliveries; the eyedropper deliveries of last season are out.

"If we get a prolonged session of snow, slush, and ice during the rest of the winter, it will not be so good for deliveries. But that will be the industry's problem and not the users'. We expect to keep everybody warm."

TEACHER GROUPS TO PRESS BOARD FOR PAY RAISES

The Chicago Teachers' union, the Chicago Teachers' federation, and the Association of Chicago Teachers will ask raises for elementary school teachers at a public hearing on the 1944 board of education budget at 10 o'clock this morning in the board chamber. Salary increases also will be asked by school engineers, firemen, janitors, lunchroom cooks, and attendants.

Ira S. Turley, president of the Teachers' union, which he said represents 65 per cent of the city's teachers, said he will reiterate the union's demand for a single salary schedule to give elementary teachers pay equal to that of high school teachers for the same amount of work per day. It was estimated this would cost about $2,000,000 a year.

Miss Stella M. McElwain, president of the Association of Chicago Teachers, said her organization will press for extension of the elementary schedule of raises to 10 instead of nine years, which would mean $250 per year for many teachers, and a war bonus for those who would not get this raise.

RICH DIVORCEE SUED FOR $100,000 IN 1942 ESCAPADE

Mrs. Ruth Staley Hunt, wealthy divorcee, who is recovering from an attempt to end her life by turning on the gas jets in her home at 720 North Wabash avenue, was sued for $100,000 damages yesterday as the result of a shooting escapade in 1942 when she attempted to drive past a sentry at Fort Sheridan.

The suit was filed in federal court by Pvt. Armand Marshick, 23 years old, of Dearborn, Mich., assigned to Fort Sheridan. Pvt. Marshick, a bystander, was shot and wounded when the sentry fired one shot after Mrs. Hunt disregarded his order to stop. Pvt. Marshick alleged he suffered permanent injuries from the bullet wound.

Mrs. Hunt, at that time, was charged with driving while intoxicated and served a 15 day jail term. Mrs. Hunt was found by neighbors Tuesday night in her gas filled flat. She said she was despondent because her son was in the army.
